Russia Accepts 'Open Sky' Idea

Soviet Plan Has Qualifications

LONDON, March 28 (AP) — The Russians for the first time have embraced the basic idea of President Eisenhower's open sky arms inspection system, an American source said tonight.

But the Soviet proposal was described as qualified and incomplete.

The plan was brought today before the five-nation disarmament conference meeting under United Nations auspices and discussed for more than two hours.

Despite the qualifications, diplomatic sources said they thought Russia had advanced closer to the Western position of inspection than ever before.

They said the plan had a genuine ring and represented something more than propaganda.

Details Not Revealed

Details of the Russian plan were not announced. The American informant said, however, that it switched the emphasis from nuclear to conventional weapons.

Russia previously has insisted on outlawing atomic weapons as a first step towrd disarmament. The new plan is reported to propose cuts in conventional weapons.

The Eisenhower proposal would give the major powers the right to conduct aerial inspections over each other's territory. Each large nation thus could satisfy itself that no rival was breaking disarmament promises or massing for a sneak attack.

During the afternoon session the American, British, French and Canadian delegations sought a more detailed definition of the Soviet plan.

Gromyko Ducks Queries

A British source said Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko ducked most of the questions. He also did not say why the Russians had dropped their earlier emphasis on nuclear control.

It was understood the Russian plan contains only general references to atomic and hydrogen bomb disarmament.

It advances the theory that if conventional arms can be limited under a safe inspection system, the outlines of that agreement can be extended later to cover nuclear disarmament.

A British source said the Russian plan goes back to the old ceiling proposal to limit the armed forces of the United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China to 1,500,000 men each and Britain and France to 650,000 each.

Red Tax Raids Called Standard IRS Procedure

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today the sudden and sweeping federal tax raids against Communist party offices and the newspaper Daily Worker were in line with standard operating procedure.

While the Daily Worker's attorney talked in New York of going to court and its editor denied any tax debt, Revenue Commissioner Russell C. Harrington said in a statement for reporters:

"I can assure you that this case is being handled precisely as any other similar taxpayer matter would be handled by the service under its obligation to enforce the revenue laws."

Harrington had just gone over the case with Donald R. Moysey, the New York regional tax chief who apparently engineered the Tuesday raids without advance notice to Washington.

Reds Offer Bailout Plan

Several informed officials said that Moysey acted alone, using his authority as director of the service's Manhattan district. He became director of the district Feb. 7, after serving as acting director since last August.

in New York, a Communist party spokesman came up with a suggestion for bailing out the seized party assets. He said Treasury officials had agreed to consider it at a conference tomorrow.

The plan calls for a joint estimate as to the value of assets—both those of the party headquarters and the Daily Worker. Then the party would post that amount in cash until the courts determine its tax liability. Meanwhile, with such a cash bond, the government would return the seized assets to the party. The same pattern would be followed in other cities.

Party Owes $389,265

"It is very promising," the party spokesman said.

Moysey figured that the party owed $389,265 in income taxes for 1951 and the Daily Worker owed $46,049 for 1951 through 1953.

With the cooperation of other regional tax directors, he had padlocks put on party offices in Philadelphia, San Francisco and Los Angeles, as well as in New York, where similar action was taken against the Daily Worker.

Town Fined For Cyprus Ambush

NICOSIA, Cyprus, March 28 (AP)—Sixteen murder suspects were arrested today and authorities imposed a fine on Phrenaros village for the ambush slaying of two British military policemen last night.

The 1,500-pound ($4,200) fine will be collected from the 240 male wage earners in the community of 1,200.

Authorities slapped on the penalty because they said the villagers refused to be informers.

The two MPs were shot down from a bar as they passed in their jeep. Today smoke still curled from the ruins of the bar. It was set afire moments after other soldiers arrived.

In Nicosia a priest from Phrenaros, Phodios Kalogirou, was detained for questioning after police searched his quarters. Kalogirou was a colleague of Papastavros Papagathangelou, who was deported with Archbishop Makarios, leader of the movement for union with Greece.

Aided by bloodhounds, teams searched every house in Phrenaros. Authorities reported they found six shotguns, two bombs, three hand grenades, a high explosive shell and shotgun shells.

Eisenhower, Dulles Confer Two Hours

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred for two hours late today on what the Cabinet officer termed "an accumulation of business."

Dulles declined to shed any light on the nature of the conference, which had been pictured in advance by an Eisenhower aide as "a very important meeting."

Asked whether this afternoon's White House session had any aspect of urgency, Dulles replied that it did not.

Midwest Lashed By Sleet, Snow And Chill Winds

[By The Associated Press]

A fierce spring storm lashed the nation's middle Wednesday. It smothered crops in the Great Plains with dust and cast sleet, freezing rain, snow and ice on the northern Midwest.

Chill, 30-to-60 m.p.h. winds raged from Kansas northward into the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and the Great Lakes.

Sections of the Midwest were virtually paralyzed. Near-blizzard winds felled utility lines and ice-cloaked trees. Ice, slush and deep snow closed many highways.

At least 10 Wisconsin communities were cut off by bad weather. Other towns were isolated in Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Crops Suffer Damage

There was untold damage to crops in six states of the Great Plains, from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Waco, Tex. Winds diminished in the region and dust settled on greening wheat fields as the storm center moved on toward the Canadian border.

The big cold front, born Tuesday in the Southern Plains, late Wednesday was moving northward through Minnesota.

Though it brought strong, turbulent winds, the storm center itself was moving slowly. The Weather Bureau said it might be Thursday night before it crosses the border into Canada and that even then the effects around its perimeter will still be hammering the Great Lakes.

Some Schools Closed

The colder air also pressed eastward through the Ohio Valley and the western Gulf states, bringing showers and scattered thunderstorms.

Rural schools were closed in southern Michigan when buses couldn't start out on the icy roads. Telephones and power were cut off in several communities. Roads were blocked by trees knocked down by 45 m.p.h. winds. Cars left out overnight had to be chipped free of ⅜ inch thick ice. It was due to get colder with snow Wednesday night.

Pittsburgh Stamp Urged

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—A stamp to commemorate the 200th birthday of Pittsburgh, Pa., was proposed today by Sen. Martin (R-Pa). The event occurs Nov. 27, 1958. Martin said the Post Office Department should be given time to prepare a suitable design.

Adlai Charges Sen. Kefauver Divides Party

Stevenson Labels Opponent's "Boss" Accusation False

LOS ANGELES, March 28 (AP) — Adlai Stevenson tonight accused Sen. Estes Kefauver of trying to "injure me and win support" in California by the same "false and divisive boss nonsense," he raised in Minnesota.

Stevenson, sparked into renewed action by his defeat by Kefauver in the Minnesota primary last week, opened his head-on battle with the Tennessee senator for California's 68 Democratic presidential delegate votes in a prepared, televised address.

He declared that by "discrediting the leaders of the Democratic party" in California, Kefauver and his spokesmen "can only weaken and divide the party and thereby help the Republicans."

Adlai Has No "Alibis"

Stevenson took pot shots at the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign and domestic problems. But he aimed his heaviest salvos at Kefauver, who just concluded a whirlwind five-day campaitn of Southern California.

The former Illinois governor said "I have no alibis" for his Minnesota defeat, but he added something "happened in Minnesota that I must speak about because it also happened here in California."

That something, he said, was the charge by Kefauver and his supporters that Stevenson was backed in Minnesota by "political bosses" and a "machine" that was trying to freeze Kefauver out.

Support Volunteered

He said he was honored to have the "unsolicited support and confidence" of Sen. Humphrey, Gov. Orville Freeman and other party leaders in Minnesota. He added his slate of delegates in California includes many party leaders who "came to me voluntarily and without any strings attached."

"Here in California, as in New Hampshire and Minnesota, the endorsement of the leaders of our party evidently becomes reprehensible only when the senator doesn't get it.

"For four years I've done my level best to unite the Democratic party, not tear it apart. And I propose to keep on thinking that the party's welfare is just as important as my own candidacy."

Swedes To Visit Stalin's Georgia

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP)—The Soviet government announced today it would lift its ban on foreigners traveling in Georgia and Armenia next week to permit a tour of those southern Soviet republics by Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander.

The Communist party's campaign denouncing Joseph Stalin and "the cult of the individual"—Stalin's one-man rule—is reported to have provoked disorders in Georgia, the late dictator's home republic.

Erlander's party will be the first foreigners allowed to visit Georgia since students at the university in its capital, Tiflis, were reported to have demonstrated against official party criticism of Stalin. (The date of these demonstrations has been variously reported as March 7, 8 or 9.)

No foreign newsmen has been given a permit to go to Georgia since then. Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon last week was denied a clearance to travel to Sukhumi, the Georgian resort on the Black Sea.

Israel, Syria Will Exchange Prisoners

JERUSALEM, Israel Section, March 28 (AP)—Israeli sources tonight confirmed Syrian reports that an exchange of prisoners will take place on the Israeli-Syrian border tomorrow.

Israel is returning to Syria about 40 men and one officer. Most have been in Israel'shands since the Sea of Galilee incident last December.

Syria is reported returning to Israel four soldiers who have been in Syrian hands since December, 1954, and one civilian.

Haymes' Car Attached

SANTA MONICA, March 28 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes was without the use of his $5,000 convertible sports car today.

The car was attached yesterday in connection with a suit claiming Haymes owed $516.94 to a Malibu market.

Explosion Wrecks Grain Elevator

Philadelphia firemen pour water on debris of a four-story grain elevator that was wrecked when a terrific explosion blasted the building last night. Adjoining buildings were damaged or threatened by a raging fire that followed. Police report at least four persons killed. (AP Photofax)

City Rocked By Explosion In Granary

Nearby Buildings Damaged, Scores Of Persons Injured

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—A bomblike explosion tonight demolished a big grain warehouse in the busy 30th and Market St. area of Philadelphia, spread wide damage elsewhere and took the lives of at least four persons.

Police, who reported the dead at four so far, said also that an undetermined number of persons were injured, including 14 night class students at the Drexel Insitute of Technology. The institute is one of several major educational, governmental and business institutions within five blocks of the scene of the blast.

The explosion, attributed by some Fire Department officials to heavy accumulation of dust in a grain elevator, started fires which roared through the shell of the granary and threatened to spread to neighboring buildings.

Entire City Jolted

Within an hour after the mid-evening blast, which jolted not only the great sprawling city itself, but suburban sections as well, the situation became something of a citywide emergency.

Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons, who said his department had received scores of distress calls from all parts of the city, sent more than 500 policemen to the scene.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth went to the scene from a meeting with city commissioners.

The Red Cross put several units in the field and a fleet of ambulances was dispatched from Camden, N.J., across the Delaware River.

West River Drive, one of the main arteries of motor travel from outlying sections into the heart of the city, was closed entirely to traffic.

Some of the heaviest damage was suffered by the Philadelphia Bulletin in its new building, which was occupied only last Memorial Day.

Four Feared Trapped

The explosion cast tons of debris onto the large landscaped, brittin, left the lighting system there a tangled wreckage, blasted down the ceiling of the main reception lobby and parts of the ceiling elsewhere in the building.

Police told an Associated Press reporter it was feared at least four persons were trapped in an adjoining building and that, because of the flames, it would not be possible to batter a way in for some time.

Passersby told policemen and firemen that they heard cries from the upper floors of the building as flames billowed from the windows.

Four hospitals within a mile radius reported that up to 10 p.m., at least 115 persons had been treated for injuries, none of them serious.

Ike 'Well Satisfied' With Parley Results

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the capital today "well satisfied" that his talks with Canadian and Mexican leaders served to build good will and generate fresh determination to check the spread of communism.

The President's special train pulled into the Union Station at 3:15 p.m. after a five-and-three-quarter-hour run from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he held a round of informal conferences with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada and President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico.

The discussions started Monday and concluded with an exchange of warm farewells this morning in front of the fashionable Greenbrier Hotel, which was the headquarters of the three leaders.

"The President was well satisfied with the conference and he particularly enjoyed the atmosphere of cordial informality which prevailed throughout," an Eisenhower aide said.

En route back to Washington, the President maintained the informal air of the three-power talks in making his first "whistle stop" appearance of this election year. It was a completely impromptu thing and there was no indication he intends to abandon his announced decision to do no political barnstorming in his bid for a second term.

The train stopped for servicing at Clifton Forge, Va., about an hour out of White Sulphur Springs. A crowd of about 50 persons gathered around his private car as it came to a halt and Eisenhower went to the door to greet them and engage in a bit of chitchat.

Anderson Says Conferees' Farm Bill "Horrible"

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a former secretary of agriculture, said tonight the compromise being worked out on the farm bill "is horrible, and I believe it will be knocked out in the Senate."

Anderson supported the Eisenhower administration in its fight to retain a flexible price support system for major crops but voted with the Democrats on some other key issues during Senate consideration of the bill.

He opposes provisions to support crops at 90 per cent of parity and allow the use of a "dual parity" system to compute support levels, both of which have been approved by a Senate-House Conference Committee. Anderson headed the Agriculture Department under former President Truman.

After the Conference Committee gets through with the bill, it will have to be approved by the House and Senate before it can go to President Eisenhower.

A provision which opponents claimed would force cotton prices down $5 to $10 a bale was removed from the omnibus bill by the conference group today.

The cotton section knocked out of the bill today was a Senate amendment aimed at improving the competitive position of American cotton in world markets.

It would have abandoned the present system of basing cotton prices and government price supports on the 7-8 inch middling cotton and use the average or longer staple on the crop as a base. Supporters of the change conceded it would mean lower domestic prices but opponents said the difference might be even more than $10 a bale.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), leader of the Senate conferees, said an average staple base was advocated by the Cotton Council and most spokesmen for all segments of the industry.

Dental Research Bill

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee has approved a bill to authorize spending five million dollars on a building here to house research on dental diseases.

Motorist's Excuse Accepted By Judge

EAST PATERSON, N.J., March 28 (AP)—A motorist today blamed a traffic violation on a fatherly attempt to save his son's appetite.

"It sounds like a dizzy story, but it's the truth," Edmund Neal told Magistrate Joseph de Luccia in answering a charge of cutting through a candy store parking lot to avoid a red traffic light.

He said he was trying to catch the lad who was heading for the candy store to buy ice cream, but the boy had gone to another store. So he cut through the parking lot.

It was before eating time, he explained, and "I felt the ice cream would spoil my son's appetite."

The case was dismissed.

Kefauver Entered In Nebraska Race

LINCOLN, Neb., March 28 (AP) — Petitions entering Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in Nebraska's Democratic presidential preference primary were filed today with the secretary of state.

He is the only Democratic candidate entered so far. The filing deadline is April 5.

Kefauver's acceptance of the candidacy, required under Nebraska law, accompanied the filing.

Four years ago Kefauver defeated Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla) and others in a hard-fought preference primary.

Appropriations Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Congress passed its first money bill of the session today, appropriating $3,629,139,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill now goes to President Eisenhower for his signature. It is a compromise of separate measures passed previously by the House and Senate.

Voice votes approved the compromise figures in the House and Senate in quick succession today.

New Civil Rights Plan Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration, switching signals without explanation, canceled two meetings today at which presentation of its new civil rights proposals had been promised.

Justice Department officials reportedly were making changes in the language of the program, which Congress originally had expected to receive about March 1.

The new delay apparently means legislators won't receive the proposals until they return April 9 from their Easter recess, which begins tomorrow.

The meetings which Justice Department officials canceled had been set up to present explanations of the program to newsmen and to a group of House members.

Rep. Scott (R-Pa), co-chairman of an informal six-member House committee which has pressed for early action in the civil rights field, said the group was given no explanation of the postponement. He had said originally the program would be outlined for the committee about March 1.

East Germany's Premier Turns Fire On 'Red Hilde'

BERLIN, March 28 (AP) — Premier Otto Grotewohl of East Germany, today turned the heat of criticism upon the Communist Justice Ministry headed by "Red Hilde" Benjamin and accused it of making illegal and "unjustified arrests" of citizens.

Grotewohl's four-hour speech to the East German Communist party Congress in East Berlin was remindful of the downfall of Lavrenti Beria, the Kremlin's police czar who was executed on charges of treason long before the start of the current campaign to reduce Stalin from hero to villain.

Beria, too, was accused of high-handed police action against Soviet citizens. Many of the "mistakes" which the Moscow's new "collective leadership" now admits, were laid at his door.

The East German Congress also has approved the anti-Stalin campaign and the "collective leadership" principle handed down from Moscow.

Grotewohl ordered the ministry directed by the much-feared Mrs. Benjamin, to enforce closer control over the courts "to safeguard the rights of citizens" and to rectify "complaints" received from the people by the Communist regime.

He said there were "violations of law" in the handling of public complaints and ordered the attorney general to submit to the Cabinet a plan "for controlling activity of the prosecutors which would insure strict observance of the law."

The 62-year - old Premier did not mention Justice Minister Benjamin by name nor give any specific hint that she might be purged.

National Demonstration For Bus Boycotters Spotty

[By The Associated Press]

Negroes and white sympathizers in scattered cities paused for quiet prayer Wednesday on behalf of Montgomery, Ala., bus boycotters.

The national demonstration apparently was spotty in nature. There was no estimate of the total number taking part.

In Boston, Episcopal Bishop Norman B. Nash told 800 worshipers—about a third of them Negroes—that discrimination exists "right here in Boston."

"The guilty are not 'only 'they' but also 'we,'" he said. "Right here in Boston, in matters of housing, education, employment and church membership, and in many other ways, there is a responsibility for each of us to acknowledge.

"Ignorance cannot be pleaded. There is no excuse for that ignorance. The facts are undeniable. The facts begin at home, and not in Alabama or South Africa."

The "National Deliverance Day of Prayer" originally was conceived as a brief nationwide work stoppage accompanied by prayer. However, the work stoppage idea was discarded.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), New York Negro clergyman, was the leader of the passive demonstration. He said its backers represented 10 million Negro churchmen.

Some of the demonstrations were scheduled for Wednesday night, including those in New York and New Haven.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish relgious leaders backed the Massachusetts demonstration.

The Massachusetts Legislature suspended activity for an hour at noon in an official "expression of sympathy."

Demos Assail Power Policies

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Democratic majority on a House investigating subcommittee today accused Eisenhower administration officials of "a determined effort to sabotage and wreck the federal power program."

Republicans on the Power and Resources subcommittee shot back that the Democratic-approved committee report was packed with "unfairness and prejudice."

The bristling majority and minority findings followed hearings last year on Interior Department regulation changes affecting transmission of federal electric power.

Chief targets of the Democrats were Secretary of the Interior McKay, Undersecretary Clarence A. Davis and Asst. Secretary Fred G. Aandahl. They suggested these officials should resign.

The Democratic report said the hearings showed McKay, Davis and Aandahl, a former GOP governor of North Dakota have "little concern" for "fair dealing . . . in their rush to cripple and thwart a sound federal power program as established by Congress."

"These officials have repeatedly attacked as socialistic the program established by Congress to preserve for the people the benefits of their own God-given natural resources," the Democrats said.

That something, he said, was the charge by Kefauver and his supporters that Stevenson was backed in Minnesota by "political bosses" and a "machine" that was trying to freeze Kefauver out.

Support Volunteered

He said he was honored to have the "unsolicited support and confidence" of Sen. Humphrey, Gov. Orville Freeman and other party leaders in Minnesota. He added his slate of delegates in California includes many party leaders who "came to me voluntarily and without any strings attached."

"Here in California, as in New Hampshire and Minnesota, the endorsement of the leaders of our party evidently becomes reprehensible only when the senator doesn't get it.

"For four years I've done my level best to unite the Democratic party, not tear it apart. And I propose to keep on thinking that the party's welfare is just as important as my own candidacy."

Swedes To Visit Stalin's Georgia

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP)—The Soviet government announced today it would lift its ban on foreigners traveling in Georgia and Armenia next week to permit a tour of those southern Soviet republics by Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander.

The Communist party's campaign denouncing Joseph Stalin and "the cult of the individual"—Stalin's one-man rule—is reported to have provoked disorders in Georgia, the late dictator's home republic.

Erlander's party will be the first foreigners allowed to visit Georgia since students at the university in its capital, Tiflis, were reported to have demonstrated against official party criticism of Stalin. (The date of these demonstrations has been variously reported as March 7, 8 or 9.)

No foreign newsmen has been given a permit to go to Georgia since then. Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon last week was denied a clearance to travel to Sukhumi, the Georgian resort on the Black Sea.

Israel, Syria Will Exchange Prisoners

JERUSALEM, Israel Section, March 28 (AP)—Israeli sources tonight confirmed Syrian reports that an exchange of prisoners will take place on the Israeli-Syrian border tomorrow.

Israel is returning to Syria about 40 men and one officer. Most have been in Israel'shands since the Sea of Galilee incident last December.

Syria is reported returning to Israel four soldiers who have been in Syrian hands since December, 1954, and one civilian.

Haymes' Car Attached

SANTA MONICA, March 28 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes was without the use of his $5,000 convertible sports car today.

The car was attached yesterday in connection with a suit claiming Haymes owed $516.94 to a Malibu market.

Explosion Wrecks Grain Elevator

Philadelphia firemen pour water on debris of a four-story grain elevator that was wrecked when a terrific explosion blasted the building last night. Adjoining buildings were damaged or threatened by a raging fire that followed. Police report at least four persons killed. (AP Photofax)

Ike 'Well Satisfied' With Parley Results

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the capital today "well satisfied" that his talks with Canadian and Mexican leaders served to build good will and generate fresh determination to check the spread of communism.

The President's special train pulled into the Union Station at 3:15 p.m. after a five-and-three-quarter-hour run from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he held a round of informal conferences with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada and President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico.

The discussions started Monday and concluded with an exchange of warm farewells this morning in front of the fashionable Greenbrier Hotel, which was the headquarters of the three leaders.

"The President was well satisfied with the conference and he particularly enjoyed the atmosphere of cordial informality which prevailed throughout," an Eisenhower aide said.

En route back to Washington, the President maintained the informal air of the three-power talks in making his first "whistle stop" appearance of this election year. It was a completely impromptu thing and there was no indication he intends to abandon his announced decision to do no political barnstorming in his bid for a second term.

The train stopped for servicing at Clifton Forge, Va., about an hour out of White Sulphur Springs. A crowd of about 50 persons gathered around his private car as it came to a halt and Eisenhower went to the door to greet them and engage in a bit of chitchat.

Motorist's Excuse Accepted By Judge

EAST PATERSON, N.J., March 28 (AP)—A motorist today blamed a traffic violation on a fatherly attempt to save his son's appetite.

"It sounds like a dizzy story, but it's the truth," Edmund Neal told Magistrate Joseph de Luccia in answering a charge of cutting through a candy store parking lot to avoid a red traffic light.

He said he was trying to catch the lad who was heading for the candy store to buy ice cream, but the boy had gone to another store. So he cut through the parking lot.

It was before eating time, he explained, and "I felt the ice cream would spoil my son's appetite."

The case was dismissed.

Kefauver Entered In Nebraska Race

LINCOLN, Neb., March 28 (AP) — Petitions entering Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in Nebraska's Democratic presidential preference primary were filed today with the secretary of state.

He is the only Democratic candidate entered so far. The filing deadline is April 5.

Kefauver's acceptance of the candidacy, required under Nebraska law, accompanied the filing.

Four years ago Kefauver defeated Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla) and others in a hard-fought preference primary.

Appropriations Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Congress passed its first money bill of the session today, appropriating $3,629,139,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill now goes to President Eisenhower for his signature. It is a compromise of separate measures passed previously by the House and Senate.

Voice votes approved the compromise figures in the House and Senate in quick succession today.

New Civil Rights Plan Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration, switching signals without explanation, canceled two meetings today at which presentation of its new civil rights proposals had been promised.

Justice Department officials reportedly were making changes in the language of the program, which Congress originally had expected to receive about March 1.

The new delay apparently means legislators won't receive the proposals until they return April 9 from their Easter recess, which begins tomorrow.

The meetings which Justice Department officials canceled had been set up to present explanations of the program to newsmen and to a group of House members.

Rep. Scott (R-Pa), co-chairman of an informal six-member House committee which has pressed for early action in the civil rights field, said the group was given no explanation of the postponement. He had said originally the program would be outlined for the committee about March 1.

Anderson Says Conferees' Farm Bill "Horrible"

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM), a former secretary of agriculture, said tonight the compromise being worked out on the farm bill "is horrible, and I believe it will be knocked out in the Senate."

Anderson supported the Eisenhower administration in its fight to retain a flexible price support system for major crops but voted with the Democrats on some other key issues during Senate consideration of the bill.

He opposes provisions to support crops at 90 per cent of parity and allow the use of a "dual parity" system to compute support levels, both of which have been approved by a Senate-House Conference Committee. Anderson headed the Agriculture Department under former President Truman.

After the Conference Committee gets through with the bill, it will have to be approved by the House and Senate before it can go to President Eisenhower.

A provision which opponents claimed would force cotton prices down $5 to $10 a bale was removed from the omnibus bill by the conference group today.

The cotton section knocked out of the bill today was a Senate amendment aimed at improving the competitive position of American cotton in world markets.

It would have abandoned the present system of basing cotton prices and government price supports on the 7-8 inch middling cotton and use the average or longer staple on the crop as a base. Supporters of the change conceded it would mean lower domestic prices but opponents said the difference might be even more than $10 a bale.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), leader of the Senate conferees, said an average staple base was advocated by the Cotton Council and most spokesmen for all segments of the industry.

Dental Research Bill

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee has approved a bill to authorize spending five million dollars on a building here to house research on dental diseases.

City Rocked By Explosion In Granary

Nearby Buildings Damaged, Scores Of Persons Injured

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—A bomblike explosion tonight demolished a big grain warehouse in the busy 30th and Market St. area of Philadelphia, spread wide damage elsewhere and took the lives of at least four persons.

Police, who reported the dead at four so far, said also that an undetermined number of persons were injured, including 14 night class students at the Drexel Insitute of Technology. The institute is one of several major educational, governmental and business institutions within five blocks of the scene of the blast.

The explosion, attributed by some Fire Department officials to heavy accumulation of dust in a grain elevator, started fires which roared through the shell of the granary and threatened to spread to neighboring buildings.

Entire City Jolted

Within an hour after the mid-evening blast, which jolted not only the great sprawling city itself, but suburban sections as well, the situation became something of a citywide emergency.

Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons, who said his department had received scores of distress calls from all parts of the city, sent more than 500 policemen to the scene.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth went to the scene from a meeting with city commissioners.

The Red Cross put several units in the field and a fleet of ambulances was dispatched from Camden, N.J., across the Delaware River.

West River Drive, one of the main arteries of motor travel from outlying sections into the heart of the city, was closed entirely to traffic.

Four Feared Trapped

The explosion cast tons of debris onto the large landscaped, brittin, left the lighting system there a tangled wreckage, blasted down the ceiling of the main reception lobby and parts of the ceiling elsewhere in the building.

Police told an Associated Press reporter it was feared at least four persons were trapped in an adjoining building and that, because of the flames, it would not be possible to batter a way in for some time.

Passersby told policemen and firemen that they heard cries from the upper floors of the building as flames billowed from the windows.

Four hospitals within a mile radius reported that up to 10 p.m., at least 115 persons had been treated for injuries, none of them serious.

Demos Assail Power Policies

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Democratic majority on a House investigating subcommittee today accused Eisenhower administration officials of "a determined effort to sabotage and wreck the federal power program."

Republicans on the Power and Resources subcommittee shot back that the Democratic-approved committee report was packed with "unfairness and prejudice."

The bristling majority and minority findings followed hearings last year on Interior Department regulation changes affecting transmission of federal electric power.

Chief targets of the Democrats were Secretary of the Interior McKay, Undersecretary Clarence A. Davis and Asst. Secretary Fred G. Aandahl. They suggested these officials should resign.

The Democratic report said the hearings showed McKay, Davis and Aandahl, a former GOP governor of North Dakota have "little concern" for "fair dealing . . . in their rush to cripple and thwart a sound federal power program as established by Congress."

"These officials have repeatedly attacked as socialistic the program established by Congress to preserve for the people the benefits of their own God-given natural resources," the Democrats said.

East Germany's Premier Turns Fire On 'Red Hilde'

BERLIN, March 28 (AP) — Premier Otto Grotewohl of East Germany, today turned the heat of criticism upon the Communist Justice Ministry headed by "Red Hilde" Benjamin and accused it of making illegal and "unjustified arrests" of citizens.

Grotewohl's four-hour speech to the East German Communist party Congress in East Berlin was remindful of the downfall of Lavrenti Beria, the Kremlin's police czar who was executed on charges of treason long before the start of the current campaign to reduce Stalin from hero to villain.

Beria, too, was accused of high-handed police action against Soviet citizens. Many of the "mistakes" which the Moscow's new "collective leadership" now admits, were laid at his door.

The East German Congress also has approved the anti-Stalin campaign and the "collective leadership" principle handed down from Moscow.

Grotewohl ordered the ministry directed by the much-feared Mrs. Benjamin, to enforce closer control over the courts "to safeguard the rights of citizens" and to rectify "complaints" received from the people by the Communist regime.

He said there were "violations of law" in the handling of public complaints and ordered the attorney general to submit to the Cabinet a plan "for controlling activity of the prosecutors which would insure strict observance of the law."

The 62-year-old Premier did not mention Justice Minister Benjamin by name nor give any specific hint that she might be purged.

National Demonstration For Bus Boycotters Spotty

[By The Associated Press]

Negroes and white sympathizers in scattered cities paused for quiet prayer Wednesday on behalf of Montgomery, Ala., bus boycotters.

The national demonstration apparently was spotty in nature. There was no estimate of the total number taking part.

In Boston, Episcopal Bishop Norman B. Nash told 800 worshipers—about a third of them Negroes—that discrimination exists "right here in Boston."

"The guilty are not 'only 'they' but also 'we,'" he said. "Right here in Boston, in matters of housing, education, employment and church membership, and in many other ways, there is a responsibility for each of us to acknowledge.

"Ignorance cannot be pleaded. There is no excuse for that ignorance. The facts are undeniable. The facts begin at home, and not in Alabama or South Africa."

The "National Deliverance Day of Prayer" originally was conceived as a brief nationwide work stoppage accompanied by prayer. However, the work stoppage idea was discarded.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), New York Negro clergyman, was the leader of the passive demonstration. He said its backers represented 10 million Negro churchmen.

Some of the demonstrations were scheduled for Wednesday night, including those in New York and New Haven.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish relgious leaders backed the Massachusetts demonstration.

Reply To Shivers

Texas "Factionists" Rapped By Johnson

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said today he has no desire to lead the Texas delegation at the Democratic National Convention if it represents "any one faction."

He thus stepped into at least the edges of the quarrel between Texas factions led by House Speaker Rayburn and Gov. Allan Shivers, who have been feuding over Shivers' support of Republican Dwight Eisenhower in 1952.

Rayburn has proposed that Johnson head the state convention delegation and be Texas' favorite son candidate was well.

Last night, in a speech at Houston, Shivers termed the Rayburn proposal "a cynical and calculated effort to divide the conservative Democrats of Texas."

He said the Rayburn element was trying "to take over the state convention, the Texas delegation—and Lyndon Johnson."

Shivers also linked Rayburn to Democrats who, he said, are led by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, the labor Union's Political Action Committee and the Texas Democratic Advisory Council.

In comment, Johnson told a news conference today:

"No one knows better than Allan Shivers that I am not and never have been the creature of the ADA—Americans for Democratic Action—the DAC, the PAC and the NAACP, the CIO or any other group the governor may have named.

"Nor have I ever been the errand boy of reactionary big business or the Republican party."

Johnson said he would "be glad to go to the national Democratic convention if I could speak the voice of a united Texas and represent the great majority who are tired and weary of the loud voices on the fringes of our political life.

"But I have no desire to go as the head of a delegation representing any one faction."

Rayburn declined any immediate comment on the Shivers speech.

East Germany Called Red Bloc 'Achilles Heel'

LOS ANGELES, March 28 — The Russian zone of Germany is "the Achilles heel of the Soviet satellite system," Ambassador James B. Conant said today.

"We in the free world should take advantage of this fact," the U.S. ambassador to Germany told the Los Angeles World Affairs Council. "We should use every occasion to expose the fact that the Russians are exploiting this portion of the German population, and exploting is the proper word."

He said living standards in the Soviet zone are low and the economy is arranged for the benefit of the Soviet system and not for the Germans who do the workd.

"The uranium mines are being depleted," said Conant. "The youth are being forcibly recruited for an army which will reinforce the other satellite contingents. Brutal sentences are still meted out; the tales of the refugees are tales of a terrorized population.

"How can this day-by-day behavior of the Soviets' agents in East Germany be squared with the present Soviet words about peace and friendly relations with the West? The simple answer is: It cannot.

"This fact, to my mind, should be continually emphasized in every discussion of international problems. The conscience of the free world must be quickened to the injustice of a divided Germany."

Intercom Saves Sheep From Fire

FALMOUTH, Maine, March 28 (AP)—Sheep bleats heard over a barn-to-house intercommunication system sounded a fire alarm here which saved nearly all of a flock of 94.

The intercom was installed primarily to notify farmer Ernest W. Hawkes and his wife when ewes were lambing during the night. "Ordinarily, we only hear the mother talking to her new-born," said Mrs. Hawkes after yesterday's fire. "This time, it sounded like the whole flock was aroused about something."

The couple found two pens ablaze, apparently from a dislodged infrared lamp intended to warm lambs. One ewe perished and one was seriously burned. The couple put out the fire.

Maragon Working For $1.61 Per Hour

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — "Tired of living off handouts and on my wife's money," John Maragon, headline figure in the congressional "five percenter" probe of five years ago, is working for Congress and "earning my pay."

He is on the temporary payroll as a laborer in the House folding room at a wage of $1.61 per hour for time actually worked.

"And it's not easy work," the 64-year-old Maragon told newsmen. "But it's work, it's a job; I'm proud of it."

It's the first "regular job" Maragon has had since his release from the federal reformatory at Petersburg, Va., in December 1952, after serving about 19 months of a two-year sentence for perjury growing out of the "five per center" investigations.

NAACP Battles Louisiana Move

BATON ROUGE, La., March 28 (AP)—The NAACP, in a surprise countermove, today sought to remove to federal court a state suit seeking to dissolve the prointegration organization in Louisiana.

The NAACP petition claimed the state action would "frustrate" efforts of the NAACP to "secure their civil rights."

Atty. Gen. Fred S. Leblanc attacked the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People under a 1924 law, aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, requiring organizations to file yearly membership lists with the secretary of state.

A hearing is set tomorrow in Louisiana District Court on the state charge the NAACP operated in Louisiana the past three years without filing membership lists.

Dist. Judge Coleman Lindsey had directed the NAACP to reply to the state petition by today.

However, just before the deadline, NAACP attorneys, headed by A. P. Tureaud of New Orleans, petitioned in both U. S. and state district courts for removal of the suit to the federal court.

Judge Lindsey will consider this petition when the hearing on the suit begins tomorrow.

Appraiser Scared Away By T-Men

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—The Daily Worker tried without success today to get an appraisal of the assets of the padlocked Communist newspaper.

While a prospective appraiser was on the way up to the newspaper offices, someone asked the elevator man:

"Are the T-men (Treasury agents) still up on the eighth floor?"

The appraiser, whose name was not learned, paled and shouted:

"What? T-men? What do you mean? Let me out of here. I want nothing to do with this. T-men? Let me out of here."

Appeasement failed to work. He was returned to the ground floor and quickly scampered away.

The Daily Worker gave up for the time being in its quest for an appraiser.

Russia Has More Specialists Than U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—A special report prepared for the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee says Russia now has more engineers and scientists than the United States.

The Soviets are producing these specialists at such a rapid rate, the report said, that "even the combined advantage which the United States and the countries of Western Europe now hold is being threatened."

The report was prepared by Harris Collingwood, Library of Congress expert. He said some Soviet statistics were difficult to interpret but that much is known of Russia's educational system and output.

Latest available figures show that this country has about 760,000 engineers and scientists whereas there are 890,000 in the Soviet Union, the report said.

Western Europe has about 425,000 so that Russia's number is more than three-fourths of the combined total of the United States and its friends in Western Europe, the report went on.

Michigan Red HQ Padlocked

DETROIT, March 28 (AP)—Internal Revenue agents padlocked the headquarters of the Michigan branch of the Communist party today but failed to close the office of the Michigan edition of the Daily Worker right next door.

William (Billy) Allan, editor of the Michigan edition of the Worker, argued with six agents who appeared at his office that the Michigan edition was incorporated as a separate business and not liable to seizure under a $400,000 tax lien.

The lien was filed in U.S. District Court here shortly after noon by A. F. Menninger, district director of the Internal Revenue Service in Detroit.

At the party headquarters—one room with two battered wooden desks, a bookshelf and two metal files—Saul Wellman, chairman of the Michigan committee of the Communist party, and Nat Ganley, a member of his staff, were ousted after a long and heated argument with John H. Spear, collection officer for the Detroit district of the Internal Revenue Service.

Bill Relieving Farmers Of Gas Tax Sent To Ike

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The House today completed congressional action on a compromise bill to relieve farmers of paying the two-cent a gallon federal tax on gasoline used for farming purposes.

The bill, a compromise of House and Senate measures, now goes to President Eisenhower who had requested it. It is estimated to save farmers 60 million dollars a year in gas taxes.

Swedish Rail Wreck

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 28 (AP)—A head-on collision of a freight train and a passenger railbus in the deep-snow country of northern Sweden snuffed out 16 lives today. Eight other passengers of the rail-bus were injured.

Misunderstanding of block signals was blamed for the wreck between Aruidsjaur and Moskosel. The freight roared around a bend, jolted into the snow plow attachment on the rail-bus and the locomotive vaulted into the air.

East Germany Called Red Bloc 'Achilles Heel'

LOS ANGELES, March 28 — The Russian zone of Germany is "the Achilles heel of the Soviet satellite system," Ambassador James B. Conant said today.

"We in the free world should take advantage of this fact," the U.S. ambassador to Germany told the Los Angeles World Affairs Council. "We should use every occasion to expose the fact that the Russians are exploiting this portion of the German population, and exploting is the proper word."

He said living standards in the Soviet zone are low and the economy is arranged for the benefit of the Soviet system and not for the Germans who do the workd.

"The uranium mines are being depleted," said Conant. "The youth are being forcibly recruited for an army which will reinforce the other satellite contingents. Brutal sentences are still meted out; the tales of the refugees are tales of a terrorized population.

"How can this day-by-day behavior of the Soviets' agents in East Germany be squared with the present Soviet words about peace and friendly relations with the West? The simple answer is: It cannot.

"This fact, to my mind, should be continually emphasized in every discussion of international problems. The conscience of the free world must be quickened to the injustice of a divided Germany."

Egypt, Syria Seen Accepting Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 28 (AP)—Egypt and Syria indicated today they had no objection in principle to a U. S. proposal for a special Middle East peace mission. Both, however, asked for more precise information on the mission's scope.

Representatives of the two Arab countries spoke in the U. N. Security Council meeting on the U. S. plan to send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold for an on-the-spot peace effort.

The Arabs concentrated on questions designed to define how much latitude Hammarskjold would have.

The impression left by both Ahmed Shukairy of Syria and Omar Loutfi of Egypt was that they would accept the mission if the secretary general deals only with violations of the 1949 Arab-Israeli armistice agreements and steps to enforce them.

Intercom Saves Sheep From Fire

FALMOUTH, Maine, March 28 (AP)—Sheep bleats heard over a barn-to-house intercommunication system sounded a fire alarm here which saved nearly all of a flock of 94.

The intercom was installed primarily to notify farmer Ernest W. Hawkes and his wife when ewes were lambing during the night. "Ordinarily, we only hear the mother talking to her new-born," said Mrs. Hawkes after yesterday's fire. "This time, it sounded like the whole flock was aroused about something."

The couple found two pens ablaze, apparently from a dislodged infrared lamp intended to warm lambs. One ewe perished and one was seriously burned. The couple put out the fire.

Maragon Working For $1.61 Per Hour

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — "Tired of living off handouts and on my wife's money," John Maragon, headline figure in the congressional "five percenter" probe of five years ago, is working for Congress and "earning my pay."

He is on the temporary payroll as a laborer in the House folding room at a wage of $1.61 per hour for time actually worked.

"And it's not easy work," the 64-year-old Maragon told newsmen. "But it's work, it's a job; I'm proud of it."

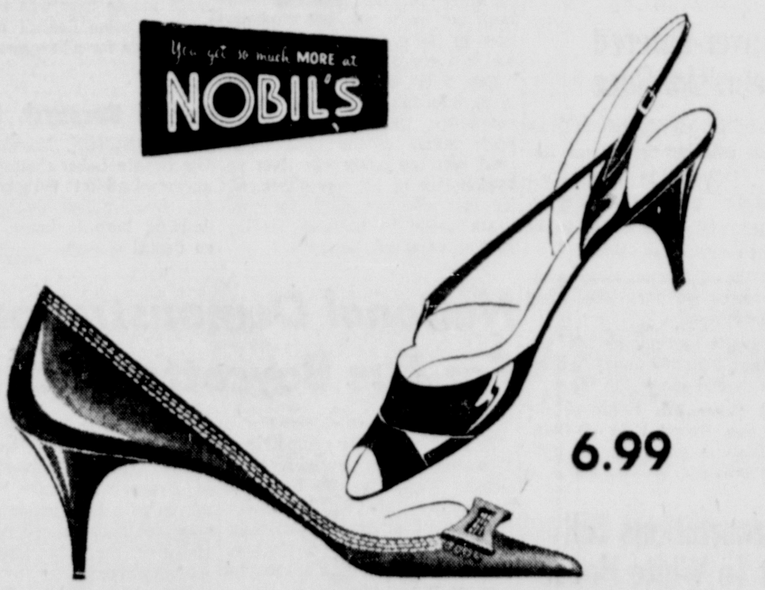

It's the first "regular job" Maragon has had since his release from the federal reformatory at Petersburg, Va., in December 1952, after serving about 19 months of a two-year sentence for perjury growing out of the "five per center" investigations.

NEW YORK, March 28 (INS) — Newspaper work is great. You meet such interestingly dissenting opinions. I had a piece the other day saying a kind word about the New York cab driver, an institution of formidable stature in our town. The first two letters opened presented these views:

"We are a small but vitally important body of employees of the New York Police Department, the School Crossing Guards, and we think New York taxi cab operators are a bunch of sweethearts," writes Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Housman, president of the Guards and the wife of a police lieutenant who once owned a fleet of cabs.

"The cabbie only SEEMS to be bent on reaching his passenger's destination at any cost. They are experienced in driving through the traffic maze of New York. A great many of them own their own cabs, and with payments for the machine hanging over their heads they can't afford accidents or traffic fines, so they avoid them. We know that a very high percentage are fathers or grandfathers of school age children. It naturally follows that they are the one category of driver we can depend on to observe every symbol, line or signal indicating a school crossing.

"They are the drivers who approach the crossing with caution even when the light is in their favor, who give manual and mechanical signals clearly and in sufficient time for the Guard and the following driver to know exactly what they intend to do next, and who patiently wait for the dawdling kid to get across the street safely.

"They are the ones who have taken it on themselves to set right any cabbie who gets thoughtless about school crossings. The fast (but now quiet) toot-toot and wave of a friendly hand in passing has been a terrific booster to School Crossing Guards. There have been dozens of incidents which indicate to us that they are in the same corner with us. We're out in the street to keep kids safe and they're giving us cooperation far beyond their responsibility as vehicle operators.

"When you consider that we School Crossing Guards are covered by no compensation whatever if we are clipped by a car while grabbing a kid who throws safety rules to the wind you can easily understand that we sincerely mean it when we say we love New York taxi cab operators. We are mothers of kids, too, and we know our little ones would find very little comfort in an official citation for heroics if we were not around to read it to them.

"We know nothing of cops picking on cabbies," writes the lieutenant's wife. "This note is just to say that we of the School Crossing Guards love them."

Out of the next envelope popped this:

"Your comment on the average New York taxi driver interested me," writes Robert B. Griffin, of Allen Road, Millington, New Jersey.

"Apparently you never have had the experience of:

"(A) Being blocked on a cross walk because a taxi driver stopped to pick up a fare with no regard to the pedestrian.

"(B) Being almost run down by a taxi driver making a right or left turn with no regard to the pedestrian.

"(C) Seeing every taxi driver jumping lights, racing through as the lights change.

"I would gather from your column that you are not very often a pedestrian.

"If the police gave every taxi driver a ticket every hour, they would still get too few."

Lonaconing Man Is Injured In Crash

James Green, 60, of Lonaconing, was admitted to Meyersdale Community Hospital last Saturday following a crash on Route 219 near Salisbury, Pa.

Green suffered fractured ribs, a large forehead cut and possible fractured skull when his car went out of control and smashed into a tree. The automobile was demolished.

Green was on his way home after participating in the Maple Festival parade in Meyersdale.

Britain's official hangman resigned as the nation abandoned capital punishment. There's a fellow who can take a hint.

Injured In Fall

A 22-year-old local woman was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday after injuring her ankle while walking along Baltimore Avenue.

Hospital attaches said Miss Ida Mae Darr, daughter of Mrs. Ora Nave, 117 Henry Street, sustained an injury to her left ankle when she slipped off a curb on Baltimore Avenue, near Central YMCA.

Union Leaders Protest State's Handling Of BTC

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP) — Transit union leaders today protested to Gov. McKeldin the manner in which the State is handling the seized Baltimore Transit Co.

The union urged McKeldin to sign into law an amendment to the Utilities Seizure Act granting him power to name an arbitration board to settle the contract dispute. The amendment, passed by the General Assembly shortly after the seizure bill, has not been acted on by McKeldin.

One source of irritation with the union members is the granting of a two-cent fare increase while they continue under their old wage scale of $1.90 an hour.

The union telegram said:

"The executive board of division 1300 strongly protests the unfair and one-sided administration of the seizure law under your administration.

"Division 1300 has faithfully lived up to the law. Its members have scrupulously obeyed every order . . . The company, on the other hand, has flaunted your authority with impunity.

"Division 1300 will not tolerate the failure of your administration to enforce the law against the company. Therefore, we urgently request that the arbitration provision of the act be enforced by either the immediate signing of the amendment or by immediate court action against the company."

The union has appointed its member of the arbitration board. The company refused to. Instead, it went to federal court to challenge the validity of the seizure act.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen yesterday postponed arguments on the petition until May 1. It originally was scheduled for April 1.

The union is asking a 20 cent raise in a one-year contract. The top company offer has been 18 cents spread over a three-year pact.

State PTA Sets Up Scholarship Fund

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers announced today that it had established a scholarship fund for future teachers.

The fund will provide $100 a year toward the education, in Maryland colleges, of boys and girls who will agree to teach in the public schools of the state for two years after graduation.

Under the scholarship, students will receive, on a grant or loan basis, $100 a year toward their education in any Maryland college. If the student teaches for two years after graduation, the $400 advance is to be cancelled. If the student does not teach, the PTA is to receive a $200 rebate.

The scholarship money will come from gifts to the Maryland PTA Congress life membership fund. The scholarship committee is headed by Dr. Lillian Compton, former president of Frostburg Teachers College.

Bean Confirmed

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — The Senate today approved the nomination of Stephen S. Bean of Maryland to be a member of the National Labor Relations Board.

Baltimore Police Probing One Of Two Costly Fires

[By The Associated Press]

Baltimore police Wednesday investigated one of two fires which firemen battled simultaneously Tuesday night and which called out most of the city's available fire equipment.

Damage estimates totaled more than $500,000.

In two other fires in Maryland Wednesday, a man died at Salisbury when flames swept an apartment and office building and the Colonial China Shop on U.S. 1 near Elkridge.

The Baltimore fire caused an estimated $250,000 damage at the Harrison Lumber Co. A.P. Krastel, secretary of the firm, said the fire was the "work of vandals."

Krastel told police three trucks at the lumber yard which were untouched by fire were found with windshields and headlights smashed.

The other fire was at the F.M. Stevenson Co. Inc. an awning and sail firm in the waterfront area. A company official estimated damage at $250,000 to $300,000.

Cause of that blaze was not immediately determined.

Killed in the Salisbury fire was Dewey Harrington, 58, found at the foot of a stairway in the basement of the building, located at Church and Bond streets.

All other residents got out, most of them in night clothes.

Naval Academy Air Base Sought For Kent Island

CENTREVILLE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Naval Academy airmen, still hunting for a place to land, are being encouraged to put down at Kent Island in their search for an academy airfield.

Kent Island is across Chesapeake Bay from the academy.

The Navy had zeroed-in on the Davidsonville area in Anne Arundel County but encountered stiff opposition.

Queen Annes County businessmen, on the other hand, apparently would welcome the fliers with the joy of an aircraft carrier skipper bringing in his brood.

The Tidewater Chambers of Commerce, which includes business from three Queen Annes County towns, has taken a stand "in favor of encouraging and endorsing a Naval Academy air station on Kent Island."

The chamber said that on April 6 it will hold a public meeting at the fire house in Stevensville "to explain to the people its position in this matter."

Chamber spokesmen said Rep. Miller (R-Md) would attend the meeting and that representatives of the Navy also were being invited.

In Congress, the House Armed Services Committee has voted to have an engineering firm make a study of the problem.

The $17 million dollar field would give midshipmen air indoctrination and be used by Naval Reserve fliers and Navy flying officers in the Washington area.

Advice To Colleagues

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 28 (AP)—During the traditional prayer opening the City Council meeting, Councilman Carl Stillwell included a bit of advice to his colleagues.

"Our Heavenly Father," he prayed, "fill our mouths with what we should say and nudge us when we've said enough."

The meeting lasted three hours.

Scrap Prices Rise

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP) — Steel scrap prices in Chicago are up about $4.00 to $5.00 a ton for the past week, industrial sources said today.

Beavers Outsmart Missouri Farmer

MACON, Mo., March 28 (AP) — Leonard R. Krawl is having beaver trouble, or the beavers are having Krawl trouble, depending on the viewpoint.

Krawl tried several times to remove a beaver dam on his farm, but the animals repaired it faster than he could tear it down. Finally he hit on an idea he thought was foolproof—he drove an inch and a half pipe through the dam to drain the water off.

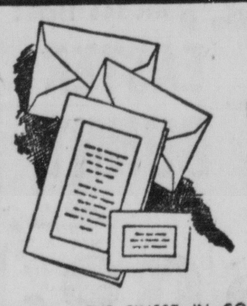

Next day the pool was at normal water level. The beavers, investigation showed, had shoved a corncob into the pipe and cemented it in with sticky clay.

Yugo Religions Aid

BELGRADE, March 28 (AP)—The semiofficial Yugopress news agency reports the Yugoslav Communist government gave $450,000 to religious institutions in the past year. It adds that aid went to all religions in Yugoslavia including the equivalent of $200,000 to the Roman Catholic Church.

The union has appointed its member of the arbitration board. The company refused to. Instead, it went to federal court to challenge the validity of the seizure act.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen yesterday postponed arguments on the petition until May 1. It originally was scheduled for April 1.

The union is asking a 20 cent raise in a one-year contract. The top company offer has been 18 cents spread over a three-year pact.

State PTA Sets Up Scholarship Fund

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers announced today that it had established a scholarship fund for future teachers.

The fund will provide $100 a year toward the education, in Maryland colleges, of boys and girls who will agree to teach in the public schools of the state for two years after graduation.

Under the scholarship, students will receive, on a grant or loan basis, $100 a year toward their education in any Maryland college. If the student teaches for two years after graduation, the $400 advance is to be cancelled. If the student does not teach, the PTA is to receive a $200 rebate.

The scholarship money will come from gifts to the Maryland PTA Congress life membership fund. The scholarship committee is headed by Dr. Lillian Compton, former president of Frostburg Teachers College.

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — The Senate today approved the nomination of Stephen S. Bean of Maryland to be a member of the National Labor Relations Board.

Baltimore Police Probing One Of Two Costly Fires

[By The Associated Press]

Baltimore police Wednesday investigated one of two fires which firemen battled simultaneously Tuesday night and which called out most of the city's available fire equipment.

Damage estimates totaled more than $500,000.

In two other fires in Maryland Wednesday, a man died at Salisbury when flames swept an apartment and office building and the Colonial China Shop on U.S. 1 near Elkridge.

The Baltimore fire caused an estimated $250,000 damage at the Harrison Lumber Co. A.P. Krastel, secretary of the firm, said the fire was the "work of vandals."

Krastel told police three trucks at the lumber yard which were untouched by fire were found with windshields and headlights smashed.

The other fire was at the F.M. Stevenson Co. Inc. an awning and sail firm in the waterfront area. A company official estimated damage at $250,000 to $300,000.

Cause of that blaze was not immediately determined.

Killed in the Salisbury fire was Dewey Harrington, 58, found at the foot of a stairway in the basement of the building, located at Church and Bond streets.

All other residents got out, most of them in night clothes.

Naval Academy Air Base Sought For Kent Island

CENTREVILLE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Naval Academy airmen, still hunting for a place to land, are being encouraged to put down at Kent Island in their search for an academy airfield.

Kent Island is across Chesapeake Bay from the academy.

The Navy had zeroed-in on the Davidsonville area in Anne Arundel County but encountered stiff opposition.

Queen Annes County businessmen, on the other hand, apparently would welcome the fliers with the joy of an aircraft carrier skipper bringing in his brood.

The Tidewater Chambers of Commerce, which includes business from three Queen Annes County towns, has taken a stand "in favor of encouraging and endorsing a Naval Academy air station on Kent Island."

The chamber said that on April 6 it will hold a public meeting at the fire house in Stevensville "to explain to the people its position in this matter."

Chamber spokesmen said Rep. Miller (R-Md) would attend the meeting and that representatives of the Navy also were being invited.

In Congress, the House Armed Services Committee has voted to have an engineering firm make a study of the problem.

The $17 million dollar field would give midshipmen air indoctrination and be used by Naval Reserve fliers and Navy flying officers in the Washington area.

Advice To Colleagues

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 28 (AP)—During the traditional prayer opening the City Council meeting, Councilman Carl Stillwell included a bit of advice to his colleagues.

"Our Heavenly Father," he prayed, "fill our mouths with what we should say and nudge us when we've said enough."

The meeting lasted three hours.

Scrap Prices Rise

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP) — Steel scrap prices in Chicago are up about $4.00 to $5.00 a ton for the past week, industrial sources said today.

Beavers Outsmart Missouri Farmer

MACON, Mo., March 28 (AP) — Leonard R. Krawl is having beaver trouble, or the beavers are having Krawl trouble, depending on the viewpoint.

Krawl tried several times to remove a beaver dam on his farm, but the animals repaired it faster than he could tear it down. Finally he hit on an idea he thought was foolproof—he drove an inch and a half pipe through the dam to drain the water off.

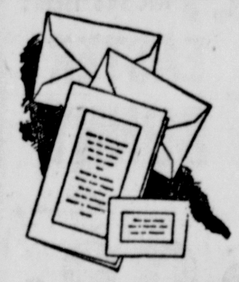

Next day the pool was at normal water level. The beavers, investigation showed, had shoved a corncob into the pipe and cemented it in with sticky clay.

Pa. Republicans Confident Ike Will Win Adopted State

By JAMES DEVLIN

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—A graduate engineer, thoughtfully puffing a pipe, said the presidential election this year "raises many questions in my mind."

He is the "undecided voter," the man the political campaigners try hardest to sway.

How many of him there are is a question facing political leaders in Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

The main question on the engineer's mind was President Eisenhower's health.

"My inclination would be to vote for him, as I did before," he said.

"But suppose something should happen to him in a time of crisis so his duties devolve upon the vice president? A sudden transition period always is difficult. No matter who the vice president is or how close he is to the President he cannot know everything the President had in mind.

"On the other hand, who will the Democrats nominate? How will their program stack up against Eisenhower's?

"I want more time to study these questions before I decide."

Republicans generally are confident Eisenhower will do as well or better in Pennsylvania in the Nov. 6 election than 1952, when he carried his adopted state by 269,000 votes.

Democrats, who meanwhile have captured the governorship for the first time in 20 years, argue that their organization is far stronger than four years ago and say they have a real chance to put the state in the Democratic column.

A brisk senatorial campaign already is warming up interest in the fall election.

Republican Sen. James H. Duff, an original Eisenhower backer, is seeking to hold his office against a spirited bid by Joseph S. Clark Jr., former mayor of Philadelphia a "reform" Democrat.

Both Duff and Clark are expected to be nominated without opposition.

The Keystone State's April 24 primary also will see the name of Sen. William F. Knowland of California on the Republican presidential preference ballot, along with Eisenhower's.

Knowland is not campaigning and has announced his support of the President. The Californian's name was entered before Eisenhower's second term announcement and cannot be withdrawn for technical reasons.

Adlai Stevenson is unopposed on the Democratic ballot.

Duff has hit at Clark as a "left-winger" because of his connections with the Americans for Democratic Action, which lists itself as a liberal non-Communist organization supporting the Roosevelt-Truman philosophies.

Clark has charged Duff with "do-nothingism." He contends the senator has sponsored no major legislation and frequently has missed roll call votes.

Three Accused Of Fake Holdups

ARLINGTON, Va., March 28 (AP)—Three employes of the Columbia Oil Corp. have been charged with conspiring to fake holdups at the company's Falls Church and Arlington filling stations.

Detective Capt. Dudley H. Rector said today the three are Johnny E. Hudson, 23, Joseph York, 27, and John E. Bridges.

Rector said Hudson admitted a Saturday morning report of a Glebe Road and Fairfax Drive filling station holdup was a fake. A search led police to a spot where $207 was buried.

Police said York, another employe who lived in the same building as Hudson, met John E. Bridges, night attendant at the Fall Church police Saturday and said he had been held up and robbed of $250.

Bridges late Thursday had called police and said a Negro had held him up.

Rector said York, a maintenance man, had entered into an agreement with Hudson for staging a fake holdup at the Glebe road filling station last Sunday night but confessed he "had beat the gun" and reported the fake holdup Friday night without York's knowledge.

Of every gallon of blood pumped by the heart, more than a quart passes through the kidneys.

Huge Easter Display

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—On Good Friday, three downtown office buildings will display 150-foot symbols of the three crosses on Calvary. The crosses will be formed by lighted windows in the otherwise dark buildings.

Palace Wedding Program Is Set

MONTE CARLO, March 28 (AP)—The palace of Prince Rainier III today announced an official program of three days of celebrations for his wedding with American movie star Grace Kelly.

The affair will start on the eve of the wedding and won't stop until Miss Kelly and the Prince sail on his yacht for their honeymoon. Miss Kelly is scheduled to arrive on April 12.

The official program starts on April 17 with a diplomatic reception at the palace in the afternoon, and songs and dancing far into the night.

The following day the civil ceremony in the throne room will start the morning. Afterward there will be more singing, dancing, theater programs featuring French stars and dancing on the seaside quais.

The big event is the religious ceremony, which takes place at 11 a.m. on April 19.

The couple will parade through the streets after the ceremony, riding in a special flower-draped car. In the afternoon there will be a football match in the Louis II stadium, named after Rainier's grandfather, and in the same stadium at night a special dance program.

BPW Club Will Observe Pan-American Day Tuesday

Pan-American Day will be observed at the bi-weekly dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club on April 3 at 5:30 o'clock in Central YMCA. The program will emphasize the culture, history, and peoples of Pan-American countries and is directed by Miss Nan Livingstone, chairman of the International Relations Committee.

Preceding the dinner, a cocktail party will be held in the lobby of the Community Room. Miss Anna Nicht is to preside at the cocktail table, while Miss Helene Knippenberg and Miss Mildred Twigg, as Spanish senoritas, will greet the guests. Favors are to be distributed by Miss Theresa Nicht.

In the form of a travelogue, the program is to take the club on an "Enchanted Holiday." Miss Helen Beck will supplement the movie with an account of her own trip to Cuba. In the role of master of ceremonies, Miss Livingstone is to introduce the speaker and will give material designed to strengthen the club's understanding of the "Americans south of the United States."

The cocktail hour is being arranged by Mrs. Ethel Northcraft, Miss Dorothy Marley, co-chairmen of the Membership committee, and Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, chairman of the Welfare and Recreation committee.

A special dinner of Spanish dishes has been arranged by Miss Gertrude Wolfe.

Miss Maude A. Bean will read the ritual for the evening. It is "God of All Nations." The invocation is to be given by Mrs. Dessie Williams.

Dolls from the Pan-American countries will be on display for the evening. Flags from these countries are to be used in the table decorations.

Members of the International Relations committee include Miss Wolfe, Miss Kathryn Laughlin, Miss Marian Bevans, Mrs. Mabel Allen, Miss Nellie Powell and Miss Livingstone, chairman.

Monte Carlo Ball To Be Held Apr. 7

With the wedding of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly so much in the news, the Playground Association of the Cumberland Country Club has chosen "Monte Carlo" as the theme for its annual spring dance April 7.

Decorations will be in keeping with current Monaco festivities. The ballroom will feature a papier mache chandelier. The royal colors and crowns will be used as table decorations. Travel posters of Monaco and the Riviera are being used in the cocktail lounge. As the prince is a big game hunter, "big game" heads will be used in the regular lounge. The entrance is to be highlighted with a colorful drawing of a roulette wheel, symbolizing Monte Carlo.

Dancing will be from 10 until 2 o'clock, with music by Peck Mills Orchestra. The dance is not restricted to club members. Tickets are available at the club and will be sold the night of the dance.

BPW Club Will Observe Pan-American Day Tuesday

Pan-American Day will be observed at the bi-weekly dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club on April 3 at 5:30 o'clock in Central YMCA. The program will emphasize the culture, history, and peoples of Pan-American countries and is directed by Miss Nan Livingstone, chairman of the International Relations Committee.

Preceding the dinner, a cocktail party will be held in the lobby of the Community Room. Miss Anna Nicht is to preside at the cocktail table, while Miss Helene Knippenberg and Miss Mildred Twigg, as Spanish senoritas, will greet the guests. Favors are to be distributed by Miss Theresa Nicht.

In the form of a travelogue, the program is to take the club on an "Enchanted Holiday." Miss Helen Beck will supplement the movie with an account of her own trip to Cuba. In the role of master of ceremonies, Miss Livingstone is to introduce the speaker and will give material designed to strengthen the club's understanding of the "Americans south of the United States."

The cocktail hour is being arranged by Mrs. Ethel Northcraft, Miss Dorothy Manley, co-chairmen of the Membership committee, and Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, chairman of the Welfare and Recreation committee.

A special dinner of Spanish dishes has been arranged by Miss Gertrude Wolfe.

Miss Maude A. Bean will read the ritual for the evening. It is "God of All Nations." The invocation is to be given by Mrs. Dessie Williams.

Dolls from the Pan-American countries will be on display for the evening. Flags from these countries are to be used in the table decorations.

Monte Carlo Ball To Be Held Apr. 7

With the wedding of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly so much in the news, the Playground Association of the Cumberland Country Club has chosen "Monte Carlo" as the theme for its annual spring dance April 7.

Decorations will be in keeping with current Monaco festivities. The ballroom will feature a papier mache chandelier. The royal colors and crowns will be used as table decorations. Travel posters of Monaco and the Riviera are being used in the cocktail lounge. As the prince is a big game hunter, "big game" heads will be used in the regular lounge. The entrance is to be highlighted with a colorful drawing of a roulette wheel, symbolizing Monte Carlo.

Dancing will be from 10 until 2 o'clock, with music by Peck Mills Orchestra. The dance is not restricted to club members. Tickets are available at the club and will be sold the night of the dance.

A meeting of the Decorating committee was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Sauer, Holland Street extended, and final plans formulated. Others attending were Mrs. Leonard Schwab, Mrs. Richard Schwab, Mrs. Paul Castelle, Mrs. Milton Granet and Mrs. William Scott.

Education Unit Holds Election

Raymond Skidmore was elected president of the Allegany County Association for Childhood Education, International at a recent meeting in the Board of Education Building.

Other officers named were Miss Orpha Clark, first vice president; Samuel Lisanti, second vice president; Thomas Wagner, recording secretary; Miss Helen Kreiling, corresponding secretary, and Miss Mary E. Straw, treasurer.

Skidmore, sixth grade teacher at West Side School, received his bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1951.

He is doing graduate work at the University of Maryland and for the past two years has served as a leader of a child study group.

Wagner is sixth grade teacher at Virginia Avenue School; Miss Clark, sixth grade teacher at East Side School; Lisanti, sixth grade teacher at Columbia Street School, and Miss Straw, sixth grade teacher at LaVale School.

The retiring president, Lisanti, announced that the annual spring dinner of the ACE will be held Tuesday, April 24, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Youths Are Paroled In Knifing Fracas

The 15-year-old local boy who told authorities he was knifed by three Negroes in an alley last Saturday night was placed on probation yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Morris Baron paroled the boy, along with the teen-age youth who admitted accidentally cutting him, after sentencing them to the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Most of the important inventions in the Eighteenth century in England were by working men and came from the workshop rather than the laboratory.

Four Candidates Will Speak At Demo Dinner

Candidates for Democratic nominations to the U. S. Senate and the Sixth Maryland Congressional District positions will be at the Allegany County Jefferson-Jackson dinner Monday, April 9, in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

They will be Millard E. Tydings and George P. Mahoney, Democratic aspirants for the Senatorial nomination, and John R. Foley and J. Grahame Walker, both of Montgomery County, Congressional nomination seekers.

The four candidates will make short remarks at the dinner which will have as the main speaker U. S. Senator Estes Kefauver, the Democratic candidate for the presidential nomination.

Harry Kauffman, chairman of the event sponsored by county Democratic organizations, said Foley, Tydings, Mahoney and Walker have mailed their acceptances of the invitations.

Kauffman said there is a great demand for tickets, especially since Sen. Kefauver swept the Minnesota primary.

He announced that all persons having received tickets must return the tickets or money by Monday to members of the dinner committee.

Otherwise, the dinner committee will go on the assumption that the tickets are not sold, and will furnish other tickets to those who have requested them in the past two weeks. Only 300 persons can be seated, Kauffman added.

Other members of the committee arranging the annual event are Anne B. Everline and William B. Orndorff, co-chairmen, Mrs. Mary Stein, Paul Byrne and Thomas B. Finan.

Sponsoring organizations are the Young Democratic Club of Allegany County, United Democratic Women's Club of Allegany County, Georges Creek Democratic Club and the county's Democratic State Central Committee.

Frostburg Man To Pay For Damage To Jail

A Frostburg man, John Stott of McCulloh Street, was given a six-month suspended sentence Tuesday in Trial Magistrates Court there and ordered to pay $90 for extensive damage done to the Mountain City jail.

Magistrate Fred Crowe placed him on probation for six months.

Following his arrest Monday on misdemeanor charges, Stott was placed in a room at the lockup to "cool off." During his stay he removed his heavy shoes and threw them at the ceiling, knocking holes in the plaster.

Then police placed Stott in a cell where he broke lavatory facilities and damaged water pipes.

Included in three charges against him was "destruction of city property."

Damages From Automobile Traffic Accidents Hit New High In 1955

Figures submitted by Mrs. V. L. Turley, traffic clerk for the City Police Department, to the American Automobile Association and Traffic Engineering and Safety Department show that approximately $81,984.00 worth of damage was caused to automobiles involved in accidents during 1955 within the city limits.

This figure shows an increase of $14,980 over the previous year's damage report, and is the highest recorded since figures were first recorded in 1949. The second highest mark was in 1952 when an estimated $72,156 amount of damage was caused to vehicles within the city.

Although the figure of $81,984 seems high it represents only a part of the actual damage caused by accidents. Many motorists were involved in accidents which they never reported, and a lot of accidents involve less than $75 damage and are not recorded, Mrs. Turley said.

Last year a total of 347 accidents were reported to City Police, an increase of 53 over the 1954 figure. A total of 612 motor vehicles were involved in the accidents, and 135 persons were reported hospitalized or injured.

City Police investigated 189 accidents during the 12-month period from January through December 1955. Besides the motor vehicle accidents, Mrs. Turley said 50 pedestrian accidents were reported and three bicycle mishaps recorded.

Last year marked the first time in three years that the city was free of a pedestrian or motor vehicle fatality. During 1954 two pedestrians were killed and one motor vehicle fatality was reported.

Five Are Drafted

Five local men will leave for induction into the armed forces on April 12.

Four of the men will be taken from Board 27, while the other will be selected from Board 28.

The men will report to the local Selective Service Board on April 12 at 6:20 a. m., and will leave for Fairmont at 6:50 a. m. by bus.

Gas Line Contract Awarded

The Britten Engineering and Construction Company of Birdsboro, Pa., has been awarded the contract to construct a six and three-quarter mile pipe line for the C&A Gas Company to supply the new North Branch Plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

The contractor had its supervisory officials in Cumberland and at the glass plant Monday setting up arrangements for the project.

The company is scheduled to start cutting right-of-way today, according to C. C. Robbins, Cumberland District manager for the gas company.

The job calls for replacing an existing six-inch gas main from the high pressure line in LaVale to the distribution station on Federal Street.

Twelve-inch pipe will be laid up over Haystack Mountain, paralleling Route 49 or Braddock Road, for a distance, and then dropping over the east side of the mountain.

McMullen Highway, the B&O Railroad and the Potomac River will be crossed prior to being placed on Western Maryland Railway property at Millerdale, one mile south of Ridgeley.

The line will be bored under 325 feet of track in the Western Maryland yards before going up over a second mountain, Knobley.

The 12-inch main drops off the east side of Knobley and goes across the Potomac River for the second time. This crossing was made by the Baughman Construction Company last summer so that the gas main project would not interfere with river channel work in the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program.

The main then crosses the river bottom in South End to the Federal Street distribution station.

From this point, the line will be reduced to eight-inch. Leaving Federal Street, it goes across the river for the third time near Municpal Airport, skirts the airport property, and then drops off the slope to cross the Potomac for the fourth time.

From there it will be laid through the Mexico Farms river bottom land to the North Branch plant.

The project will take 16,527 feet of eight-inch pipe, 16,607 feet of 12-inch pipe and 2,488 feet of ten inch pipe.

All of the pipe connections and fittings will be welded.

The Britten firm has done a number of other contracts for the C&A Gas Company and the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company of Pittsburgh.

Vacation Events Set

An Easter vacation program has been worked out for young adults at Central YMCA, according to L. R. Dehn, program chairman.

Saturday young men and women will play volleyball and badminton in the gymnasium at 2 p.m. and at 3 p.m. will have a swimming session in the pool.

Monday, April 2, Wednesday, April 4, young men will be offered the gymnasium from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p. m.

On Tuesday, April 3, and Thursday, April 5, the young women will have the gymnasium at the same time.

Friday, April 6, from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p. m. there will be swimming period for the young men and women in the Y pool.

On Saturday, April 14, there will be a young adult dance in the Y Community room with an orchestra and refreshments.

The Y's Youth Division will be closed all day Good Friday, Dehn announced.

Civil Service Status Denied School Patrol

The Civil Service Commission has decided that six women employed as school crossing guards are considered parttime employes and therefore excluded from civil service.

A motion to that effect was adopted at the commission's regular meeting Monday night in its office at City Hall. The decision was based on information submitted by Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn who said the women work four hours a day. Also on hand was City Attorney Thomas B. Finan to give a legal opinion on what constitutes seasonal, temporary and parttime employes.

The next meeting of the commission will be Monday, April 9, at which time it will continue to revise its rules and regulations.

Five Boys Put On Probation

Five local boys were placed on probation yesterday in Juvenile Court after being given hearings on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Magistrate Morris Baron sentenced the youths to the Maryland Training School for Boys, and then paroled four of them on condition they remain of good behavior. The fifth youth was ordered sent to Berkeley Count, W. Va. where he is in violation of his parole.

The boys were apprehended Saturday night by Officers James Sawnn and Gordon Hite after police received a complaint from a South End woman that her automobile had been stolen.

Magistrate Baron said the fifth youth, a resident of Paw Paw, W. Va., is on probation from the Martinsville Juvenile Court on a breaking and entering charge, and that he was to be taken there yesterday for action of that court.

Four Deeds Filed In Local Court

A number of deeds were filed yesterday morning in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

George E. and Christine Hess sold a lot and home on Piedmont Avenue near Columbia Avenue to James F. and Kathleen M. Robinson.

A home on the west side of Wilmont Avenue was transferred from George W. Landis Jr., and Glenda S. Landis to Reginald P. George Jr. and Frances Theresa George.

William T. and Rose E. Robinson sold Lot 9 of Hitchens' Second Addition to Frostburg to Raymond C. and Emma C. Winner.

Property at 840 Greene Street was transferred from Jennings B. Robinson Jr. and Elizabeth J. Robinson, to Harry L. and Mary E. Cornelius.

Penalty Set For Breaking Street Lights

Young vandals who have been shattering numerous street lights in recent days got this warning yesterday from William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and light:

Stop the practice or face prosecution.

Edwards said the vandalism had become so bad in some areas of town that lights are no longer replaced. In one recent case, a light was replaced in the morning and broken again that night.

Noting that the lights are a safety measure and a protection for city residents, Edwards urged them to report such acts of vandalism and names of the culprits so the practice can be squelched.

Easter Program Held At School

Pupils of the Seventh Grade of Pennsylvania Avenue School presented an Easter program yesterday afternoon.

Carol Himmler, announcer, read Scripture and the Glee Club, accompanied by Carolyn Cooper, sang.

Pupils participating in a skit and ballet included Linda Noel, Eileen Lewis, Donna Martin, Carolyn Cooper, Donna Stinson, Mary Richard, Judy Corrigan, LaDonna Miller, Barbara Wilson, Nina Parker, Charlotte Gragg, Marjorie Johnson and Jean Crabtree.

Marjorie Davis presented a vocal solo.

A fashion show, depicting styles from 1890 to 1956, was presented through specialty numbers with Donna Weaver, Donna Wrightsman, Rose Marie Gleason, James Malone, Mary Jane Adams, Marsha Kidwell, Margaret Miller, Sandra Twigg, Rayetta Burkett and Ray Somers participating.

The color guard was composed of Mike Freeland, Richard Parsons and Walter Porter. Miss Sallie Fitzwater was director of the program which included group singing.

McGeady Pleads Not Guilty

Thomas Owen McGeady, former teller at a local bank, pleaded not guilty at his arraignment on charges of embezzlement yesterday in Federal Court, Baltimore, and a tentative trial date was set for May 22.

McGeady, represented by Attorney William Walsh who prayed a jury trial, is free on bond. The hearing was before Judge R. Dorsey Watkins.

Formerly an employe of First National Bank, McGeady is charged with embezzling $29,362 in amounts ranging from $354 to $5,500 during the period August, 1952 to August, 1955.

He was named in 16 counts in an indictment returned February 23 by a federal grand jury in Baltimore.

Marriage Licenses

Alvin Lee Wilson, Bedford Road, and Suzanne Ruth Kester, Cheverly.

Arnold Burton Oster, Hyndman, and Mary Louise Robertson, Corriganville.

Billy Kenneth Miller, 515 Humbird Street, and Nancy Ray Kean, 515 Rose Hill Avenue.

Richard Charles Wilkinson, 522 North Mechanic Street, and Gloria Jane Dent, 455 Central Avenue.

And Now Spain Will Get Out

The Spanish government is expected, any day now, to invite Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef of (French) Morocco to Madrid to discuss preliminary steps for ending the present Spanish protectorate over Spanish Morocco. The Sultan has refused to go until assured that Spain was prepared to grant independence.

As the French at the turn of the century prepared to gain control over Morocco, they secretly agreed with Spain (1904) to give Spain its bite. After the international conference on Morocco in 1906 and 1911, France in 1912 formalized the 1904 agreement by recognizing a Spanish protectorate over a coastal strip of Morocco, inhabited largely by Spaniards, southwest of the Strait of Gibraltar.

The city of Tangier, on the Atlantic coast of Spanish Morocco, and 140 square miles of its hinterland were to be set up as an international zone. Spanish Morocco accounted for approximately seven per cent of the area and 10 per cent of the population of all Morocco.

Spain had trouble subduing the native Riffs—in fact, suffered a major military defeat at their hands in 1921, at Anual. The Riffs under Abd-el-Krim were not finally subjugated until 1925-26, and then by troops from French Morocco under Marshal Petain.

Generalissimo Franco set especial store by Spanish Morocco to bolster his demand on the British to cede Gibraltar to Spain, for "The Rock" is now within bombarding distance of modern guns in Spanish Morocco. As late as last December 15 the Spanish head of state affirmed that Spain would hold on to its Moroccan protectorate, inasmuch as the natives weren't ready for self-government. But after France in March agreed to take actual steps for independence of French Morocco, the Spanish enclave in Morocco evidently became untenable.

Hypnotism

All of a sudden, hypnotism and reincarnation and similar curiosities of human behavior become popular like Coueism and Texas Guinan at another period or the simple life in the era of Theodore Roosevelt who was the most complex of our presidents.

Perhaps in the 1956 campaign, hypnotism will become an issue or maybe the candidates will saw a girl in half like the magicians used to do in the era of Houdini and Kellar the Great. It is even possible that the unexpected and eccentric Minnesota vote for Kefauver was a product of hypnotism and that the Tennessean is not Kefauver at all but the reincarnation of William Jennings Bryan who brought about the election of Republican presidents three times. Bryan, it may be recalled, went down to Tennessee to the Monkey Trial where he established beyond peradventure that he was not descended from an ape.

Hypnotism was supposed to have been discovered by Mesmer but has undoubtedly been practised by politicians as long back as there is any record, the most successful of the craft skillfully hypnotizing the masses into accepting their overlordship and paying for it. The prophet Samuel in the Bible had much to say on the subject when he told the Jews that they should not have a king but they would not listen to him.

This is what Samuel told them:

"This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: he will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.

"And he will appoint him captains over thousands, and captains over fifties; and will set them to ear his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and instruments of his chariots.

"And he will take your daughters to be confectioners, and to be cooks, and to be bakers. And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. And he will take your menservants, and your maidservants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put them to his work.

"He will take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day."

Samuel did not have much imagination, talking about one-tenth. Why, here, in this country, where we have no king, but only a president and a Congress, we would consider ourselves lucky if our taxes, open and hidden, came to one-tenth. Our politicians, for some reason, can only think about how to spend money but never how to save money. And they call it inflation when the people spend their own money which they earn by their own labor, but it is not inflation when the government spends the people's money, particularly on useless enterprises or to be sent abroad where it serves no particular purpose, because there it is like giving a mink coat to a gal who already has her eye on the next feller.

So, we are to have a fad of hypnotism and maybe a dozen or two new religions will spring up to preach reincarnation, although the new ones are unnecessary because there are several which accept reincarnation. When I lived in Asia, the beggars would not kill the lice that covered their bodies and clothes, because how could anyone be sure that that louse, the one he might have killed, was not his grandfather? I shall not tell you about other things I saw in connection with reincarnation because you might be on the verge of eating a meal, but it just goes to show what sort of things the human mind can believe and what horrible things can be done once one believes that they are not horrible. Some time I shall look into this subject to see if anyone has any idea of how people started to believe in metempsychosis which is the scientific jargon for the movement of the soul from one being into another, from man, let us say, to a louse.

Eisenhower Seriously Considering Goodwill Trip To India In August

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower took 50 minutes out the other day to discuss the idea of going on a goodwill mission to India during the Democratic National Convention next August.

He discussed the plan with Evangelist Billy Graham who had recently come back from India. And, judging by the President's eager questions, he has a lot more than a mere polite interest in the trip.

Because of the snowstorm, Ike was one day late in getting back to the White House from Gettysburg at the beginning of last week. This threw all his appointments out, and jammed up his schedule for Tuesday. Despite this, he kept Billy Graham about 30 minutes overtime talking to him about the trip to India.

The general idea they discussed was, first, that our sagging relations with India badly needed a trip by the President himself; second, that if he flew to India just as the Democrats were meeting in Chicago, it would take the spotlight away from them, also make it difficult for them to criticize him effectively.

The trip would also demonstrate the condition of his health.

Finally, he would fly on around the world, arriving from the Pacific in San Francisco just as the Republicans nominated him for a second term. He could time a triumphant arrival at the exact moment of his acceptance speech.

Ike seemed to like the idea immensely. He gave the impression that h emight go ahead with it if his health was up to it this summer.

One bright light in an otherwise murky Ike-administration attitude toward little business has been Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general, in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. Barnes has done a good job.

New Trust-Buster?

In one or two cases he has had to trim his sails, such as dropping the criminal prosecution against Ike's close friend, Roy Roberts, publisher of the Kansas City Star. But in most cases, Barnes has been forthright in going after monopoly, and recently he brought a criminal indictment against Shell Oil in Boston for fixing retail prices.

However, Eisenhower is now doing to Barnes what President Roosevelt did to Thurman Arnold when he was in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. He is kicking Barnes upstairs to the Circuit Court of Appeals. So the big question is who will take his place.

Barnes has certain good men around him, including some holdover Democrats and some new Republicans. Among the latter is Robert Bicks, his legal assistant. However, the Justice Department grapevine has it that the new trust-busting job will go to Edward A. Foote, socialite politico, who happens to be chummy with Robert Learnard, Washington representative of the Aluminum Company of America.

There is no corporation which has been in more hot water with the Anti-Trust Division over monopoly than the Aluminum Company.

Two Rooseveltians

Two famous personalities of the Roosevelt administration, Congressman James Roosevelt and brain-truster Tommy Cocoran, had a backstage huddle last week at which they agreed to disagree. Their disagreement was over bananas.

"Tommy the Cork," who helped put across some of the foundation laws of the New Deal, is still a potent, though unobtrusive figure in Washington. Now a private attorney, he seems to get things done just as well under the Republicans as under the Democrats.

He called in Jimmie Roosevelt because Jimmie is planning to hold a Small Business Committee hearing of complaints by banana jobbers against the United Fruit Company. The jobbers contend that United Fruit fixes prices, monopolizes tropical fruit.

So Corcoran asked that Jimmie's hearings be in executive or closed-door session.

"If you have public hearings," Corcoran argued, "every newspaper in Latin America will carry headlines that United Fruit is the instrument of American imperialism."

"I'll be glad to inform the State Department that I'm holding the hearings," Roosevelt told his father's old friend. "But without a request from them on the basis that it will harm our Pan American relations, I'm not going to hold an executive session."

NOTE: The Justice Department some time ago brought an anti-trust suit against United Fruit, now is considering dropping it with a consent decree. Roosevelt wants to find out whether the Justice Department has consulted the banana jobbers who have to do business with United Fruit before it considers its consent decree.

Washington Pipeline

Staff economists on the President's Council of Economic Advisers are worried that prices may become even more inflationary. Heavy business borrowing and price increases in basic metals could mean dangerous inflation, followed by recession . . . Tennessee's baby-faced Sen. Albert Gore looked as if he were struggling to keep a stiff upper lip when he was replaced as chairman of the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee. Remarked St. Louis Post-Dispatch's Ed Woods, watching from the press gallery: "Gore looks like a choir boy who has just been dismissed because his voice is changing." . . . Minnesota's best Democratic vote-getter appears to be quiet, modest Congressman John Blatnik, who held his district for Stevenson against the Eisenhower landslide in 1952 and the Kefauver landslide in 1956. Blatnik has been winning by wider margins in Northern Minnesota ever since he took the district away from the Republicans in 1946 . . . The Army is investigating reports that NATO arms have been smuggled into the desert to help the native uprising against the French in North Africa. Arms have disappeared from NATO's European depots. Army investigators have traced the missing equipment to Egypt, whence it is smuggled to the natives . . . The Air Force is worried that its giant Wheelus Air Base in Tripoli may be in danger.

Nixon's Political Opportunity Bothers Opponents

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—When Governor Harriman, Democrat, said the other day that he isn't interested in the vice presidential nomination, it meant that, if he can't win first place on the ticket this year, he would choose to remain governor of New York, with the hope of running for the presidency in 1960. That's a politically sound decision. For, if he ran for vice president this year and the ticket lost, Mr. Harriman's chances for the next time would be impaired, whereas, if the ticket won, the top man himself would be entitled to the presidential renomination in 1960.

But there is an erroneous impression prevalent today that the vice presidency isn't a worthwhile office or that it doesn't contain any political future for its incumbent unless he happens to become president through the death of the man with whom he ran in the preceding election.

Curious Line Of Thought

Some of the mistaken philosophy about the vice presidency cropped up in the recent discussion about the availability of Vice President Nixon for renomination. Quite a curious line of thought was handed out to the effect that, if Mr. Nixon continued in the vice presidency, he would be "burying" himself and that it would interfere with his political future.

Much of this talk was transparently due to the naive tactics of those who were not at all solicitous about Mr. Nixon's future—though they professed great anxiety in his behalf. For it is an axiom of modern politics that men who run for the presidency have the best chance for national attention when they are actually in an elective office. Governors and prominent members of Congress have in the past usually been the nominees for president. Rarely does a cabinet officer get the presidential nomination.

When President Eisenhower told his press conference a few weeks ago that he had suggested to Vice President Nixon that he should "chart his own course," it was significant that most of the anti-Nixon folks had already done the charting and their chief concern was how to chart him out of the possibility of ever becoming president.

Extraordinary Opportunity

It was argued patronizingly, for instance, that Mr. Nixon might wait till 1960 and then run for the presidency. Meanwhile, what would he be doing? It was suggested that he might occupy a cabinet post. Yet it was conveniently forgotten that, if anything happened to Mr. Eisenhower during a second term, the man who was vice president would then, of course, become the logical nominee for the presidency in 1960—not some cabinet secretary.

If, on the other hand, Mr. Eisenhower served out his second term, the person who concurrently was vice president would have as good, if not a better chance than anybody else for the presidential nomination in 1960. That's because a vice president, under Mr. Eisenhower, has an extraordinary opportunity for four years to keep in the public eye and to reveal his qualification for higher office.

Incidentally, it was mentioned that Mr. Nixon might be made secretary of defense in a second term if the present incumbent wanted to give up the cares of that big office to a younger man. But who ever heard of anybody preparing himself for the presidency nowadays by using the Defense Department as a political springboard?

The very fact that there was appointed to the post so conspicuous a political personality as Richard Nixon would mean the beginning of a lengthy period of suspicion by the country that the Defense Department had been given over to partisan politics. Anybody with a real concern either for the best interest of the nation or for Mr. Nixon himself could hardly have made that suggestion seriously. It was, of course, supposed to be a plausible and generous alternative to hand to Mr. Nixon—anything for him but the vice presidency.

Ike Found Out Score

The proponents of the idea tried to persuade Mr. Eisenhower to accept it, but he found out the score in time to avert damage to party unity and said he would welcome Mr. Nixon as a running mate.

Mr. Nixon's chances of becoming the presidential nominee of his party in 1960 are best if he serves as vice president for a second term. Not only has he shown himself to be a remarkable political campaigner but, as everyone familiar with politics recognizes, the opportunity he has already had to get acquainted with local organization leaders in the 1952 and 1954 campaigns and the unprecedented opportunity to do the bulk of the campaigning in 1956, if he is again the second man on the ticket, will give Mr. Nixon a political strength for 1960 which no other prominent Republican has today. That's what is really bothering his opponents—among them persons with similar ambitions.

Defense, Indifference

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Some very sensational statements have recently been made by the highest Air Force authorities, but hardly anybody has paid any attention to them at all. Consider the following brief samples:

Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff:

"(The Soviets) have long since passed us in quantity and they are making remarkable strides in quality."

Gen. Thomas D. White, deputy chief of staff:

"They have been and are outproducing us in all categories but medium bombers . . . Here is the area of deep concern—the Soviets are presently beating us at our own game—production—The Communists are making scientific and technological advances at a faster rate than we are."

Real, Immediate Danger

Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, chief of the Air Research and Development Command: "With both quantitative and qualitative superiority on their side, we would lose the protection of the deterrent force and be at their mercy. This danger is very real and immediate."

What all three generals are saying, of course, is that the Soviet Union is rapidly outstripping the United States in strategic air power, the one field in which this country has heretofore enjoyed superiority. Surely it is no exaggeration to describe such warnings as sensational. Surely an official warning of "a very real and immediate danger" that this country will be at the mercy of the Soviets, for example, is nothing if not sensational.

Yet such warnings are met these days with a long, bored, national yawn. Why?

The question is worth asking, because the national indifference to such warnings is a vitally important phenomenon. There appear to be a number of inter-locking answers.

In the first place, there is a tendency to regard all generals as professional cryers of "wolf, wolf."

Certainly the services have sometimes been guilty of budget-minded scare-mongering. Yet, as Gen. Twining pointed out in his testimony, the Air Force has consistently underestimated Soviet progress in air power, and by a very wide margin, rather than the other way round.

Public's Business

Then there is the theory that "they don't really know—they're just guessing." The theory is comfortable, but incorrect. When Twining testified recently that the Soviets were producing more than twice as many long range bombers as this country, and that they were already testing intermediate range missiles, he was not guessing. He knew. How he knew may be none of the public's business. But the facts themselves are very much the public's business.

There is the equally comfortable theory that "we can't do anything about it anyway," which is equally incorrect. Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Trevor Gardner resigned essentially because of an official decision not to undertake the "crash" missile program he proposed. By the same token, to increase our long range bomber production at least to the Soviet level, as Gen. Curtis Lemay has strenuously advocated, would require a simple order to the Boeing plants. The order has not been given, entirely for budgetary reasons.

The plain fact is that the American government has officially decided to permit the Soviets to outstrip this country in strategic air power. Many people refuse to worry about this decision, because Dwight D. Eisenhower is head of the American government. But Gen. Eisenhower's military experience was in a different field, and he himself has often disclaimed personal infallibility.

Centers In System

The President's military reputation is of course a major reason why the administration's defense policies have been so mildly criticized. Those who undertake to do so, like Sens. Stuart Symington and Henry Jackson, find themselves charged with "breaking security," becoming "prophets of gloom and doom," or simply playing politics. Critics of defense economies are also accused of wasteful war-mongering since "there won't be another big war anyway"—which could be true, but only if we do not "lose the protection of the deterrent force."

But all this is not enough to explain the extraordinary public apathy in the face of such sensational warnings as those listed above. Unless the country has become so flabbily self-regarding as to be indifferent to the future, there must be something else as well—a failure of communication between the nation as a whole and those responsible for the national security. As another report in this space will suggest, the failure seems to center in the system which has grown up around the august, highly secret National Security Council.

Sleep's Role Vital In Physical, Mental Welfare

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A medical colleague who spent two years on a research project in equatorial Africa says he never slept a wink at night. The jungle was too hot and noisy and sleeping in a dark hut with wild animals prowling nearby was no fun. But this physician was adventurous and at an age when most men can play all night and work all day.

Sleep is one of life's necessities and plays a vital role in our physical and mental welfare. How long can a man go without it? I have never found the answer as I doubt if anyone has stayed awake until he died. On the other hand, a person who goes 60 to 1000 hours without sleep suffers from severe fatigue, irritability, and other psychic symptoms.

How long must a person sleep to recover from a prolonged period of wakefulness? The body does a phenomenal job of recuperating. A maximum of 15 hours of uninterrupted shuteye may be essential although many individuals revive completely after 8 to 10. There is no truth to the story that an extra hours is demanded for each hour lost.

The requirements and patterns vary with different ages. Infants get the most and oldsters the least. The majority of adults need seven to eight hours and feel exhausted unless they get this much.

We have no absolute standards of the exact amount necessary to maintain optimum health. Edison is an example of an individual who thrived on four hours of sleep and 20 hours of hard work. The opposite also is true of those who need 10 to 12 hours.

A friend of mine has a novel way of expressing the disproportion between his sleep requirements and his wife's. They go to bed at 11 p.m. He rises at 7 a.m. and she gets up at 8. "She gets the equivalent of one extra night of sleep each week," my friend says.

Since many women get more sleep than men do, I wonder if these extra nights each week play a role in milady's greater longevity, fewer heart attacks, and more even disposition.

It would be marvelous if we could throw away the alarm clock and sleep until the body had its fill. If this were possible, most of us could follow a normal sleep pattern.

TOMORROW: The attainment of good health.

BRAIN INFLAMMATION

T. S. writes: What is epidemic spinal meningitis?

REPLY

Inflammation of the covering membranes of the brain and spinal cord. The disease is caused by the meningococcus and usually is preceded by an upper respiratory infection. The manifestations include chills, fever, vomiting, headache, and stiff neck. Epidemics of meningitis occur especially in densely populated areas and in army barracks and boarding schools.

WON'T OUTGROW IT

J. K. writes: I love tomatoes but whenever I eat them my skin breaks out in a rash like prickly heat. Will I outgrow this? I'm 60 years old.

REPLY

Now you are asking. Individuals who are sensitive to certain foods may be able to eat small amounts at infrequent intervals. In addition, medications are available that help minimize allergic reactions.

COBALT AND CANCER

B. W. writes: What kind of cancer does the cobalt bomb cure?

REPLY

The same cancers that are cured with X-ray or radium. The cobalt bomb is more powerful and easier to handle in equivalent dosage than are other ray producers.

GIVE IT THE AIR

Mrs. M. writes: Should a vaccination wound be covered or is it better to let the air get to it?

REPLY

The majority of health authorities prefer to let the lesion dry in the air. A bandage may soak up the vaccine and prevent complete absorption. On the other hand, when a scab forms a bandage may be needed to ward off irritation.

NEW EYES

H. J. writes: How often must plastic eyes be replaced?

REPLY

A change is necessary when the surface of the prosthesis becomes rough and irritates the membranes or when the eye socket shrinks so that the artificial eye no longer fits. The average plastic eye must be replaced about every two years, though some persons use the same one four or more years.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

"Be careful, Irving, you fool," cried the proprietor. "Supposing that had been a customer!"

A Peoria lady regarded the seedy looking tramp at her back door with obvious disapproval. "Has anybody ever offered you dinner in exchange for a respectable lick of work?" she asked.

Because of the snowstorm, Ike was one day late in getting back to the White House from Gettysburg at the beginning of last week. This threw all his appointments out, and jammed up his schedule for Tuesday. Despite this, he kept Billy Graham about 30 minutes overtime talking to him about the trip to India.

The general idea they discussed was, first, that our sagging relations with India badly needed a trip by the President himself; second, that if he flew to India just as the Democrats were meeting in Chicago, it would take the spotlight away from them, also make it difficult for them to criticize him effectively.

The trip would also demonstrate the condition of his health.

Finally, he would fly on around the world, arriving from the Pacific in San Francisco just as the Republicans nominated him for a second term. He could time a triumphant arrival at the exact moment of his acceptance speech.

Ike seemed to like the idea immensely. He gave the impression that h emight go ahead with it if his health was up to it this summer.

One bright light in an otherwise murky Ike-administration attitude toward little business has been Stanley Barnes, assistant attorney general, in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. Barnes has done a good job.

New Trust-Buster?

In one or two cases he has had to trim his sails, such as dropping the criminal prosecution against Ike's close friend, Roy Roberts, publisher of the Kansas City Star. But in most cases, Barnes has been forthright in going after monopoly, and recently he brought a criminal indictment against Shell Oil in Boston for fixing retail prices.

However, Eisenhower is now doing to Barnes what President Roosevelt did to Thurman Arnold when he was in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. He is kicking Barnes upstairs to the Circuit Court of Appeals. So the big question is who will take his place.

Barnes has certain good men around him, including some holdover Democrats and some new Republicans. Among the latter is Robert Bicks, his legal assistant. However, the Justice Department grapevine has it that the new trust-busting job will go to Edward A. Foote, socialite politico, who happens to be chummy with Robert Learnard, Washington representative of the Aluminum Company of America.

There is no corporation which has been in more hot water with the Anti-Trust Division over monopoly than the Aluminum Company.

Two Rooseveltians

Two famous personalities of the Roosevelt administration, Congressman James Roosevelt and brain-truster Tommy Cocoran, had a backstage huddle last week at which they agreed to disagree. Their disagreement was over bananas.

"Tommy the Cork," who helped put across some of the foundation laws of the New Deal, is still a potent, though unobtrusive figure in Washington. Now a private attorney, he seems to get things done just as well under the Republicans as under the Democrats.

He called in Jimmie Roosevelt because Jimmie is planning to hold a Small Business Committee hearing of complaints by banana jobbers against the United Fruit Company. The jobbers contend that United Fruit fixes prices, monopolizes tropical fruit.

So Corcoran asked that Jimmie's hearings be in executive or closed-door session.

"If you have public hearings," Corcoran argued, "every newspaper in Latin America will carry headlines that United Fruit is the instrument of American imperialism."

"I'll be glad to inform the State Department that I'm holding the hearings," Roosevelt told his father's old friend. "But without a request from them on the basis that it will harm our Pan American relations, I'm not going to hold an executive session."

NOTE: The Justice Department some time ago brought an anti-trust suit against United Fruit, now is considering dropping it with a consent decree. Roosevelt wants to find out whether the Justice Department has consulted the banana jobbers who have to do business with United Fruit before it considers its consent decree.

Washington Pipeline

Staff economists on the President's Council of Economic Advisers are worried that prices may become even more inflationary. Heavy business borrowing and price increases in basic metals could mean dangerous inflation, followed by recession . . . Tennessee's baby-faced Sen. Albert Gore looked as if he were struggling to keep a stiff upper lip when he was replaced as chairman of the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee. Remarked St. Louis Post-Dispatch's Ed Woods, watching from the press gallery: "Gore looks like a choir boy who has just been dismissed because his voice is changing." . . . Minnesota's best Democratic vote-getter appears to be quiet, modest Congressman John Blatnik, who held his district for Stevenson against the Eisenhower landslide in 1952 and the Kefauver landslide in 1956. Blatnik has been winning by wider margins in Northern Minnesota ever since he took the district away from the Republicans in 1946 . . . The Army is investigating reports that NATO arms have been smuggled into the desert to help the native uprising against the French in North Africa. Arms have disappeared from NATO's European depots. Army investigators have traced the missing equipment to Egypt, whence it is smuggled to the natives . . . The Air Force is worried that its giant Wheelus Air Base in Tripoli may be in danger.

Nixon's Political Opportunity Bothers Opponents

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—When Governor Harriman, Democrat, said the other day that he isn't interested in the vice presidential nomination, it meant that, if he can't win first place on the ticket this year, he would choose to remain governor of New York, with the hope of running for the presidency in 1960. That's a politically sound decision. For, if he ran for vice president this year and the ticket lost, Mr. Harriman's chances for the next time would be impaired, whereas, if the ticket won, the top man himself would be entitled to the presidential renomination in 1960.

But there is an erroneous impression prevalent today that the vice presidency isn't a worthwhile office or that it doesn't contain any political future for its incumbent unless he happens to become president through the death of the man with whom he ran in the preceding election.

Curious Line Of Thought

Some of the mistaken philosophy about the vice presidency cropped up in the recent discussion about the availability of Vice President Nixon for renomination. Quite a curious line of thought was handed out to the effect that, if Mr. Nixon continued in the vice presidency, he would be "burying" himself and that it would interfere with his political future.

Much of this talk was transparently due to the naive tactics of those who were not at all solicitous about Mr. Nixon's future—though they professed great anxiety in his behalf. For it is an axiom of modern politics that men who run for the presidency have the best chance for national attention when they are actually in an elective office. Governors and prominent members of Congress have in the past usually been the nominees for president. Rarely does a cabinet officer get the presidential nomination.

When President Eisenhower told his press conference a few weeks ago that he had suggested to Vice President Nixon that he should "chart his own course," it was significant that most of the anti-Nixon folks had already done the charting and their chief concern was how to chart him out of the possibility of ever becoming president.

Extraordinary Opportunity

It was argued patronizingly, for instance, that Mr. Nixon might wait till 1960 and then run for the presidency. Meanwhile, what would he be doing? It was suggested that he might occupy a cabinet post. Yet it was conveniently forgotten that, if anything happened to Mr. Eisenhower during a second term, the man who was vice president would then, of course, become the logical nominee for the presidency in 1960—not some cabinet secretary.

If, on the other hand, Mr. Eisenhower served out his second term, the person who concurrently was vice president would have as good, if not a better chance than anybody else for the presidential nomination in 1960. That's because a vice president, under Mr. Eisenhower, has an extraordinary opportunity for four years to keep in the public eye and to reveal his qualification for higher office.

Incidentally, it was mentioned that Mr. Nixon might be made secretary of defense in a second term if the present incumbent wanted to give up the cares of that big office to a younger man. But who ever heard of anybody preparing himself for the presidency nowadays by using the Defense Department as a political springboard?

The very fact that there was appointed to the post so conspicuous a political personality as Richard Nixon would mean the beginning of a lengthy period of suspicion by the country that the Defense Department had been given over to partisan politics. Anybody with a real concern either for the best interest of the nation or for Mr. Nixon himself could hardly have made that suggestion seriously. It was, of course, supposed to be a plausible and generous alternative to hand to Mr. Nixon—anything for him but the vice presidency.

Ike Found Out Score

The proponents of the idea tried to persuade Mr. Eisenhower to accept it, but he found out the score in time to avert damage to party unity and said he would welcome Mr. Nixon as a running mate.

Mr. Nixon's chances of becoming the presidential nominee of his party in 1960 are best if he serves as vice president for a second term. Not only has he shown himself to be a remarkable political campaigner but, as everyone familiar with politics recognizes, the opportunity he has already had to get acquainted with local organization leaders in the 1952 and 1954 campaigns and the unprecedented opportunity to do the bulk of the campaigning in 1956, if he is again the second man on the ticket, will give Mr. Nixon a political strength for 1960 which no other prominent Republican has today. That's what is really bothering his opponents—among them persons with similar ambitions.

Defense, Indifference

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Some very sensational statements have recently been made by the highest Air Force authorities, but hardly anybody has paid any attention to them at all. Consider the following brief samples:

Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff:

"(The Soviets) have long since passed us in quantity and they are making remarkable strides in quality."

Gen. Thomas D. White, deputy chief of staff:

"They have been and are outproducing us in all categories but medium bombers . . . Here is the area of deep concern—the Soviets are presently beating us at our own game—production—The Communists are making scientific and technological advances at a faster rate than we are."

Real, Immediate Danger

Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, chief of the Air Research and Development Command: "With both quantitative and qualitative superiority on their side, we would lose the protection of the deterrent force and be at their mercy. This danger is very real and immediate."

What all three generals are saying, of course, is that the Soviet Union is rapidly outstripping the United States in strategic air power, the one field in which this country has heretofore enjoyed superiority. Surely it is no exaggeration to describe such warnings as sensational. Surely an official warning of "a very real and immediate danger" that this country will be at the mercy of the Soviets, for example, is nothing if not sensational.

Yet such warnings are met these days with a long, bored, national yawn. Why?

The question is worth asking, because the national indifference to such warnings is a vitally important phenomenon. There appear to be a number of inter-locking answers.

In the first place, there is a tendency to regard all generals as professional cryers of "wolf, wolf." Certainly the services have sometimes been guilty of budget-minded scare-mongering. Yet, as Gen. Twining pointed out in his testimony, the Air Force has consistently underestimated Soviet progress in air power, and by a very wide margin, rather than the other way round.

Public's Business

Then there is the theory that "they don't really know—they're just guessing." The theory is comfortable, but incorrect. When Twining testified recently that the Soviets were producing more than twice as many long range bombers as this country, and that they were already testing intermediate range missiles, he was not guessing. He knew. How he knew may be none of the public's business. But the facts themselves are very much the public's business.

There is the equally comfortable theory that "we can't do anything about it anyway," which is equally incorrect. Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Trevor Gardner resigned essentially because of an official decision not to undertake the "crash" missile program he proposed. By the same token, to increase our long range bomber production at least to the Soviet level, as Gen. Curtis Lemay has strenuously advocated, would require a simple order to the Boeing plants. The order has not been given, entirely for budgetary reasons.

The plain fact is that the American government has officially decided to permit the Soviets to outstrip this country in strategic air power. Many people refuse to worry about this decision, because Dwight D. Eisenhower is head of the American government. But Gen. Eisenhower's military experience was in a different field, and he himself has often disclaimed personal infallibility.

Centers In System

The President's military reputation is of course a major reason why the administration's defense policies have been so mildly criticized. Those who undertake to do so, like Sens. Stuart Symington and Henry Jackson, find themselves charged with "breaking security," becoming "prophets of gloom and doom," or simply playing politics. Critics of defense economies are also accused of wasteful war-mongering since "there won't be another big war anyway"—which could be true, but only if we do not "lose the protection of the deterrent force."

But all this is not enough to explain the extraordinary public apathy in the face of such sensational warnings as those listed above. Unless the country has become so flabbily self-regarding as to be indifferent to the future, there must be something else as well—a failure of communication between the nation as a whole and those responsible for the national security. As another report in this space will suggest, the failure seems to center in the system which has grown up around the august, highly secret National Security Council.

Sleep's Role Vital In Physical, Mental Welfare

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A medical colleague who spent two years on a research project in equatorial Africa says he never slept a wink at night. The jungle was too hot and noisy and sleeping in a dark hut with wild animals prowling nearby was no fun. But this physician was adventurous and at an age when most men can play all night and work all day.

Sleep is one of life's necessities and plays a vital role in our physical and mental welfare. How long can a man go without it? I have never found the answer as I doubt if anyone has stayed awake until he died. On the other hand, a person who goes 60 to 1000 hours without sleep suffers from severe fatigue, irritability, and other psychic symptoms.

How long must a person sleep to recover from a prolonged period of wakefulness? The body does a phenomenal job of recuperating. A maximum of 15 hours of uninterrupted shuteye may be essential although many individuals revive completely after 8 to 10. There is no truth to the story that an extra hours is demanded for each hour lost.

The requirements and patterns vary with different ages. Infants get the most and oldsters the least. The majority of adults need seven to eight hours and feel exhausted unless they get this much.

We have no absolute standards of the exact amount necessary to maintain optimum health. Edison is an example of an individual who thrived on four hours of sleep and 20 hours of hard work. The opposite also is true of those who need 10 to 12 hours.

A friend of mine has a novel way of expressing the disproportion between his sleep requirements and his wife's. They go to bed at 11 p.m. He rises at 7 a.m. and she gets up at 8. "She gets the equivalent of one extra night of sleep each week," my friend says.

Since many women get more sleep than men do, I wonder if these extra nights each week play a role in milady's greater longevity, fewer heart attacks, and more even disposition.

It would be marvelous if we could throw away the alarm clock and sleep until the body had its fill. If this were possible, most of us could follow a normal sleep pattern.

TOMORROW: The attainment of good health.

BRAIN INFLAMMATION

T. S. writes: What is epidemic spinal meningitis?

REPLY

Inflammation of the covering membranes of the brain and spinal cord. The disease is caused by the meningococcus and usually is preceded by an upper respiratory infection. The manifestations include chills, fever, vomiting, headache, and stiff neck. Epidemics of meningitis occur especially in densely populated areas and in army barracks and boarding schools.

WON'T OUTGROW IT

J. K. writes: I love tomatoes but whenever I eat them my skin breaks out in a rash like prickly heat. Will I outgrow this? I'm 60 years old.

REPLY

Now you are asking. Individuals who are sensitive to certain foods may be able to eat small amounts at infrequent intervals. In addition, medications are available that help minimize allergic reactions.

COBALT AND CANCER

B. W. writes: What kind of cancer does the cobalt bomb cure?

REPLY

The same cancers that are cured with X-ray or radium. The cobalt bomb is more powerful and easier to handle in equivalent dosage than are other ray producers.

GIVE IT THE AIR

Mrs. M. writes: Should a vaccination wound be covered or is it better to let the air get to it?

REPLY

The majority of health authorities prefer to let the lesion dry in the air. A bandage may soak up the vaccine and prevent complete absorption. On the other hand, when a scab forms a bandage may be needed to ward off irritation.

NEW EYES

H. J. writes: How often must plastic eyes be replaced?

REPLY

A change is necessary when the surface of the prosthesis becomes rough and irritates the membranes or when the eye socket shrinks so that the artificial eye no longer fits. The average plastic eye must be replaced about every two years, though some persons use the same one four or more years.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A tax collector was examining the books of a defiant — but slightly worried — delicatessen proprietor when the clerk, climbing aloft to fetch a can of preserved peaches, upset a whole pyramid of same. Cans came tumbling down on the tax collector's noggin, sending him sprawling to the ground.

"Be careful, Irving, you fool," cried the proprietor. "Supposing that had been a customer!"

A Peoria lady regarded the seedy looking tramp at her back door with obvious disapproval. "Has anybody ever offered you dinner in exchange for a respectable lick of work?" she asked.

"Only once, ma'am," said the tramp hopefully. "Aside from that I've been shown nothing but kindness."

"It's true," confirms a Broadway scribe, "that all the world's a stage. It's also true that many of its inhabitants are only brayers."

Rumors Of War Dampen Festivities In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section, March 28 (AP)—It is not war but rumors of war that are dampening Easter festivities in the divided Holy City this year.

The military frontier between Israel and Jordan divides Jerusalem. Guns on both sides are muted.

The inhabitants of Arab Jerusalem—75 per cent of whom depend on tourists for a living—complain that war talk in the West has frightened tourists and pilgrims away. They say Western leaders have developed an unfounded case of the jitters.

Today it appeared obvious tourists and pilgrim traffic this Easter would be below normal. The rumors of war no doubt are the explanation. As usual every bed in every hotel was booked from Thursday through Easter Sunday, but extra facilities were not needed this year.

Arab-Israeli trouble will also interfere with devotions Thursday, when pilgrims commemorate Jesus' last supper. Normally a procession of Christians travels from St. Saviour's church inside the old walled city to Cenacle, site of the upper room where Christ ate His last meal with His disciples. Because St. Saviour's is on the Arab side and Cenacle the Israeli side, however, the pilgrimage will go only as far as St. Mark's church inside the Christian quarter of the Arab side of the line and Easter services will go on as usual after Thursday.

Voters Urged To Sign Up As Deadline Looms

The registration of prospective voters in the forthcoming primary election on May 7 goes into the home stretch next week, and residents of Allegany County are being urged to sign up.

Today John J. Zapf, substitute Democratic registrar, and Bessie R. Baer, substitute Republican registrar, will be at the community building in Ellerslie from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., and at the fire hall in Corriganville from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m.

They also will be at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory Tuesday, April 3, from 9 a. m. until noon for the convenience of the employes there. During the afternoon they will be at Armstrong's Store, Rawlings, from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock.

Two registrars will be in Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Mt. Savage during the last four days of registration, April 4 to April 7.

The hours will be from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. The registrars will be at the city hall in Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport and at the community building in Mt. Savage.

The local office of Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, located in the basement of the Court House, will be open on Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon.

The schedule for next week at the office is as follows:

Monday through Wednesday, 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. and from 6 p. m. until 9 p. m.

Some 1,338 persons have taken advantage of learning to use the new type voting machine which is now on display at the Court House.

This total was recorded from March 12 up until March 27.

Democrats and Republicans split even yesterday at Cresaptown where registrars enrolled new voters for the Board of Election Supervisors. A total of 20 were registered, 10 in each major party.

Baltimore Utility Reports Higher Net Income

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. today reported net income for January and February of $3,888,000, a gain of $795,000 over the same two months a year ago.

The total, after preferred dividends, the company said, was equivalent to 58 cents per share on common stock.

In a letter to stockholders, President Charles P. Crane noted that operating revenues for the two months were $3,678,000 greater than in the corresponding months of 1955. The volumes of electricity and gas sold, he said, increase 14 and 24 per cent, respectively. Gas sold for householding was 29 per cent above the period a year ago due to colder weather and 16,300 additional heating customers.

Crane also said the first 125,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at the new Herbert A. Wagner Station was placed in service Feb. 15, raising the total electric generating capacity owned by the company to 955,500 kilowatts.

Families Quarantined In Toronto Epidemic

TORONTO, Ont., March 28 (AP)—Seven cases of scarlet fever in a waterfront housing area known as "Little Norway" have led to the quarantining of 30 families, involving 120 persons, health officials said today.

All seven cases have broken out since March 17. The most recent was on Monday.

quiet, devoted mostly to conferences with party leaders.

Despite defection of the county committee, the Mahoney organization claims at least 90 per cent of the party leadership in the county.

Alton Y. Bennett, a Frederick lawyer, and one of the most influential county Democratic figures, has endorsed Mahoney. He also has the support of George F. Albrecht and George E. Hamilton of the county committee who met Mahoney here this morning along with James Maus who is directing Mahoney campaign efforts in the northern section of the county.

After a conference with Bennett, they drove to Woodsboro where Mahoney shook hands with shop keepers and workers in two industrial plants. The group traveled to Brunswick later in the day to see J. E. Cummings, a railroad official who is mayor of Brunswick, and John S. Fosrer, Brunswick district chairman, both of whom are strong Mahoney backers.

Jordan Prisoners Freed

AMMAN, Jordan, March 28 (AP)—Jordan today freed 115 persons arrested in the anti-Baghdad Pact riots of last December and January. Of the 650 persons rounded up after the riots, only 15 remain in jail.

Inspection Report Given

Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation of the public schools of Allegany County, yesterday completed the quarterly inspection of the 98 buses used in transporting children to and from school and reported that 62 of the vehicles, or well over 60 per cent, were in "tip-top" shape.

He was accompanied on the tour of inspection by David Davis, mechanic of Frostburg, who has been doing inspection work on school buses for the past eight years.

Following the inspection, Ramey pointed out that 11 buses had loose connections in the exhaust system, including the tailpipes and mufflers.

Lighting defects in stoplights, tail lights and turn signals were detected in 11 of the buses, while 10 of the vehicles had loose steering gear.

Ramey said four of the buses had fire extinguishers which were unfilled, while one bus had empty flares. Two of the buses had horns which were not functioning properly, the first time such a defect has occurred.

There were two buses with body damage and one bus which had a rear door device which did not function properly. Notices of the various defects have been sent to the owners of the buses.

Repairs must be made within 10 days and a report of the correction sent to Ramey.

Area Resident Is Injured In Two-Car Crash

A 50-year-old Corriganville man was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday evening with injuries sustained in a two-car highway accident which occurred atop Long Hill within the city limits.

Attaches said last night that Le Wolf, who is employed in Hagerstown, complained of chest injuries and facial lacerations and was admitted for observation.

He was traveling in an auto driven by James Mick, of Cresaptown, a co-worker. They were coming into the city.

Police Officer E. Gordon Hite, who investigated, said Mick pulled out from behind another auto and in making a left turn traveled into the path of an auto driven by Donald Ware, of Baltimore Pike, traveling east.

Neither Mick nor Ware apparently was injured. Damage to both cars was heavy, police added.

Mick reportedly was making the left turn atop Long Hill toward a parked car which was awaiting Wolf. Officer Hite said that Mick will be charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing on Saturday.

City Police received a call of the accident at 5:59 p. m.

Bedford Road Property Sold

A deed to property on Bedford Road was filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The parcel of land, located in Election District 23 near the southeasterly side of Bedford Road, about two miles northeast of Cumberland, was sold by J. Forrest Milleson and his wife, Louenna Y. Milleson to William A. Withrow and wife, Carrie N. Withrow.

Appeal Is Filed In Assault Case

A criminal appeal, stemming from an alleged assault on a Lonaconing woman by a resident of Gilmore, was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Harry Spiker of Gilmore was fined $25 and costs in a hearing March 20 before Melvin S. Sloan, trial magistrate at Lonaconing, and was found guilty of pulling Janet Baer of Lonaconing from her husband's car, assaulting her and molesting her. Leslie J. Clark is counsel for Spiker.

Home To Be Built On Catskill Avenue

Joseph F. Reissig, 508 Shriver Avenue, secured a permit from the city yesterday to build a one-story brick home on Lot 123 of Catskill Avenue.

The dwelling will be 38 by 32 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and asphalt shingle roof and cost about $8,000.

THE CRUCIFIXION—With the thieves on either side of Him, Jesus was crucified on Calvary. "Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted His raiment, and cast lots." As Jesus hung dying on the cross, darkness descended upon the land from the sixth hour to the ninth hour, when He cried, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" An onlooker extended to Him a vinegar-soaked sponge, but "Jesus, when He had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost." As He died, the veil of the temple was torn in two, the earth shook and rocks were split. "Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God."

Rumors Of War Dampen Festivities In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section, March 28 (AP)—It is not war but rumors of war that are dampening Easter festivities in the divided Holy City this year.

The military frontier between Israel and Jordan divides Jerusalem. Guns on both sides are muted.

The inhabitants of Arab Jerusalem—75 per cent of whom depend on tourists for a living—complain that war talk in the West has frightened tourists and pilgrims away. They say Western leaders have developed an unfounded case of the jitters.

Today it appeared obvious tourists and pilgrim traffic this Easter would be below normal. The rumors of war no doubt are the explanation. As usual every bed in every hotel was booked from Thursday through Easter Sunday, but extra facilities were not needed this year.

Arab-Israeli trouble will also interfere with devotions Thursday, when pilgrims commemorate Jesus' last supper. Normally a procession of Christians travels from St. Saviour's church inside the old walled city to Cenacle, site of the upper room where Christ ate His last meal with His disciples. Because St. Saviour's is on the Arab side and Cenacle the Israeli side, however, the pilgrimage will go only as far as St. Mark's church inside the Christian quarter of the Arab side of the line and Easter services will go on as usual after Thursday.

Voters Urged To Sign Up As Deadline Looms

The registration of prospective voters in the forthcoming primary election on May 7 goes into the home stretch next week, and residents of Allegany County are being urged to sign up.

Today John J. Zapf, substitute Democratic registrar, and Bessie R. Baer, substitute Republican registrar, will be at the community building in Ellerslie from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., and at the fire hall in Corriganville from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m.

They also will be at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory Tuesday, April 3, from 9 a. m. until noon for the convenience of the employes there. During the afternoon they will be at Armstrong's Store, Rawlings, from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock.

Two registrars will be in Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Mt. Savage during the last four days of registration, April 4 to April 7.

The hours will be from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. The registrars will be at the city hall in Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport and at the community building in Mt. Savage.

The local office of Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, located in the basement of the Court House, will be open on Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon.

The schedule for next week at the office is as follows:

Monday through Wednesday, 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. and from 6 p. m. until 9 p. m.

Some 1,338 persons have taken advantage of learning to use the new type voting machine which is now on display at the Court House.

This total was recorded from March 12 up until March 27.

Democrats and Republicans split even yesterday at Cresaptown where registrars enrolled new voters for the Board of Election Supervisors. A total of 20 were registered, 10 in each major party.

Baltimore Utility Reports Higher Net Income

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. today reported net income for January and February of $3,888,000, a gain of $795,000 over the same two months a year ago.

The total, after preferred dividends, the company said, was equivalent to 58 cents per share on common stock.

In a letter to stockholders, President Charles P. Crane noted that operating revenues for the two months were $3,678,000 greater than in the corresponding months of 1955. The volumes of electricity and gas sold, he said, increase 14 and 24 per cent, respectively. Gas sold for househeating was 29 per cent above the period a year ago due to colder weather and 16,300 additional heating customers.

Crane also said the first 125,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at the new Herbert A. Wagner Station was placed in service Feb. 15, raising the total electric generating capacity owned by the company to 955,500 kilowatts.

quiet, devoted mostly to conferences with party leaders.

Despite defection of the county committee, the Mahoney organization claims at least 90 per cent of the party leadership in the county.

Alton Y. Bennett, a Frederick lawyer, and one of the most influential county Democratic figures, has endorsed Mahoney. He also has the support of George F. Albrecht and George E. Hamilton of the county committee who met Mahoney here this morning along with James Maus who is directing Mahoney campaign efforts in the northern section of the county.

After a conference with Bennett, they drove to Woodsboro where Mahoney shook hands with shop keepers and workers in two industrial plants. The group traveled to Brunswick later in the day to see J. E. Cummings, a railroad official who is mayor of Brunswick, and John S. Fosrer, Brunswick district chairman, both of whom are strong Mahoney backers.

Inspection Report Given

Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation of the public schools of Allegany County, yesterday completed the quarterly inspection of the 98 buses used in transporting children to and from school and reported that 62 of the vehicles, or well over 60 per cent, were in "tip-top" shape.

He was accompanied on the tour of inspection by David Davis, mechanic of Frostburg, who has been doing inspection work on school buses for the past eight years.

Following the inspection, Ramey pointed out that 11 buses had loose connections in the exhaust system, including the tailpipes and mufflers.

Lighting defects in stoplights, tail lights and turn signals were detected in 11 of the buses, while 10 of the vehicles had loose steering gear.

Ramey said four of the buses had fire extinguishers which were unfilled, while one bus had empty flares. Two of the buses had horns which were not functioning properly, the first time such a defect has occurred.

There were two buses with body damage and one bus which had a rear door device which did not function properly. Notices of the various defects have been sent to the owners of the buses.

Repairs must be made within 10 days and a report of the correction sent to Ramey.

Area Resident Is Injured In Two-Car Crash

A 50-year-old Corriganville man was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday evening with injuries sustained in a two-car highway accident which occurred atop Long Hill within the city limits.

Attaches said last night that Lee Wolf, who is employed in Hagerstown, complained of chest injuries and facial lacerations and was admitted for observation.

He was traveling in an auto driven by James Mick, of Cresaptown, a co-worker. They were coming into the city.

Police Officer E. Gordon Hite, who investigated, said Mick pulled out from behind another auto and in making a left turn traveled into the path of an auto driven by Donald Ware, of Baltimore Pike, traveling east.

Neither Mick nor Ware apparently was injured. Damage to both cars was heavy, police added.

Mick reportedly was making the left turn atop Long Hill toward a parked car which was awaiting Wolf. Officer Hite said that Mick will be charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing on Saturday.

City Police received a call of the accident at 5:59 p. m.

As He died, the veil of the temple was torn in two, the earth shook and rocks were split. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $189.70. The industrial component of the average today was up 90 cents, rails gained 40 cents, while utilities advanced 10 cents.

Ashland Oil was the day's most active issue up 1 at 19⅛ on 60,100 shares as directors raised the dividend payment to 25 cents from 20 cents and declared a 2 per cent stock dividend.

It was followed by Avco Mfg. up ⅝ at 7⅛, Electric & Musical Industries up ⅜ at 4¼, Panhandle Oil up ½ at 14¼, and Benguet Consolidated Mining unchanged at 2¼.

Stock Market Posts Gain On Strength Of Late Rally

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—The stock market rallied today and closed higher after spending most of the time moving irregularly.

The start was somewhat lower, just as it had been the rest of the week, but improvement began gradually in steels, motors, and coppers.

Late in the day the oils suddenly came to life and encouraged all other groups, especially the railroads, to advance to a moderately higher close.

Prices were up around 3 points at the best in key divisions while losses seldom exceeded a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $189.70. The industrial component of the average today was up 90 cents, rails gained 40 cents, while utilities advanced 10 cents.

Ashland Oil was the day's most active issue up 1 at 19⅛ on 60,100 shares as directors raised the dividend payment to 25 cents from 20 cents and declared a 2 per cent stock dividend.

It was followed by Avco Mfg. up ⅝ at 7⅛, Electric & Musical Industries up ⅜ at 4¼, Panhandle Oil up ½ at 14¼, and Benguet Consolidated Mining unchanged at 2¼.

Missing Links In History Of Maryland's State House Uncovered In Old Document

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (AP) — Some missing links in the history of Maryland's Statehouse have been uncovered in a General Assembly petition researchers have been seeking among ancient records.

Discovery of the 1779 document is announced by Dr. Morris Radoff, State archivist, in an article of the March issue of the Maryland Historical magazine coming out tomorrow.

The petition was written by Charles Wallace, builder of the Statehouse, at the end of seven frustrating years of work on the building.

In it he gives a step-by-step account of the construction, tells of his financial losses on the contract and other difficulties, and asks the assembly to discharge him "from doing anything further on said building."

Dr. Radoff had been searching for the memorial since he saw a reference to it while writing a book published in 1954 on the history of State buildings here.

It was found mixed in with some executive, instead of legislative, papers of that period.

For years researchers have wondered who was the architect for the building, which was started in 1772. The Wallace petition doesn't answer that, but Dr. Radoff said today it tends to confirm that there was no specific architect and the building might have been patterned after similar buildings in England.

Wallace recounts for the General Assembly his struggles with legislative delays, wartime inflation, the elements and a sudden interruption caused by arrival of the British fleet in Chesapeake Bay.

One of his most bothersome problems involved the roof for the Statehouse. After he got the basement and first two floors up, the General Assembly couldn't agree for months whether to use slate or copper for the roof. When copper was finally agreed on, and Wallace got it from overseas, a hurricane came along in 1755 and tore off the roof.

This "ruined the inside work," Wallace says, and "the copper was so spoiled that it could not be applied again to the same use." He couldn't import any more because of the war.

He wound up selling the copper to recover some of his losses on the building and asked in the petition that the General Assembly excuse his having done this.

After the building was reroofed and work was proceeding nicely, the British fleet sailed up Chesapeake Bay. Wallace and his workmen, along with other residents, "left Annapolis for a while."

Twenty of his skilled workmen had undertaken the contract for 7,000 pounds sterling—about $35,000 in American currency at the bottom of the depression in 1932, Dr. Radoff says—after it had been turned down by architects and workmen of the period.

He said he was "impressed with an idea that the building might be completed for the money with good management, though fully satisfied that no great profit could be made."

Revolutionary inflation which fostered the expression "not worth a continental" soon proved otherwise. Wallace even had to pay out 500 pounds of his own to complete the galleries in the House and Senate chambers.

At the end of his seven years work, he told the Assembly:

"Your petitioner has finished the state house . . and the galleries in a much more expensive and elegant manner than could be claimed from his contract or he believes was expected . .

"He has prosecuted the work with diligence and can truly affirm that instead of his being a gainer by seven years application and fatigue on a public work, he is a very great loser."

He asked the General Assembly to approve his having sold the copper and repay the 500 pounds spent on the galleries.

Dr. Radoff says Assembly records show Wallace's requests were granted.

Berkeley County To Decide Teacher Pay On May 8

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 27 (AP)—Berkeley County voters will decide in the May 8 primary whether to continue paying a special tax which goes mostly toward teachers' salaries.

The special levy, in effect for several years, is renewable at the polls every three years and must be carried by at least 60 per cent of those voting.

Missing Links In History Of Maryland's State House Uncovered In Old Document

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (AP) — Some missing links in the history of Maryland's Statehouse have been uncovered in a General Assembly petition researchers have been seeking among ancient records.

Discovery of the 1779 document is announced by Dr. Morris Radoff, State archivist, in an article of the March issue of the Maryland Historical magazine coming out tomorrow.

The petition was written by Charles Wallace, builder of the Statehouse, at the end of seven frustrating years of work on the building.

In it he gives a step-by-step account of the construction, tells of his financial losses on the contract and other difficulties, and asks the assembly to discharge him "from doing anything further on said building."

Dr. Radoff had been searching for the memorial since he saw a reference to it while writing a book published in 1954 on the history of State buildings here.

It was found mixed in with some executive, instead of legislative, papers of that period.

For years researchers have wondered who was the architect for the building, which was started in 1772. The Wallace petition doesn't answer that, but Dr. Radoff said today it tends to confirm that there was no specific architect and the building might have been patterned after similar buildings in England.

Wallace recounts for the General Assembly his struggles with legislative delays, wartime inflation, the elements and a sudden interruption caused by arrival of the British fleet in Chesapeake Bay.

One of his most bothersome problems involved the roof for the Statehouse. After he got the basement and first two floors up, the General Assembly couldn't agree for months whether to use slate or copper for the roof. When copper was finally agreed on, and Wallace got it from overseas, a hurricane came along in 1755 and tore off the roof.

This "ruined the inside work," Wallace says, and "the copper was so spoiled that it could not be applied again to the same use." He couldn't import any more because of the war.

He wound up selling the copper to recover some of his losses on the building and asked in the petition that the General Assembly excuse his having done this.

After the building was reroofed and work was proceeding nicely, the British fleet sailed up Chesapeake Bay. Wallace and his workmen, along with other residents, "left Annapolis for a while."

Twenty of his skilled workmen had undertaken the contract for 7,000 pounds sterling—about $35,000 in American currency at the bottom of the depression in 1932, Dr. Radoff says—after it had been turned down by architects and workmen of the period.

He said he was "impressed with an idea that the building might be completed for the money with good management, though fully satisfied that no great profit could be made."

Revolutionary inflation which fostered the expression "not worth a continental" soon proved otherwise. Wallace even had to pay out 500 pounds of his own to complete the galleries in the House and Senate chambers.

At the end of his seven years work, he told the Assembly:

"Your petitioner has finished the state house . . and the galleries in a much more expensive and elegant manner than could be claimed from his contract or he believes was expected . .

"He has prosecuted the work with diligence and can truly affirm that instead of his being a gainer by seven years application and fatigue on a public work, he is a very great loser."

He asked the General Assembly to approve his having sold the copper and repay the 500 pounds spent on the galleries.

Dr. Radoff says Assembly records show Wallace's requests were granted.

Abbott set a new record by skinning five rats in one minute, 15.4 seconds. And that's really making the fur fly!

Above he's shown talking shop with Leon Hebert, who was the champ in Louisiana but placed no better than sixth in the Cambridge contest. How fast does the top skinner tear off a pelt? Veteran Boxer Carlo Chavez Admits He Took Dive In Bout

Tells Probers He Was Ill In Aragon Match

Win Aroused Some Suspicion In 1950; Had Won Previously

LOS ANGELES, March 28 (AP)—Veteran Boxer Carlo Chavez of Los Angeles, in another sensational disclosure before the governor's committee probing the fight game in California, admitted today that he took a one-round dive in a fight here with Art Aragon in 1950.

Under questioning by the committee investigator T. E. Billings, the nationally known lightweight boxer testified:

"I knew I was going in and getting out."

Chavez pleaded that he was sick at the time from loss of blood from hemorrhoids.

"No Use Getting Hurt"

"You knew before that fight that you were going down?" demanded Billings.

"There was no use in getting hurt," Chavez replied.

The match, held at the Olympic auditorium in November 1950, aroused suspicion at the time because in June of the same year Chavez had convincingly whipped Aragon by a decision in 10 rounds.

Grilled further by chief investigator James J. Cox, Chavez said that it was eight months after the Aragon fiasco that he underwent an operation for the condition.

There was no indication Aragon was involved. Chavez, queried further, admitted that long after the fight he and the local golden boy got into a discussion at a local cafe.

"I told the bum he could never knock me out in his best day if I was well," Chavez said.

It was brought out he told no one about his supposed condition and passed the various physician examinations before each of his fights that year, as well as more thorough one when his license was renewed.

Highlight Of Hearing

The development was a highlight of the hearing, with the spotlight indirectly turned again on matchmaker Babe McCoy of the Oympic.

Chief of Police William H. Parker of Los Angeles told of a time in 1950 when ex-convict Mickey Cohen figured in what appeared to be a kidnaping of a bookmaker who flew to Las Vegas, Nev., when he got in financial straits. Cohen's lieutenants escorted the bookie back to Los Angeles and Parker said they went immediately to McCoy's hotel.

Later the group joined Cohen downtown and Parker said his officers stopped their car to question them. The chief said he then called the Olympic promoter, Cal Eaton, to caution him about McCoy's presence in such a set-up. Parker identified the bookmaker as Eddie Borden, operating at the time in suburban Burbank.

CHAVEZ SAYS HE TOOK DIVE — Carlo Chavez, nationally-known veteran boxer, testified before a California investigating committee at Los Angeles that he took a one-round dive in a fight there with Art Aragon in 1950. He said he was sick at the time from loss of blood from hemorrhoids and added "there was no use in getting hurt." He deniel, however, the fight had been fixed. (AP Photofax).

Shuffle League To End Season

Six Teams In Battle For 1st, 4th Places

A three-way tie for first place in the National Division and a three-way battle for the fourth place playoff spot in the American Division is the way things shape up as the regular season schedule of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League draws to a close tonight.

Green's Chevrolet, Purple Heart Club and Fisher & Robinette are the teams deadlocked for first place with 59-22 records.

Fisher & Robinette hosts Hann's Tavern, which trails the tied leaders with a 56-25 record. Green's Chevrolet visits the Cumberland Moose and the Purple Heart Club invades Mt. Savage to battle it out with the V.F.W. In other National tests, the Hi Dee Club entertains the Woodmen of the World and Golden Nugget is at the Frostburg K. of C.

Two games separate the three teams battling it out for fourth place in the American race. Goodfellowship is now 4th with 44-37, Fort Ashby Vets 5th with 43-38 and Clingerman's 6th with 42-39. Two of these teams, Clingerman's and Goodfellowship, shoot it out tonight on the latter's board while Fort Ashby visits Southern Bar. Frostburg Eagles at Cumberland Redmen, Stadium Inn at Cas Taylor's and Frostburg Legion at Cumberland K. of C. complete tonight's schedule.

Best-of-three games playoffs will decide all ties at the close of the regular season.

Plans for the league's Shaughnessy playoffs will be formulated at a meeting to be held Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Woodmen of the World Home.

Braves Slug Chisox, 7-4

Pierce Is Belted By Milwaukeeans

BRADENTON, Fla., March 28 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves unlimbered their big guns on Billy Pierce today for four runs in the first inning, then coasted to a 7-4 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Singles by Felix Mantilla, Ed Mathews and Joe Adcock, a double by Henry Aaron and a walk issued to Billy Bruton provided the Milwaukee runs off the American League's ace left hander.

Bob Buhl, who limited the White Sox to four hits in five innings, and Red Murff, who gave them four more the rest of the way in, both produced effective pitching for Milwaukee in the clutches.

Hogan To Play In International

Ben Also May Vie In British Open

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Ben Hogan, christened the "wee ice mon" by Carnoustie Scots when he won the British Open championship in 1953, will make another golf foray to the British Isles this summer.

The four-time United States champion from Fort Worth, Tex. will represent the United States in the international matches at Wentworth in Surrey, England, June 24-25-26, the International Golf Assn. announced today.

These will be the fourth annual matches of the association, founded by industrialist John Jay Hopkins in 1953 to promote international good will through golf.

Hopkins, in making the announcement, said Hogan was not ready to make a decision on the British Open at Liverpool July 2-6.

"I am pleased to accept Mr. Hopkins' invitation to play in the international matches," Hogan said, "but I am unable to commit myself on the British Open. However, I intend to practice at Wentworth a week before the event."

Hogan won the British Open in his first try at Carnoustie three years ago with a course record 282.

Hogan will play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga. next week and likely will try for his fifth National Open crown at Rochester, N. Y. in June.

Stengel Hints Other Managers Got His Number

Sees Boston, Chisox And A's Tough Foes

BY DON PARKER

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., March 28—(INS)—Casey Stengel is frankly concerned that no American League managers were fired at the end of the 1955 season.

"It's not that I like to see a guy lose his job," explained the Yankee manager, "But it sure will make it harder for me to bring home another pennant.

"The boys running the teams I'm most worried about have had a year to watch me, study my tactics, and I'm afraid they might be on to me this year."

"I don't think the pennant race will be among the teams as much as it will be among the managers," said Casey. He added:

Worried About Boston

"I'm worried about Boston. The White Sox and Kansas City could give plenty of trouble, too.

"You think I'm kidding about the athletics? Well, I'm not. Lou Boudreau's a smart manager. Wouldn't be surprised to see him finish in the first division this year. I know he gave me plenty of trouble last season."

Stengel feels Boston is the team to give him the most trouble during the coming campaign. He said:

"If they pick up a little lefthand pitching and solve their third base problem, they're going to be tough to beat."

Casey laughted a little when he discussed the Boston infield.

Has Seven Shortstops

"Here I got seven guys trying out for shortstop on my squad, and Pinky Higgins could use any one of them to help solve his third base troubles," he said.

But Boston would be better off hunting gold mines in the sky than looking to the American League champs for infield help.

Casey made it plain he wasn't worried about his team's performance. And he wasn't worried about the other seven teams in the league too much, either.

"It's those managers who were around last year," he sighed. . . . "Higgins, Marty Marion, Boudreau, Al Lopez. Maybe those guys have got my number and plan to beat me at my own game."

Terps Nine Scores First Win Over Dartmouth, 10-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 28 (AP)—Six-hit pitching by Stan Bobb combined with homers by Howie Dare and Steve Bolen brought Maryland a 10-1 victory over Dartmouth today as it dedicated its baseball field to its coach, Burt Shipley.

It was the first victory in three games for Maryland and 313th out of 537 games for Shipley in his 33 seasons as coach.

The only run Dartmouth could score off Bobb was unearned in the seventh and last inning. Frank Blatz singled, advanced on Andy McDonald's error, and scored on another single by John Otis.

Bobb, a right-handed junior from Washington, struck out six and walked three in his first start of the season.

Maryland clinched the game in the second inning with five runs. Dare, a football halfback from Baltimore, homered with the bases empty and Bolen followed suit with two on.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Four players were injured today as the Washington Senators topped the New York Yankees, 6-4, before a crowd of 2,089, smallest of the season here. The decision broke a Senators' losing streak of six games.

Mickey Mantle withdrew after pulling the hamstring muscle in his right leg while sliding into second base in the fourth inning and Billy Martin was taken out after having his right knee bruised by Ernie Oravetz's slide into second in the fifth.

The two injured Senators were leftfielder Pete Runnels, forced out after being hit on the right hand by Bob Turley's pitch in the sixth, and starting pitcher Hal Griggs, hit on the right ankle by Andy Carey's line drive in the fifth. Griggs was taken to a hospital.

Turley took his fourth straight shellacking, being mauled for eight hits and all six runs in six innings. He now has given up 29 hits and 14 runs in 20 innings and shows 10 strike outs against 12 walks.

Morgan Upsets Ludwig Lightburn

CLEVELAND, March 28 (AP)—Unranked L. C. Morgan of Youngstown floored Ludwig Lightburn with a hard right cross in the first round and went on to win an upset and unanimous decision over the British Honduras fighter in a lively 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena tonight.

At 136 outweighed by a pound, Morgan made his powerful right a threat throughout the almost clinch-free battle.

In the ninth Lightburn landed a clean right-cross that dropped the Ohioan, but Morgan came up and drove across the ring uncorking a strong offensive flurry.

The victory for Morgan avenged his loss of a split decision to Lightburn here last September.

Tonight judges Herb Williams and Charlie Bill each scored it 94-93 for Morgan, and referee Tony LaBranche made the margin even wider at 97-88 in favor of Morgan. The AP scored it 97-92 for Morgan.

Horse Trainer To Get Hearing

McGee In Charge Of Animal Found Doped

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission will hold a hearing tomorrow for Jimmy McGee who is held responsible as trainer of a horse found doped after winning at Bowie.

McGee already has been suspended by the stewards for the Bowie meeting which ends April 17. The commission is to decide if the veteran trainer's ban should be longer.

The commission, in 1945 suspended McGee for one year in a similar case.

Morning After, a horse trained by McGee for Gough W. Thompson of Pikesville, Md., won the sixth race at Bowie March 16. The stewards announced four days later that urine tests showed "a drug of the nature of caffeine."

The $4,000 purse was redistributed among the next three horses.

Maryland racing rules require redistribution of purses in such cases, but no change in original payoffs to the bettors. It also holds the trainer of a doped horse automatically responsible.

Besides Thompson, McGee was training horses at Bowie for Larry MacPhail, the former baseball magnate. McGee lives at Holmdel, N. J., where he has a breeding and training farm.

Legion, Clingerman's Advance To Women's Shuffle Loop Finals

Clingerman's league leaders and the Frostburg American Legion shufflers advanced to the finals in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League last night by sweeping their semi-final matches with Woodmen of the World and Green's Chevrolet teams.

Veteran Boxer Carlo Chavez Admits He Took Dive In Bout

Tells Probers He Was Ill In Aragon Match

Win Aroused Some Suspicion In 1950; Had Won Previously

LOS ANGELES, March 28 (AP)—Veteran Boxer Carlo Chavez of Los Angeles, in another sensational disclosure before the governor's committee probing the fight game in California, admitted today that he took a one-round dive in a fight here with Art Aragon in 1950.

Under questioning by the committee investigator T. E. Billings, the nationally known lightweight boxer testified:

"I knew I was going in and getting out."

Chavez pleaded that he was sick at the time from loss of blood from hemorrhoids.

"No Use Getting Hurt"

"You knew before that fight that you were going down?" demanded Billings.

"There was no use in getting hurt," Chavez replied.

The match, held at the Olympic auditorium in November 1950, aroused suspicion at the time because in June of the same year Chavez had convincingly whipped Aragon by a decision in 10 rounds.

Grilled further by chief investigator James J. Cox, Chavez said that it was eight months after the Aragon fiasco that he underwent an operation for the condition.

There was no indication Aragon was involved. Chavez, queried further, admitted that long after the fight he and the local golden boy got into a discussion at a local cafe.

"I told the bum he could never knock me out in his best day if I was well," Chavez said.

It was brought out he told no one about his supposed condition and passed the various physician examinations before each of his fights that year, as well as more thorough one when his license was renewed.

Highlight Of Hearing

The development was a highlight of the hearing, with the spotlight indirectly turned again on matchmaker Babe McCoy of the Oympic.

Chief of Police William H. Parker of Los Angeles told of a time in 1950 when ex-convict Mickey Cohen figured in what appeared to be a kidnaping of a bookmaker who flew to Las Vegas, Nev., when he got in financial straits. Cohen's lieutenants escorted the bookie back to Los Angeles and Parker said they went immediately to McCoy's hotel.

Later the group joined Cohen downtown and Parker said his officers stopped their car to question them. The chief said he then called the Olympic promoter, Cal Eaton, to caution him about McCoy's presence in such a set-up. Parker identified the bookmaker as Eddie Borden, operating at the time in suburban Burbank.

CHAVEZ SAYS HE TOOK DIVE — Carlo Chavez, nationally-known veteran boxer, testified before a California investigating committee at Los Angeles that he took a one-round dive in a fight there with Art Aragon in 1950. He said he was sick at the time from loss of blood from hemorrhoids and added "there was no use in getting hurt." He deniel, however, the fight had been fixed. (AP Photofax).

Morgan Upsets Ludwig Lightburn

CLEVELAND, March 28 (AP)—Unranked L. C. Morgan of Youngstown floored Ludwig Lightburn with a hard right cross in the first round and went on to win an upset and unanimous decision over the British Honduras fighter in a lively 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena tonight.

At 136 outweighed by a pound, Morgan made his powerful right a threat throughout the almost clinch-free battle.

In the ninth Lightburn landed a clean right-cross that dropped the Ohioan, but Morgan came up and drove across the ring uncorking a strong offensive flurry.

The victory for Morgan avenged his loss of a split decision to Lightburn here last September.

Tonight judges Herb Williams and Charlie Bill each scored it 94-93 for Morgan, and referee Tony LaBranche made the margin even wider at 97-88 in favor of Morgan. The AP scored it 97-92 for Morgan.

Horse Trainer To Get Hearing

McGee In Charge Of Animal Found Doped

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission will hold a hearing tomorrow for Jimmy McGee who is held responsible as trainer of a horse found doped after winning at Bowie.

McGee already has been suspended by the stewards for the Bowie meeting which ends April 17. The commission is to decide if the veteran trainer's ban should be longer.

The commission, in 1945 suspended McGee for one year in a similar case.

Morning After, a horse trained by McGee for Gough W. Thompson of Pikesville, Md., won the sixth race at Bowie March 16. The stewards announced four days later that urine tests showed "a drug of the nature of caffeine."

The $4,000 purse was redistributed among the next three horses.

Maryland racing rules require redistribution of purses in such cases, but no change in original payoffs to the bettors. It also holds the trainer of a doped horse automatically responsible.

Besides Thompson, McGee was training horses at Bowie for Larry MacPhail, the former baseball magnate. McGee lives at Holmdel, N. J., where he has a breeding and training farm.

Hogan To Play In International

Ben Also May Vie In British Open

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Ben Hogan, christened the "wee ice mon" by Carnoustie Scots when he won the British Open championship in 1953, will make another golf foray to the British Isles this summer.

The four-time United States champion from Fort Worth, Tex. will represent the United States in the international matches at Wentworth in Surrey, England, June 24-25-26, the International Golf Assn. announced today.

These will be the fourth annual matches of the association, founded by industrialist John Jay Hopkins in 1953 to promote international good will through golf.

Hopkins, in making the announcement, said Hogan was not ready to make a decision on the British Open at Liverpool July 2-6.

"I am pleased to accept Mr. Hopkins' invitation to play in the international matches," Hogan said, "but I am unable to commit myself on the British Open. However, I intend to practice at Wentworth a week before the event."

Hogan won the British Open in his first try at Carnoustie three years ago with a course record 282.

Hogan will play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga. next week and likely will try for his fifth National Open crown at Rochester, N. Y. in June.

Stengel Hints Other Managers Got His Number

Sees Boston, Chisox And A's Tough Foes

BY DON PARKER

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., March 28—(INS)—Casey Stengel is frankly concerned that no American League managers were fired at the end of the 1955 season.

"It's not that I like to see a guy lose his job," explained the Yankee manager, "But it sure will make it harder for me to bring home another pennant.

"The boys running the teams I'm most worried about have had a year to watch me, study my tactics, and I'm afraid they might be on to me this year."

"I don't think the pennant race will be among the teams as much as it will be among the managers," said Casey. He added:

Worried About Boston

"I'm worried about Boston. The White Sox and Kansas City could give plenty of trouble, too.

"You think I'm kidding about the athletics? Well, I'm not. Lou Boudreau's a smart manager. Wouldn't be surprised to see him finish in the first division this year. I know he gave me plenty of trouble last season."

Stengel feels Boston is the team to give him the most trouble during the coming campaign. He said:

"If they pick up a little lefthand pitching and solve their third base problem, they're going to be tough to beat."

Casey laughted a little when he discussed the Boston infield.

Has Seven Shortstops

"Here I got seven guys trying out for shortstop on my squad, and Pinky Higgins could use any one of them to help solve his third base troubles," he said.

But Boston would be better off hunting gold mines in the sky than looking to the American League champs for infield help.

Casey made it plain he wasn't worried about his team's performance. And he wasn't worried about the other seven teams in the league too much, either.

"It's those managers who were around last year," he sighed. . . . "Higgins, Marty Marion, Boudreau, Al Lopez. Maybe those guys have got my number and plan to beat me at my own game."

Terps Nine Scores First Win Over Dartmouth, 10-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 28 (AP)—Six-hit pitching by Stan Bobb combined with homers by Howie Dare and Steve Bolen brought Maryland a 10-1 victory over Dartmouth today as it dedicated its baseball field to its coach, Burt Shipley.

It was the first victory in three games for Maryland and 313th out of 537 games for Shipley in his 33 seasons as coach.

The only run Dartmouth could score off Bobb was unearned in the seventh and last inning. Frank Blatz singled, advanced on Andy McDonald's error, and scored on another single by John Otis.

Bobb, a right-handed junior from Washington, struck out six and walked three in his first start of the season.

Maryland clinched the game in the second inning with five runs. Dare, a football halfback from Baltimore, homered with the bases empty and Bolen followed suit with two on.

Four Players Hurt As Nats Down Yankees

Washington Scores Over Turley, 6-4

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Four players were injured today as the Washington Senators topped the New York Yankees, 6-4, before a crowd of 2,089, smallest of the season here. The decision broke a Senators' losing streak of six games.

Mickey Mantle withdrew after pulling the hamstring muscle in his right leg while sliding into second base in the fourth inning and Billy Martin was taken out after having his right knee bruised by Ernie Oravetz's slide into second in the fifth.

The two injured Senators were leftfielder Pete Runnels, forced out after being hit on the right hand by Bob Turley's pitch in the sixth, and starting pitcher Hal Griggs, hit on the right ankle by Andy Carey's line drive in the fifth. Griggs was taken to a hospital.

Turley took his fourth straight shellacking, being mauled for eight hits and all six runs in six innings. He now has given up 29 hits and 14 runs in 20 innings and shows 10 strike outs against 12 walks.

Gemerald Scores At Gulfstream, Favorite Loses

Dale's Delight Beaten For The First Time

MIAMI, Fla., March 28 (AP) — Gemerald scored a frontrunning victory in the $13,200 Singing Tower Stakes as Dale's Delight, a previous unbeaten filly which was installed a 2 to 5 favorite, shocked the Gulfstream Park crowd by finishing fourth today.

Walt Blum hustled Gemerald, owned by Mrs. J. M. Vondra, to the lead at the start and the two-year old daughter of Royal Gem 2nd and Patent never was threatened while winning by one length.

Sahara Ranch's Little One S., which chased Gemerald throughout, took place by one length over A. & M. Stable's Rattan Queen. The latter was third most of the way and bested Dale's Delight, owned by M. A. Moss and T. D. Nolan, by three quarters of a length.

Gemerald was timed in :33 2/5 and rewarded her supporters with a $10.40 mutuel in the role of second choice.

Dale's Delight had chalked up three victories prior to the Singing Tower. She had no apparent mishap except swerving somewhat coming out of the starting gate. However, this action was not enough to afford an alibi as she settled down quickly and simply could not keep pace.

Gemerald earned $8,475 for Mrs. Vondra, daughter of Eugene Mori who is president of Hialeah, Garden State and Tanforan race tracks. The promising filly had won two of three previous starts but was posting her first stakes success.

European Athletes To Take North Pole Route To Olympics

LONDON, March 28 (AP)—Several European countries, particularly the Scandinavians, plan to take the North Pole route to the 1956 Olympics at the bottom of the world in Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 27-Dec. 8.

These athletes will converge at Bode, Norway, several days in advance of the games. They will land at Fairbanks, Alaska, and then proceed to Honolulu with possible stops in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The U.S. Amateur Athletic Union is reported contacting several contingents for appearances in America before proceeding to Australia.

Twenty-two European countries plan to send a total of 1,590 competitors to the Melbourne games, according to an Associated Press survey.

Russia leads the list with 400, competing in all events. France has tentative plans for 140. Britain is sending 120, Italy and Germany 100 each.

Brenner Files Bout Applications

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Teddy Brenner today filed applications to promote Monday night television bouts with the State Athletic Cmmission.

Brenner, who said he is the "whole works" of his newly formed New York Boxing Club Inc., asked for a promoter's license for the club and a matchmaking permit for himself.

"The applications are being processed," said Julius Helfand, chakrman of the commission.

Helfand didn't say how long it would take but he is expected to act speedily.

McCarthy Replaces Holup On Squad

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Jack McCarthy of Canisius, replacement for George Washington's Joe Holup on the college Olympic basketball squad, also was picked today to replace Holup on the East team for the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund East-West game at Madison Square Garden Saturday.

Holup became ineligible when he revealed yesterday that he would turn professional to tour with an all-star team playing against the Harlem Globetrotters. McCarthy, a standout player in the NCAA Eastern Regional Tournament, was picked by the college committee.

Priest Helped Score

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Herb Score, brilliant southpaw ace of the Cleveland Indians, credits Rev. Thomas Kelly of Valley Stream, N. Y., as the person who did the most to help him become a pitcher.

"Father Kelly gave me the pitching fundamentals," says Score. "He also coached Tom Gorman, who is now with Kansas City."

When Score made his debut in Detroit last year, Rev. Kelly flew out to watch the game.

Lane Changes Mind

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Frank Lane says "I often said I didn't like a pitcher as a manager, but after watching Fred Hutchinson for 2½ years as Detroit manager I changed my mind." Lane picked Hutchinson to lead the Red Birds back into the first division of the National League.

Trainer Jacobs Gets His Ninth Bowie Victory

Will Of Allah Cops Frederick Purse

BOWIE, MD., MARCH 28—(AP)—Will of Allah, a nominee for the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, gained an impressive length victory today in the $4,000 Frederick Purse, giving his trainer, Hirsch Jacobs, his ninth win of the 17-day-old Bowie meeting.

The crowd of 10,331 fans backed Mrs. E. E. Bankhead's Mighty Modest into a 4-5 favoritism in the seven-furlong feature but the undefeated colt who was striving for his third straight score flattened out through the stretch after setting the early pace.

There was a claim of foul against the $6.20 for $2 winer by Charles McKee, rider of Viscount, the runner-up. However, it was not allowed.

Tony DeSpirito had been scheduled to ride Will of Allah but cancelled all his mounts after the first race because of a slight attack of pleurisy. The program marked the first time since March 14 that DeSpirito had failed to win a race here. He is the leading rider with 29 victories to his credit.

Nick Shuk substituted for DeSpirito and brought the Isadore Bieber colt from last place in the sprint, getting the distance in 1.24 4/5 over a fast track.

Viscount took second money by three lengths over Frosty Mr.

The daily double, smallest of the meeting, paid $22.60 with Shore Line and Caddy's Pat (Nos. 7 and 7) taking the first and second races, respectively.

The Spanish Main of pirate legend was the mainland bordering the Caribbean Sea.

Nashua May Run At Bowie

Entry In Campbell Depends On Weights

BOWIE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons advised Bowie officials today he will ship Nashua from New York next Thursday for the $100,000 added Campbell Memorial Handicap on April 7 if he isn't assigned too much weight.

This was interpreted to mean at Bowie that the trainer will balk at more than 130 pounds for the 4-year-old aiming to become the leading money winner of all time.

Nashua carried 129 pounds March 17 when he finished fifth in the Gulfstream Park Handicap. That race was a mile and a quarter. The Campbell will be a mile and sixteenth.

Weights for the Campbell normally would be announced Monday, but may be disclosed sooner.

Already working out for the Campbell at Bowie are Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Social Outcast and Find, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman, and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Joe Jones. Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action is due tomorrow and Hilton A. Dabson's Nance's Lad is coming Monday.

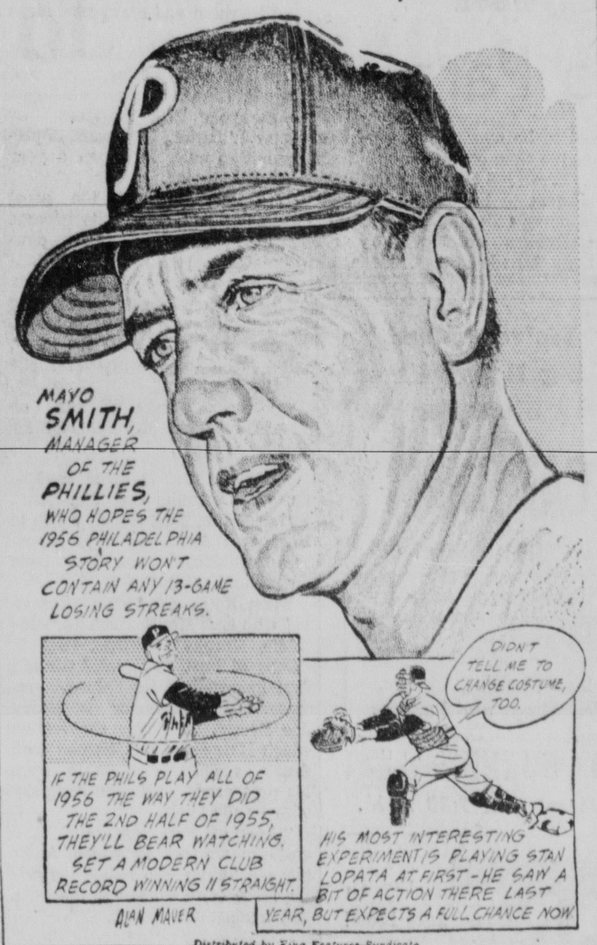

Georges Carpentier Wed On Feb. 23

PARIS, March 28 (AP)—Former world light heavyweight champion Georges Carpentier, who fought Jack Dempsey in the first million dollar gate, announced today he was married last month.

Carpentier, 62, still trim and fit, took as his bride fashion mannequin Brigette Massis, a pretty blonde about half his age.

The marriage was performed in Paris Feb. 23.

Willey Is Signed

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—Norman (Wild Man) Willey, rugged defensive end, has returned his signed 1956 contract to the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League. Willey, former Marshall College star who came to the pros in 1950, has played in the last three all-pro bowl games.

Lincoln Downs Races Resume

Snow Caused 11 Day Shutdown For Track

LINCOLN, R. I., March 28 (AP)—O. L. Foster's Bossy Mary today won the $10,000 Bill McAuley handicap as racing resumed at Lincoln Downs after an 11-day shutdown because of snow.

The 3-year-old Bossuet filly, making her first start in a year, scored by two lengths over the K Stable's Hasty Royal. Her time for seven furlongs on the off track was 1:31 4/5.

Bossy Mary paid $18.20, $7.80 and $5. Hasty Royal paid $7.20 and $4.20, finishing five lengths in front of Peter Fuller's Mr. Redbird, which paid $8 to show.

The favorite of the crowd of 9,308, H. E. Lewis' Loose Lip, finished last in the field of eight. Next to last was the second choice, Peter Vischer's Arch Rival.

After some dueling in the run out of the starting gate, Bossy Mary displaced Arch Rival for the lead and sped away to a wide margin. Dan Rotella's Carolyn L. Ran third and Loose Lip was fourth until they reached the far turn, where Hasty Royal started to move.

Gemerald Scores At Gulfstream, Favorite Loses

Dale's Delight Beaten For The First Time

MIAMI, Fla., March 28 (AP) — Gemerald scored a frontrunning victory in the $13,200 Singing Tower Stakes as Dale's Delight, a previous unbeaten filly which was installed a 2 to 5 favorite, shocked the Gulfstream Park crowd by finishing fourth today.

Walt Blum hustled Gemerald, owned by Mrs. J. M. Vondra, to the lead at the start and the two-year old daughter of Royal Gem 2nd and Patent never was threatened while winning by one length.

Sahara Ranch's Little One S., which chased Gemerald throughout, took place by one length over A. & M. Stable's Rattan Queen. The latter was third most of the way and bested Dale's Delight, owned by M. A. Moss and T. D. Nolan, by three quarters of a length.

Gemerald was timed in :33 2/5 and rewarded her supporters with a $10.40 mutuel in the role of second choice.

Dale's Delight had chalked up three victories prior to the Singing Tower. She had no apparent mishap except swerving somewhat coming out of the starting gate. However, this action was not enough to afford an alibi as she settled down quickly and simply could not keep pace.

Gemerald earned $8,475 for Mrs. Vondra, daughter of Eugene Mori who is president of Hialeah, Garden State and Tanforan race tracks. The promising filly had won two of three previous starts but was posting her first stakes success.

European Athletes To Take North Pole Route To Olympics

LONDON, March 28 (AP)—Several European countries, particularly the Scandinavians, plan to take the North Pole route to the 1956 Olympics at the bottom of the world in Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 27-Dec. 8.

These athletes will converge at Bode, Norway, several days in advance of the games. They will land at Fairbanks, Alaska, and then proceed to Honolulu with possible stops in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The U.S. Amateur Athletic Union is reported contacting several contingents for appearances in America before proceeding to Australia.

Twenty-two European countries plan to send a total of 1,590 competitors to the Melbourne games, according to an Associated Press survey.

Russia leads the list with 400, competing in all events. France has tentative plans for 140. Britain is sending 120, Italy and Germany 100 each.

Brenner Files Bout Applications

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Teddy Brenner today filed applications to promote Monday night television bouts with the State Athletic Commission.

Brenner, who said he is the "whole works" of his newly formed New York Boxing Club Inc., asked for a promoter's license for the club and a match-making permit for himself.

"The applications are being processed," said Julius Helfand, chakrman of the commission.

Helfand didn't say how long it would take but he is expected to act speedily.

McCarthy Replaces Holup On Squad

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Jack McCarthy of Canisius, replacement for George Washington's Joe Holup on the college Olympic basketball squad, also was picked today to replace Holup on the East team for the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund East-West game at Madison Square Garden Saturday.

Holup became ineligible when he revealed yesterday that he would turn professional to tour with an all-star team playing against the Harlem Globetrotters. McCarthy, a standout player in the NCAA Eastern Regional Tournament, was picked by the college committee.

Priest Helped Score

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Herb Score, brilliant southpaw ace of the Cleveland Indians, credits Rev. Thomas Kelly of Valley Stream, N. Y., as the person who did the most to help him become a pitcher.

"Father Kelly gave me the pitching fundamentals," says Score. "He also coached Tom Gorman, who is now with Kansas City."

When Score made his debut in Detroit last year, Rev. Kelly flew out to watch the game.

Lane Changes Mind

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Frank Lane says "I often said I didn't like a pitcher as a manager, but after watching Fred Hutchinson for 2½ years as Detroit manager I changed my mind." Lane picked Hutchinson to lead the Red Birds back into the first division of the National League.

Trainer Jacobs Gets His Ninth Bowie Victory

Will Of Allah Cops Frederick Purse

BOWIE, MD., MARCH 28—(AP)—Will of Allah, a nominee for the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, gained an impressive length victory today in the $4,000 Frederick Purse, giving his trainer, Hirsch Jacobs, his ninth win of the 17-day-old Bowie meeting.

The crowd of 10,331 fans backed Mrs. E. E. Bankhead's Mighty Modest into a 4-5 favoritism in the seven-furlong feature but the undefeated colt who was striving for his third straight score flattened out through the stretch after setting the early pace.

There was a claim of foul against the $6.20 for $2 winer by Charles McKee, rider of Viscount, the runner-up. However, it was not allowed.

Tony DeSpirito had been scheduled to ride Will of Allah but cancelled all his mounts after the first race because of a slight attack of pleurisy. The program marked the first time since March 14 that DeSpirito had failed to win a race here. He is the leading rider with 29 victories to his credit.

Nick Shuk substituted for DeSpirito and brought the Isadore Bieber colt from last place in the sprint, getting the distance in 1.24 4/5 over a fast track.

Viscount took second money by three lengths over Frosty Mr.

The daily double, smallest of the meeting, paid $22.60 with Shore Line and Caddy's Pat (Nos. 7 and 7) taking the first and second races, respectively.

The Spanish Main of pirate legend was the mainland bordering the Caribbean Sea.

Nashua May Run At Bowie

Entry In Campbell Depends On Weights

BOWIE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons advised Bowie officials today he will ship Nashua from New York next Thursday for the $100,000 added Campbell Memorial Handicap on April 7 if he isn't assigned too much weight.

This was interpreted to mean at Bowie that the trainer will balk at more than 130 pounds for the 4-year-old aiming to become the leading money winner of all time.

Nashua carried 129 pounds March 17 when he finished fifth in the Gulfstream Park Handicap. That race was a mile and a quarter. The Campbell will be a mile and sixteenth.

Weights for the Campbell normally would be announced Monday, but may be disclosed sooner.

Georges Carpentier Wed On Feb. 23

PARIS, March 28 (AP)—Former world light heavyweight champion Georges Carpentier, who fought Jack Dempsey in the first million dollar gate, announced today he was married last month.

Carpentier, 62, still trim and fit, took as his bride fashion mannequin Brigette Massis, a pretty blonde about half his age.

The marriage was performed in Paris Feb. 23.

McKee Is Assigned

Willey Is Signed

PHILADELPHIA, March 28 (AP)—Norman (Wild Man) Willey, rugged defensive end, has returned his signed 1956 contract to the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League. Willey, former Marshall College star who came to the pros in 1950, has played in the last three all-pro bowl games.

Lincoln Downs Races Resume

Snow Caused 11 Day Shutdown For Track

LINCOLN, R. I., March 28 (AP)—O. L. Foster's Bossy Mary today won the $10,000 Bill McAuley handicap as racing resumed at Lincoln Downs after an 11-day shutdown because of snow.

The 3-year-old Bossuet filly, making her first start in a year, scored by two lengths over the K Stable's Hasty Royal. Her time for seven furlongs on the off track was 1:31 4/5.

Bossy Mary paid $18.20, $7.80 and $5. Hasty Royal paid $7.20 and $4.20, finishing five lengths in front of Peter Fuller's Mr. Redbird, which paid $8 to show.

The favorite of the crowd of 9,308, H. E. Lewis' Loose Lip, finished last in the field of eight. Next to last was the second choice, Peter Vischer's Arch Rival.

After some dueling in the run out of the starting gate, Bossy Mary displaced Arch Rival for the lead and sped away to a wide margin. Dan Rotella's Carolyn L. Ran third and Loose Lip was fourth until they reached the far turn, where Hasty Royal started to move.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 28 (INS)—The life of Sigmund Freud, the father of psychiatry, will be put on the screen by John Huston. In conjunction with Charles Kaufman, who will write the script, John will produce the story of Freud, who lived to be over 80 years of age.

At the time of the Second World War Freud left his native Germany and went to England to live. He had many followers and students. His theories on psychiatry are largely based on sex. Since his death there have been many other books written and many new ideas advanced.

Just before Walter Wanger suffered his heart attack he and Eugene Frenke acquired the rights to the play "The Empress," by Henry J. Taylor. They want to produce it in color in Japan a year from this spring.

The story is about the great Mongolian concubine who became ruler of China — Tzu-Hsi, dowager empress of China.

Frenke and his wife, Anna Sten, know Garbo well, and he's hoping he can get her. Anyway, he knows he can get her to read the story, but I doubt if she will ever make another picture.

Currently, Frenke is busy on "Heaven Knows Mr. Allison" for Buddy Adler.

Kathryn Grant is being kept so busy at Columbia that there isn't a chance that Bing Crosby's trip to Europe in April will be a honeymoon with Kathy, as has been hinted and printed.

When Kathy completes "Reprisal" with Guy Madison she becomes Audie Murphy's leading lady in "Guns of Fort Petticoat," Audie's first independent for Columbia release. His co-producer is Harry Joe Brown. This new corporation which Harry Joe has formed with Audie is entirely separate from his prosperous producing company with Randy Scott.

"Guns of Fort Petticoat" is a costume western in which Audie plays a Texan who builds a fighting force of 20 women to defend a fort against the Injuns.

There isn't a chance that "Tammy Out of Time," the Debbie Reynolds picture at Universal-International, can start before May 15. Today Jacques Sernas was tested for the leading man.

Debbie can do this even though she expects a baby because there is no dancing, but the Eddie Grainger picture, "Bundle of Joy," is another thing. RKO wants to start this June 11, but Debbie won't be through at U-I, and I doubt very much if she would want to do the strenuous dances any later. So I guess RKO will just have to wait for Debbie and Eddie Fisher until after the arrival of the heir apparent.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Eva Marie Saint will occupy the dressing room at MGM where once another blonde favorite, Jean Harlow, reigned as queen.

"Raintree County," Eva Marie's picture, starts Monday, and star Elizabeth Taylor has taken off ten pounds and she'll drop another five. She just doesn't eat.

My old friend, Harry Pilcer, sends me postcards from Monaco with a smiling picture of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier III. Harry is staying in Cannes.

Janie Withers, back home after touring with her bridegroom Ken Errair for three weeks in the east.

For the second time the stork has interfered with RKO plans. Jean Simmons had to bow out of "Stage Door," and now probably Debbie Reynolds in "Bundle of Joy."

Beauty and glamor all over the Mocambo. Anita Ekberg with her fiance, good looking Anthony Steel, and Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas at the next table.

At the Eldorado, Ida Lupino was having luncheon with her director. Tomorrow night is Ida's night at the Masquers and everyone's happy for her. She's a great girl. I'd like so much to accept the Masquers invitation to be with her but the bus that wrecked my car almost wrecked me.

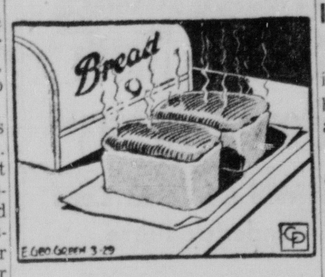

Maureen O'Sullivan, mother of seven, and one of the best mothers anywhere, plays an old maid on the "Star Stage" TV show out of New York tomorrow night.

Clark Gable, at the Tennis Club in Palm Springs, said that his western has been changed to "A King and Four Queens." Much better title than "Last Man on Wagon Mound," its original moniker.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Contract Bridge — by Culbertson

A SHREWD DOUBLE

AT DUPLICATE bridge, especially, players can't always wait for so-called "sound" penalty doubles—they must risk a double even without any strength in the trump suit. Note South's unorthodox but shrewd double of a less-than-game contract in the following case.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ A K J 8 4 ♥ 8 7 5 ♦ K 6 ♣ 8 6 3
♠ Q 10 9 5 2 ♥ A J 9 ♦ 10 7 ♣ 10 9 7	N W E S	♠ 6 3 ♥ K Q 10 4 2 ♦ 8 5 4 ♣ A J 5
	♠ 7 ♥ 6 3 ♦ A Q J 9 3 2 ♣ K Q 4 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♦	3 ♥
Pass	Pass	Dble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

Comparatively few players, expert or average, would follow South's example and double three hearts in this sequence, but there was a great deal to be said for that action. First and foremost, this was match-point duplicate, in which penalty doubles should be considerably closer than at rubber bridge. At the latter game, the double of part-score contracts must be highly conservative, but at match-points a double is in order whenever the player feels even fairly sure of defeating the contract and can see no greater profit from going on with his own bidding.

True, South had the values for a diamond rebid, but what could he expect from that action? North had already announced, via his pass over three hearts, that he had no free rebid, hence it was odds-on that he would pass to four diamonds. South could not bid five by himself, nor be reasonably sure of making any game. Thus, the most he could expect from offensive bidding was about 130 points. If the opponents could be defeated only one trick, this 130 points would be superior, but was a one-trick defeat the reasonable expectation? South's singleton spade was a far better defensive feature than it would be if he were to play the hand.

The double worked out excellently, North-South collecting six tricks, for a 300-point penalty.

Reach To New Heights

It isn't merely the actual inches they measure that makes models look tall. Some of them fool the eye—they seem to look down from a queenly height when they fall far short of it—because they carry themselves with such assurance and authority.

Every model learns early in her career to stand tall, no matter what her height. And so can you. And if you really could use an extra inch of so, the standing tall will make you a present of it. Hard to believe? Just mark the wall level with your head right now and check it again a month hence, after you've made a daily habit of this routine:

First, loosen the tight spots in your spine. Stand on tiptoe with your feet together and raise both arms high over your head. Beginning at the the base of your spine, start to stretch. Pull your waist out of your hips, your neck out of your shoulders, your hands out of your wrists. Reach for the ceiling. Then, slowly walk around the room this way for a count of ten.

Now, very slowly, allow your arms and feet to return to normal standing position. But don't lose that stretch in your spine! Do this exercise ten times or more during each day at intervals. Between times, hold your back and head as erect as possible.

Next, follow this procedure for a swan-like neck. Lie on your back on the floor. Keep one leg out straight. Bend the other so your knee touches your chest. Clasp your hands lightly around the bent knee. Raise your head and stretch it toward that knee. Keep your shoulders flat on the floor and don't cheat by pulling your knee toward your head. At the same time, try to stretch the leg that is on the floor. Hold for a count of five. Repeat with the opposite leg. Start with five times for each leg and work up to fifteen times per leg.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up? send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow—What do you really look like?

A SHREWD DOUBLE

AT DUPLICATE bridge, especially, players can't always wait for so-called "sound" penalty doubles—they must risk a double even without any strength in the trump suit. Note South's unorthodox but shrewd double of a less-than-game contract in the following case.

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ A K J 8 4 ♥ 8 7 5 ♦ K 6 ♣ 8 6 3
♠ Q 10 9 5 2 ♥ A J 9 ♦ 10 7 ♣ 10 9 7	N W E S	♠ 6 3 ♥ K Q 10 4 2 ♦ 8 5 4 ♣ A J 5
	♠ 7 ♥ 6 3 ♦ A Q J 9 3 2 ♣ K Q 4 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♦	3 ♥
Pass	Pass	Dble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

Comparatively few players, expert or average, would follow South's example and double three hearts in this sequence, but there was a great deal to be said for that action. First and foremost, this was match-point duplicate, in which penalty doubles should be considerably closer than at rubber bridge. At the latter game, the double of part-score contracts must be highly conservative, but at match-points a double is in order whenever the player feels even fairly sure of defeating the contract and can see no greater profit from going on with his own bidding.

True, South had the values for a diamond rebid, but what could he expect from that action? North had already announced, via his pass over three hearts, that he had no free rebid, hence it was odds-on that he would pass to four diamonds. South could not bid five by himself, nor be reasonably sure of making any game. Thus, the most he could expect from offensive bidding was about 130 points. If the opponents could be defeated only one trick, this 130 points would be superior, but was a one-trick defeat the reasonable expectation? South's singleton spade was a far better defensive feature than it would be if he were to play the hand.

The double worked out excellently, North-South collecting six tricks, for a 300-point penalty.

Secrets Of Charm

Reach To New Heights

It isn't merely the actual inches they measure that makes models look tall. Some of them fool the eye—they seem to look down from a queenly height when they fall far short of it—because they carry themselves with such assurance and authority.

Every model learns early in her career to stand tall, no matter what her height. And so can you. And if you really could use an extra inch of so, the standing tall will make you a present of it. Hard to believe? Just mark the wall level with your head right now and check it again a month hence, after you've made a daily habit of this routine:

First, loosen the tight spots in your spine. Stand on tiptoe with your feet together and raise both arms high over your head. Beginning at the the base of your spine, start to stretch. Pull your waist out of your hips, your neck out of your shoulders, your hands out of your wrists. Reach for the ceiling. Then, slowly walk around the room this way for a count of ten.

Now, very slowly, allow your arms and feet to return to normal standing position. But don't lose that stretch in your spine! Do this exercise ten times or more during each day at intervals. Between times, hold your back and head as erect as possible.

Next, follow this procedure for a swan-like neck. Lie on your back on the floor. Keep one leg out straight. Bend the other so your knee touches your chest. Clasp your hands lightly around the bent knee. Raise your head and stretch it toward that knee. Keep your shoulders flat on the floor and don't cheat by pulling your knee toward your head. At the same time, try to stretch the leg that is on the floor. Hold for a count of five. Repeat with the opposite leg. Start with five times for each leg and work up to fifteen times per leg.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up? send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow—What do you really look like?

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our kind friends, neighbors, pallbearers and those who so kindly provided cars, for their many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy and condolence, for their beautiful floral offerings, and those who in any manner assisted us at the loss of our beloved husband and father, Alvin R. Bowser.

We are taking this means to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and bereavement of Earl M. Umstot of 6 Green Street, Piedmont, W. Va. We also wish to thank those who sent floral offerings and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Mrs. Earl M. Umstot and Family.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary A. Koontz, who passed away ten years ago March 29, 1946.

Dear Mother you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

Sadly missed by Son and Daughter-in-law.
George & Mary Koontz.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father, and brother, Harlan B. Norris, who passed away one year ago today, March 29, 1955.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all,
A bitter grief, a shock severe.
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh God grant you eternal rest.

Sadly missed by
Wife, Zellene, son, daughters & sisters

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our kind friends, neighbors, pallbearers and those who so kindly provided cars, for their many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy and condolence, for their beautiful floral offerings, and those who in any manner assisted us at the loss of our beloved husband and father, Alvin R. Bowser.

We are taking this means to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to us during the illness and bereavement of Earl M. Umstot of 6 Green Street, Piedmont, W. Va. We also wish to thank those who sent floral offerings and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Mrs. Earl M. Umstot and Family.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary A. Koontz, who passed away ten years ago March 29, 1946.

Dear Mother you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

Sadly missed by Son and Daughter-in-law.
George & Mary Koontz.

In loving memory of our dear husband, father, and brother, Harlan B. Norris, who passed away one year ago today, March 29, 1955.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all,
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died,
To think you could not say good-bye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh God grant you eternal rest.

Sadly missed by
Wife, Zellene, son, daughters & sisters

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Methodist Ministers Hit Sunday Sports Car Races

Methodist ministers of the Cumberland Subdistrict of the Hagerstown District, holding their monthly meeting at LaVale Methodist Church Monday, voiced strong opposition to holding the Cumberland Sports Car Races on Sunday, according to Rev. Karl L. Crowe, secretary of the subdistrict.

Rev. Mr. Crowe said the sports car race event itself was not condemned, but rather the practice of holding it on Sunday.

The opposition, he added, was based on the belief that such an event could be held on some other day than Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Crowe said the group could do nothing which would tend to condone such an activity being held on Sunday. It is hoped, he declared, that something will be done about this sports event which will help people to observe that Sunday as a religious day rather than a holiday.

The ministers met for their annual communion service after the business session. The host pastor, Rev. W. W. Patterson, was in charge assisted by Dr. H. C. Marsh, Hagerstown District superintendent, and Rev. Paul R. O'Brien, of Ellerslie. The latter delivered the Communion meditation, bringing out the sensitivity, supplication and service of Christ.

After the service the group was served a luncheon by the women of the host church.

Ostentation Banned

ADEN, March 28 (AP)—The wearing of rich clothes, jewelry and wrist watches has been banned among the women of Seiyun, capital of the Kathiri sultanate in the eastern Aden protectorate. The newspaper Alfagr here reports the government made the decision because ostentation is offensive to religion and drives poor women into temptation.

Lots Of Substitutes

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — The About 7,500 of New York City's 35,000 teaching jobs are filled by substitute or emergency teachers. Charles H. Silver, president of the Board of Education, says no other school system in the country approaches this unfavorable ratio. He plans a study to "see what can be done."

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — first Exposition of Progress, a tribute to the importance of the Negro citizen in the United States, has opened in the Wanamaker Building. During its eight-day run 150 exhibitors will display nearly a million dollars worth of manufactured goods.

Methodist Ministers Hit Sunday Sports Car Races

Methodist ministers of the Cumberland Subdistrict of the Hagerstown District, holding their monthly meeting at LaVale Methodist Church Monday, voiced strong opposition to holding the Cumberland Sports Car Races on Sunday, according to Rev. Karl L. Crowe, secretary of the subdistrict.

Rev. Mr. Crowe said the sports car race event itself was not condemned, but rather the practice of holding it on Sunday.

The opposition, he added, was based on the belief that such an event could be held on some other day than Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Crowe said the group could do nothing which would tend to condone such an activity being held on Sunday. It is hoped, he declared, that something will be done about this sports event which will help people to observe that Sunday as a religious day rather than a holiday.

The ministers met for their annual communion service after the business session. The host pastor, Rev. W. W. Patterson, was in charge assisted by Dr. H. C. Marsh, Hagerstown District superintendent, and Rev. Paul R. O'Brien, of Ellerslie. The latter delivered the Communion meditation, bringing out the sensitivity, supplication and service of Christ.

After the service the group was served a luncheon by the women of the host church.

Ostentation Banned

ADEN, March 28 (AP)—The wearing of rich clothes, jewelry and wrist watches has been banned among the women of Seiyun, capital of the Kathiri sultanate in the eastern Aden protectorate. The newspaper Alfagr here reports the government made the decision because ostentation is offensive to religion and drives poor women into temptation.

Lots Of Substitutes

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — The About 7,500 of New York City's 35,000 teaching jobs are filled by substitute or emergency teachers. Charles H. Silver, president of the Board of Education, says no other school system in the country approaches this unfavorable ratio. He plans a study to "see what can be done."

Exposition Of Progress

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP) — first Exposition of Progress, a tribute to the importance of the Negro citizen in the United States, has opened in the Wanamaker Building. During its eight-day run 150 exhibitors will display nearly a million dollars worth of manufactured goods.

Area Will Get $800,000 From State Bond Bill

College, Toll House, Armory Funds Slated

The General Assembly's Capital Improvement Bill, signed this week by Governor McKeldin, authorizes the expenditure of some $800,000 for state projects in Western Maryland.

The measure, House Bill 2, sponsored by House Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr., will be financed by the sale of bonds.

State Senator Charles M. See pointed out yesterday the bill provides for the purchase of the Old Toll Gate House on Route 40 and that over half of the sum will go for additional facilities for Frostburg State Teachers College.

It contains a $10,000 item for the purchase of the Old Toll Gate House, located on Route 40 here, by the Board of Public Works.

Local Operation Sought

Senator See said he will ask that the historic Toll Gate House be turned over to the Allegany County Historical Society for operation.

An attempt last year by Allegany County legislators to secure the historic building failed when state groups said no funds were available for the purchase.

Sen. See said the property is owned by Robert W. Young, Cumberland realtor, who is anxious to see the house preserved for posterity.

A sum of $3,000 was included for the purchaseof land at the site of another historic landmark of the National Road.

To Be Park Area

The fund will be used to purchase land adjoining the old stone arch bridge over the Castleman River near Grantsville, for a roadside park.

Sen. See explained the Assembly in 1955 authorized $10,000 for repairs to the historic bridge in Garrett County, like the Toll Gate House, one of the last of its kind in the United States.

Maryland's share of the cost of a new Armory in Cumberland is also included. The bill contains an item for the expenditure of $200,000, if federal funds are made available to the Military Department for the construction of an armory in Cumberland.

College Buildings Set

For the completion of the LaVale barracks of the Maryland State Police, $44,340 is authorized for the construction of garages, pistol range, roadways and site improvement.

For Deep Creek Lake Park, the bill provides $15,000 for beach development and $7,000 for a water supply.

Frostburg State Teachers College will get $429,000, including $350,000 for a dining hall and student activities building, $72,000 for equipping the dining hall and student activities center and $7,000 for plans and specifications for a laboratory school building.

It provides $100,000 for two boys' forestry camps, and Sen. See said he understands the funds will be used for improving the camp now located in Green Ridge State Forest and for a second camp which may be established in Garrett County.

The bill authorized the creation of state debt totaling $8,550,167 for capital improvement throughout the state.

Firemen Check Three Calls

City firemen had three separate calls yesterday morning and during the afternoon, with West Side answering two of the alarms.

At 9:05 a. m. West Side went to 511 Avirett Avenue where brush was being burned on a vacant lot.

They were called out again at 7:07 p. m. when an auto owned by Robert Defibaugh was ablaze at 204 Spruce Alley. The inside of the vehicle was gutted by the flames, firemen said.

Children were reported playing in the car just before the fire started. The cause was unknown. In the other fire, East Side went to 615 Sylvan Avenue and checked a flue fire. The call was received at 4:44 p. m.

Library To Close On Good Friday

Tomorrow the Cumberland Free Public Library will be closed in observance of Good Friday and will reopen on Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Miss Mary Walsh, librarian, said yesterday that the branch libraries at John Humbird School and Pennsylvania Avenue School closed yesterday evening for the Easter recess and will reopen on Wednesday.

The Board of Education also began the annual Easter vacation with the close of business yesterday afternoon and will reopen on Wednesday.

Retired WM Employes Feted Here

Two employes of the Western Maryland Railway Company who have retired were guests of honor last night during a regular meeting of Miller-Dale Lodge, 1093, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which was held at the home of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

They are Samuel H. Rowe, of 26 Carpenter Avenue, Ridgeley, who completed 27 years service with the railroad, and Fred Turner, of Wiley Ford, who completed 25 years of service.

Both men who finished up their service in the Stores Department, each received a $25 Savings Bond, presented by Joseph F. Challinor, past president of the local Brotherhood Lodge.

Challinor also presented a past president's pin to Carl F. Cooke. Rowe, who was an oil house man just before his retirement, was a former brakeman and flagman for the Western Maryland from 1918 through 1925, and from 1906 to 1912 was employed as a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Turner was a crane operator for the Western Maryland prior to his retirement.

Refreshments were served and a program of entertainment was held, in charge of Challinor.

Tydings Declares He Would Back Aid To Veterans

CAMBRIDGE, March 28 (AP) — Millard E. Tydings said today he favors "every fair and just facility" for disabled veterans and improved pension rights for veterans reaching 65.

Touring Dorchester County in his campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination, Tydings said one of his principal interests is the welfare of veterans and their dependents.

"I think the time has now come when two things must be kept uppermost affecting veterans," Tydings said in a statement issued in Cambridge.

"First we must give every fair and just facility to the wounded and disabled veterans and their dependents.

"Two, as World War I veterans are now reaching the age of 65, they are entitled to the same pension rights as we have always given our veterans of all wars from the Revolutionary War down to the present.

"My buddies in World War I are in many cases arriving at the age of 65. These are facts, and if elected to the Senate this is my program for the veterans."

Tydings spent most of the day visiting stores, filling stations and other business places in Cambridge and the lower county. He said he planned another full day of campaigning before the May 7 primary to meet voters in the upper section of the county and again in Cambridge.

Both major Democratic factions in Dorchester, those headed by W. G. Winterbottom Jr. and C. Emerson Harrington Jr., have endorsed George P. Mahoney, Tydings' chief opponent.

Mahoney lost the county's five nominating convention votes in the 1954 primary for governor, when Dr. H. C. Byrd received 2,762 votes to his 2,347. Mahoney carried the county in the 1952 senate primary against Lansdale G. Sasscer, 2,251 to 2,165.

Tydings' Dorchester tour took him from Cambridge to Church Creek, to Hooper's Island and Wingate, then to Bishop's Head and Crocheron.

His day started with a good omen when the first person he buttonholed in the Cambridge Post Office glanced up, recognized him and said:

"Look Senator, there's five votes in my family—and you're going to get every one of them."

Tydings told everyone he met, "Primary day is May 7, and I'd sure appreciate it if you'd think of me when you vote."

On Hooper's Island, where Tydings found many of the oystermen ashore because of bad weather, Harry W. DeVoe, who described himself as a former "Winterbottom man," acted as escort.

Hospital attaches said today Mrs. Martin, who was taken to the institution by her husband, Nelson Martin, suffered burns over her entire body when her clothes caught fire in the kitchen of her mother's home.

Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. Pearl Lantz, suffered burns about the arms. The mother was preparing lunch when the stove exploded.

FCC Approves Sale Of WDYK To WTBO, WCUM

Change To Be Made Within 30 Days

The sale of Radio Station WDYK for $60,000 was authorized yesterday by the Federal Communications Commission.

The station is being sold by Richard A. Raese, Morgantown, to the Cumberland Valley Broadcasting Corporation, operator of Station WTBO, and the Karl Steinmann Enterprises of Baltimore, operator of Station WCUM.

Under the agreement, WTBO is cupplying $45,000 of the purchase price and will secure the physical assets of Station WDYK at Byrd Avenue, and Station WCUM will put up $15,000 and will take over the 1230 wave band now used by WDYK.

The change will become effective in about 30 days.

Under the agreement approved by the FCC, WTBO will continue to broadcast on its present wave band of 1450 kilocycles but will take over the physical assets of WDYK and move its quarters from the Commercial Bank Building to WDYK headquarters on Byrd Avenue.

WCUM will continue to use its studio on White Avenue off Williams Road, but will abandon its present 1490 kilocycle frequency and broadcast on the 1230 frequency now used by WDYK.

WCUM is expected to remain on the CBS network and WTBO on the NBC chain.

The sale will result in the elimination of one of Cumberland's three radio stations.

WTBO, the city's pioneer radio station, was established in 1928. It has been owned by various groups and is now headed by A. William German, of Cumberland.

WCUM was opened in 1948 and has always been under the control of the Steinmann firm.

WDYK began broadcasting in 1949, when it was established by Raese. It is expected to go off the air sometime within the next 30 days.

Close pointed out yesterday that the office will be open today and tomorrow from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon.

Tydings Man Puts Signs On Poles

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP) — Tydings-for-Senator campaign posters appeared today on poles throughout the city and were placed there, The Evening Sun said, by the driver of a city Bureau of Sewers truck which normally places warning lanterns at excavation sites.

The driver of the truck was observed and pictured by an Evening Sun photographer as he nailed signs to poles. The signs urge citizens to vote for Millard E. Tydings, a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The Evening Sun sent a photographer to get the picture which appeared in tonight's edition with the story after receiving word from the headquarters of George P. Mahoney, Tydings' principal rival, that the city truck was being used for such purposes.

The paper said the truck was assigned to Abe Handleman and had recently been transferred from the Bureau of Water Supply.

John J. Hunt, director of the Bureau of Sewers, said he would begin an investigation of the reports at once. He said such use of the truck was unauthorized.

It is against both city and State law to place posters on poles along the street. Less than a week ago, the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. sent letters to politicians asking them to keep signs off the utility poles because they endangered linemen.

A spokesman from Tydings campaugn headquarters blamed the sign postings on overzealous workers and said Tydings backers had been specifically told not to place posters on poles.

Mahoney Makes Surprise Visit To Frederick

FREDERICK, March 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney unexpectedly appeared here today in his campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination.

The veteran candidate toured Frederick County on one of his famous "shoe-leather" trips before winding up the day at Camp Kanawha, near Point of Rocks for a sportsmen's meeting.

The day originally had been set aside as an "open date" on Mahoney's calendar for conferences with campaign aides in Baltimore.

Frederick was one of the 17 counties where Mahoney originally had obtained endorsements from at least a majority of members on the Democratic County committee.

However, a switch by two members threw the committee balance in favor of Millard E. Tydings, Mahoney's chief opponent, by a 3-2 margin. Chairman Edwin F. Nikirk abstained.

While Mahoney was swinging through Frederick, his Baltimore headquarters announced the appointment of Henry J. Fowler of Mechanicsville as chairman of his campaign in St. Marys County.

A former member of the House of Delegates, Fowler is a farmer and an official in a firm which distributes bottled gas.

A headquarters spokesman said Fowler has been independent of any party faction in the county.

In his 1954 campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, Mahoney carried St. Marys over Dr. H. C. Byrd by 2,823 votes to 2,414. He lost the county's three votes in the nominating convention in 1952, when he drew 1,168, compared with 2,430 for Lansdale G. Sasscer.

In this campaign, Mahoney has been endorsed by Philip H. Dorsey, candidate for the attorney general nomination on Mahoney's 1954 ticket, and by John H. T. Briscoe, chairman of the Democratic county committee. Dorsey and Briscoe both are running for circuit judge.

Mahoney's fence-repairing tour of Frederick County was rather

Needles Will Click Soon

Mrs. Paul Hilaire, coordinator of the knitting project which began early this year for the Associated Charities, unwinds a skein of yarn held by Mrs. Henry Cook, as plans progress for making more garments for the needy of the city. The new supply of yarn will soon be placed in the hands of expert knitters by Mrs. Hilaire, who will assign the designs according to the need of the agency.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary, said the project, being coordinated by Mrs. Paul A. Hilaire, has already brought in 14 baby sets, 17 shawls for older women, nine men's sweaters and three caps.

All of the garments, she said, are beautifully made, attesting to the skill of the women who have been giving part of their spare time to provide the clothing needed by the Red Feather agency.

Many more garments will come from the supply of yarn secured by the agency this week.

Substitute Slated For East Side Field

Representatives of the East Side School PTA conferred yesterday with Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, concerning the loss of the school's playground during the construction of the Cumberland expressway program.

Pence told the PTA group the Recreation Department hopes to use an area adjacent to the Naval Armory as a substitute for the East Side Playground.

He said the PTA plans to confer with the Board of Education on plans for a play area which could be used by school children during recess.

Four County Educators To Attend Conference

Four representatives of the Allegany County public school system will attend the 1956 Study Conference of the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington Sunday and continuing through Friday and two of them have been assigned special responsibilities.

Attending fro mhere will be Miss Winifred Greene, supervisor of elementary education; Mrs. Josephine C. Yarnall, teacher at West Side School; Samuel J. Lisanti, teacher at Columbia Street School, and Miss Orpha Clark, East Side School teacher.

Lisanti and Miss Clark are the two delegates from the Allegany County chapter of ACEI, which was established here in 1942 as an outgrowth of the Allegany County Primary Teachers Association formed in 1939.

Theme for the six-day conference is "Exploring Resources for Working With Children." The approximately 3,000 delegates will visit agencies and organizations working with children and will learn how the agencies can help the teachers. The teachers also will learn how they can help their children. In addition the group will hear several speakers.

Miss Greene has been given the assignment to serve as a commentator for the section on "Exploring Resources for Understanding Children," one of the 12 sections into which the conference will be divided. She will lead discussion periods during visits to certain agencies and has the responsibility of seeing that the participants relate their on-the-spot experiences to their work with children and to their own growth.

Miss Greene also arranged for a meeting of the Maryland delegates to the conference with U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler in his office at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, April 5, as one of the features of the "Morning On Capitol Hill" at the study conference. This will give all of the conference registrants an opportunity to learn more about the influence of legislation on the well being of children and how the federal government concerns itself with needs of children.

Mrs. Yarnall will serve as a hostess for another section of the conference entitled "Exploring Resources For Helping Children Understand and Appreciate Their Heritage." Mrs. Yarnall will act as a guide when her section and group workers visit functional displays Sunday. At Monday and Wednesday section meetings she will be on duty to admit those with badges and tickets for the section.

Mrs. Yarnall's section will visit the historic C&O Canal where folders concerning the canal will be distributed. These folders note that the canal was opened as far as Seneca in 1831, as far as Harpers Ferry in 1833, as far as Hancock in 1839 and finally to Cumberland in 1850.

Gifts Increase To Red Cross, Report Shows

Classified Section Approaching Quota

As the March fund campaign of Allegany County Red Cross nears a close, leaders in the drive are working overtime in an effort to reach the county's quota. Several divisions are still below their assigned goals, but Chauncey Sanner, general chairman, said yesterday renewed efforts on the part of all team captains, solicitors and volunteers would produce the desired results.

Sanner praised especially the work of the Classified Section which is led this year by John B. Geare, local insurance executive.

In the tabulation of Classified returns yesterday, Sanner noted that a total of $7,140.50 has been contributed to date against a goal of $9,000.

Geare, in analyzing his section, said there are a number of employe groups to be heard from and he hopes that the goal can be reached, although it will take some extra effort on the part of all who have not reported.

Geare praised the work of a number of his team captains and solicitors. He said employes of a number of firms had increased their giving voluntarily because they appear to be sold on the blood program of the Red Cross, as well as its other services.

He cited especially the employes of the back shops, the roundhouse and the bolt and forge plants of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, where several volunteer Red Cross women made a personal solicitation. Last year, Geare noted, these same employes contributed a total of $294.70. This year they gave $373.92.

Another group of employes Geare cited are those in Memorial Hospital. Last year they contributed $148 and this year, with Roy Knotts as the team captain, this same group contributed $254.50.

Public School teachers and Board of Education employes also gave more liberally than last year. Arthur Ramey handled the solicitation among the school people, Geare noted. Last year they gave $781.75 and this year raised the gift to $860.05.

The Western Maryland Railway employes who gave $175.25 last year, increased their giving to $293 this year, Geare observed.

Potomac Edison Company employes are also on Geare's "All-Star" list. Wyllys Robertson was firm captain for this employe group and collected $203, against $150.05 contributed last year.

March Storm Threatening In Tri-State

Cold rains, which turned to ice and sleet in some areas of the tri-state area, threatened to plague motorists, residents and utilities last night, but at a late hour no real difficulty was reported.

Temperatures varied from 34 in the city to below freezing in outlying mountainous areas. West of Frostburg on US Route 40, the highway was icy toward midnight on the higher spots. In some sections ice covered trees and telephone lines as rain froze in midair. The scene was described by many as picturesque.

The ground seemed sufficiently warm in most areas to prevent a serious freeze, and foot travel was not especially hazardous except in a few isolated instances.

Telephone and power company officials said they had no reports of any serious difficulty but had been alerted that ice was forming on lines in Garrett County and some sections of Allegany County and nearby West Virginia. Crews are available for immediate duty if lines come down, they said.

In this area, there was no necessity for salting or cindering roadways, but west of Frostburg, in the Grantsville area, where the highway became slick, some salting was done by one crew.

In Baltimore, heavy snow was reported falling and the snow storm was reported moving toward the west. Local weather observers, in view of the steady thermometer and the fact that the rain seemed to abate toward midnight, ventured the opinion that the mountains might break up the snow storm before it reached the local area.

However, the official weather report called for snow flurries and lowering temperatures today. It was typical March weather, with anything likely.

Area Will Get $800,000 From State Bond Bill

College, Toll House, Armory Funds Slated

The General Assembly's Capital Improvement Bill, signed this week by Governor McKeldin, authorizes the expenditure of some $800,000 for state projects in Western Maryland.

The measure, House Bill 2, sponsored by House Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr., will be financed by the sale of bonds.

State Senator Charles M. See pointed out yesterday the bill provides for the purchase of the Old Toll Gate House on Route 40 and that over half of the sum will go for additional facilities for Frostburg State Teachers College.

It contains a $10,000 item for the purchase of the Old Toll Gate House, located on Route 40 here, by the Board of Public Works.

Local Operation Sought

Senator See said he will ask that the historic Toll Gate House be turned over to the Allegany County Historical Society for operation.

An attempt last year by Allegany County legislators to secure the historic building failed when state groups said no funds were available for the purchase.

Sen. See said the property is owned by Robert W. Young, Cumberland realtor, who is anxious to see the house preserved for posterity.

A sum of $3,000 was included for the purchaseof land at the site of another historic landmark of the National Road.

To Be Park Area

The fund will be used to purchase land adjoining the old stone arch bridge over the Castleman River near Grantsville, for a roadside park.

Sen. See explained the Assembly in 1955 authorized $10,000 for repairs to the historic bridge in Garrett County, like the Toll Gate House, one of the last of its kind in the United States.

Maryland's share of the cost of a new Armory in Cumberland is also included. The bill contains an item for the expenditure of $200,000, if federal funds are made available to the Military Department for the construction of an armory in Cumberland.

College Buildings Set

For the completion of the LaVale barracks of the Maryland State Police, $44,340 is authorized for the construction of garages, pistol range, roadways and site improvement.

For Deep Creek Lake Park, the bill provides $15,000 for beach development and $7,000 for a water supply.

Frostburg State Teachers College will get $429,000, including $350,000 for a dining hall and student activities building, $72,000 for equipping the dining hall and student activities center and $7,000 for plans and specifications for a laboratory school building.

It provides $100,000 for two boys' forestry camps, and Sen. See said he understands the funds will be used for improving the camp now located in Green Ridge State Forest and for a second camp which may be established in Garrett County.

The bill authorized the creation of state debt totaling $8,550,167 for capital improvement throughout the state.

Firemen Check Three Calls

City firemen had three separate calls yesterday morning and during the afternoon, with West Side answering two of the alarms.

At 9:05 a. m. West Side went to 511 Avirett Avenue where brush was being burned on a vacant lot.

They were called out again at 7:07 p. m. when an auto owned by Robert Defibaugh was ablaze at 204 Spruce Alley. The inside of the vehicle was gutted by the flames, firemen said.

Children were reported playing in the car just before the fire started. The cause was unknown. In the other fire, East Side went to 615 Sylvan Avenue and checked a flue fire. The call was received at 4:44 p. m.

Retired WM Employes Feted Here

Two employes of the Western Maryland Railway Company who have retired were guests of honor last night during a regular meeting of Miller-Dale Lodge, 1093, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which was held at the home of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose.

Tydings Declares He Would Back Aid To Veterans

CAMBRIDGE, March 28 (AP) — Millard E. Tydings said today he favors "every fair and just facility" for disabled veterans and improved pension rights for veterans reaching 65.

Touring Dorchester County in his campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination, Tydings said one of his principal interests is the welfare of veterans and their dependents.

"I think the time has now come when two things must be kept uppermost affecting veterans," Tydings said in a statement issued in Cambridge.

"First we must give every fair and just facility to the wounded and disabled veterans and their dependents.

The Evening Sun sent a photographer to get the picture which appeared in tonight's edition with the story after receiving word from the headquarters of George P. Mahoney, Tydings' principal rival, that the city truck was being used for such purposes.

The paper said the truck was assigned to Abe Handleman and had recently been transferred from the Bureau of Water Supply.

John J. Hunt, director of the Bureau of Sewers, said he would begin an investigation of the reports at once. He said such use of the truck was unauthorized.

It is against both city and State law to place posters on poles along the street. Less than a week ago, the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. sent letters to politicians asking them to keep signs off the utility poles because they endangered linemen.

A spokesman from Tydings campaugn headquarters blamed the sign postings on overzealous workers and said Tydings backers had been specifically told not to place posters on poles.

Mahoney Makes Surprise Visit To Frederick

FREDERICK, March 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney unexpectedly appeared here today in his campaign for the Democratic Senate nomination.

The veteran candidate toured Frederick County on one of his famous "shoe-leather" trips before winding up the day at Camp Kanawha, near Point of Rocks for a sportsmen's meeting.

The day originally had been set aside as an "open date" on Mahoney's calendar for conferences with campaign aides in Baltimore.

Frederick was one of the 17 counties where Mahoney originally had obtained endorsements from at least a majority of members on the Democratic County committee.

However, a switch by two members threw the committee balance in favor of Millard E. Tydings, Mahoney's chief opponent, by a 3-2 margin. Chairman Edwin F. Nikirk abstained.

While Mahoney was swinging through Frederick, his Baltimore headquarters announced the appointment of Henry J. Fowler of Mechanicsville as chairman of his campaign in St. Marys County.

A former member of the House of Delegates, Fowler is a farmer and an official in a firm which distributes bottled gas.

A headquarters spokesman said Fowler has been independent of any party faction in the county.

In his 1954 campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, Mahoney carried St. Marys over Dr. H. C. Byrd by 2,823 votes to 2,414. He lost the county's three votes in the nominating convention in 1952, when he drew 1,168, compared with 2,430 for Lansdale G. Sasscer.

In this campaign, Mahoney has been endorsed by Philip H. Dorsey, candidate for the attorney general nomination on Mahoney's 1954 ticket, and by John H. T. Briscoe, chairman of the Democratic county committee. Dorsey and Briscoe both are running for circuit judge.

Mahoney's fence-repairing tour of Frederick County was rather

Needles Will Click Soon

Mrs. Paul Hilaire, coordinator of the knitting project which began early this year for the Associated Charities, unwinds a skein of yarn held by Mrs. Henry Cook, as plans progress for making more garments for the needy of the city. The new supply of yarn will soon be placed in the hands of expert knitters by Mrs. Hilaire, who will assign the designs according to the need of the agency.

Many Garments Knitted For Chest Agency

Beautifully knitted garments are pouring into the Associated Charities office here as fast as yarn can be provided for the project which began early this year.

Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary, said the project, being coordinated by Mrs. Paul A. Hilaire, has already brought in 14 baby sets, 17 shawls for older women, nine men's sweaters and three caps.

All of the garments, she said, are beautifully made, attesting to the skill of the women who have been giving part of their spare time to provide the clothing needed by the Red Feather agency.

Many more garments will come from the supply of yarn secured by the agency this week.

Miss Bonig said the Associated Charities can use even odds and ends of yarn in the project.

All of the knitting is done in the homes with yarn supplied by the Associated Charities.

Substitute Slated For East Side Field

Representatives of the East Side School PTA conferred yesterday with Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, concerning the loss of the school's playground during the construction of the Cumberland expressway program.

Pence told the PTA group the Recreation Department hopes to use an area adjacent to the Naval Armory as a substitute for the East Side Playground.

He said the PTA plans to confer with the Board of Education on plans for a play area which could be used by school children during recess.

Four County Educators To Attend Conference

Four representatives of the Allegany County public school system will attend the 1956 Study Conference of the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington Sunday and continuing through Friday and two of them have been assigned special responsibilities.

Attending fro mhere will be Miss Winifred Greene, supervisor of elementary education; Mrs. Josephine C. Yarnall, teacher at West Side School; Samuel J. Lisanti, teacher at Columbia Street School, and Miss Orpha Clark, East Side School teacher.

Lisanti and Miss Clark are the two delegates from the Allegany County chapter of ACEI, which was established here in 1942 as an outgrowth of the Allegany County Primary Teachers Association formed in 1939.

Theme for the six-day conference is "Exploring Resources for Working With Children." The approximately 3,000 delegates will visit agencies and organizations working with children and will learn how the agencies can help the teachers. The teachers also will learn how they can help their children. In addition the group will hear several speakers.

Miss Greene has been given the assignment to serve as a commentator for the section on "Exploring Resources for Understanding Children," one of the 12 sections into which the conference will be divided. She will lead discussion periods during visits to certain agencies and has the responsibility of seeing that the participants relate their on-the-spot experiences to their work with children and to their own growth.

Miss Greene also arranged for a meeting of the Maryland delegates to the conference with U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler in his office at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, April 5, as one of the features of the "Morning On Capitol Hill" at the study conference. This will give all of the conference registrants an opportunity to learn more about the influence of legislation on the well being of children and how the federal government concerns itself with needs of children.

Mrs. Yarnall will serve as a hostess for another section of the conference entitled "Exploring Resources For Helping Children Understand and Appreciate Their Heritage." Mrs. Yarnall will act as a guide when her section and group workers visit functional displays Sunday. At Monday and Wednesday section meetings she will be on duty to admit those with badges and tickets for the section.

Mrs. Yarnall's section will visit the historic C&O Canal where folders concerning the canal will be distributed. These folders note that the canal was opened as far as Seneca in 1831, as far as Harpers Ferry in 1833, as far as Hancock in 1839 and finally to Cumberland in 1850.

Gifts Increase To Red Cross, Report Shows

Classified Section Approaching Quota

As the March fund campaign of Allegany County Red Cross nears a close, leaders in the drive are working overtime in an effort to reach the county's quota. Several divisions are still below their assigned goals, but Chauncey Sanner, general chairman, said yesterday renewed efforts on the part of all team captains, solicitors and volunteers would produce the desired results.

Sanner praised especially the work of the Classified Section which is led this year by John B. Geare, local insurance executive.

In the tabulation of Classified returns yesterday, Sanner noted that a total of $7,140.50 has been contributed to date against a goal of $9,000.

Geare, in analyzing his section, said there are a number of employe groups to be heard from and he hopes that the goal can be reached, although it will take some extra effort on the part of all who have not reported.

Geare praised the work of a number of his team captains and solicitors. He said employes of a number of firms had increased their giving voluntarily because they appear to be sold on the blood program of the Red Cross, as well as its other services.

He cited especially the employes of the back shops, the roundhouse and the bolt and forge plants of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, where several volunteer Red Cross women made a personal solicitation. Last year, Geare noted, these same employes contributed a total of $294.70. This year they gave $373.92.

Another group of employes Geare cited are those in Memorial Hospital. Last year they contributed $148 and this year, with Roy Knotts as the team captain, this same group contributed $254.50.

Public School teachers and Board of Education employes also gave more liberally than last year, Arthur Ramey handled the solicitation among the school people, Geare noted. Last year they gave $781.75 and this year raised the gift to $860.05.

The Western Maryland Railway employes who gave $175.25 last year, increased their giving to $293 this year, Geare observed.

Potomac Edison Company employes are also on Geare's "All-Star" list. Wyllys Robertson was firm captain for this employe group and collected $203, against $150.05 contributed last year.

March Storm Threatening In Tri-State

Cold rains, which turned to ice and sleet in some areas of the tri-state area, threatened to plague motorists, residents and utilities last night, but at a late hour no real difficulty was reported.

Temperatures varied from 34 in the city to below freezing in outlying mountainous areas. West of Frostburg on US Route 40, the highway was icy toward midnight on the higher spots. In some sections ice covered trees and telephone lines as rain froze in midair. The scene was described by many as picturesque.

The ground seemed sufficiently warm in most areas to prevent a serious freeze, and foot travel was not especially hazardous except in a few isolated instances.

Telephone and power company officials said they had no reports of any serious difficulty but had been alerted that ice was forming on lines in Garrett County and some sections of Allegany County and nearby West Virginia. Crews are available for immediate duty if lines come down, they said.

In this area, there was no necessity for salting or cindering roadways, but west of Frostburg, in the Grantsville area, where the highway became slick, some salting was done by one crew.

In Baltimore, heavy snow was reported falling and the snow storm was reported moving toward the west. Local weather observers, in view of the steady thermometer and the fact that the rain seemed to abate toward midnight, ventured the opinion that the mountains might break up the snow storm before it reached the local area.

However, the official weather report called for snow flurries and lowering temperatures today. It was typical March weather, with anything likely.
